

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

REPUBLICANS AT MONTROSE

C. FRED WRIGHT RE-NOMINATED FOR CONGRESS.

Convention of Susquehanna Republicans—George B. Tiffany and George C. Hill Nominated for the Legislature—Perfect Harmony Prevailed—Resolutions Adopted.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Montrose, Pa., March 8.—The Republicans of Susquehanna county met in convention here today, and as every candidate placed on the ticket was the unanimous choice of the convention, it is apparent that the members of the party throughout the county were never more united. It looked on Wednesday evening as if there would be a struggle between George C. Hill and Frank F. Greenwood for representative, but Mr. Greenwood withdrew before a vote had been taken. The convention was called to order by County Chairman Ralph B. Little, and H. O. Peck was elected temporary chairman and appointed the following committees:

On resolutions—S. S. Wright, W. D. Balles, J. F. Lovelace, Jeremiah Banker and T. B. Dimick.

Credentials and contested seats—J. S. Hills, Charles Stevens, A. M. Williams, C. H. Miller and A. L. Howell. Permanent organization—Charles Van Wormer, Ira Latham, L. A. Sherwood, L. H. Lincoln and William Emmons.

The convention then adjourned till 2 o'clock, at which time the committee on permanent organization presented the name of E. W. Jackson as permanent chairman and the following vice-presidents: A. W. Shay, D. B. Taft, F. D. Brown, William Potts, A. A. Richardson and William Patterson, who were the unanimous choice of the convention.

The following were placed in nomination before the convention for the respective offices, and in every case were the unanimous choice of the convention: Representative in congress, Fifteenth district, Hon. C. Fred Wright; representatives to Harrisburg, Hon. George B. Tiffany and George C. Hill; prothonotary, Henry F. Manser; tax commissioner, H. W. Terry; coroner, Dr. F. A. Goodwin; delegate to the national convention, Fifteenth congressional district, Hon. C. Fred Wright; delegates to state convention, Ralph B. Little, G. S. Tingley and George B. Palmer.

The Resolutions.

The following resolutions were presented by Samuel S. Wright, chairman of the committee on resolutions and were unanimously adopted:

First—We, the representatives of the Republicans of Susquehanna county, in convention assembled, view with satisfaction the past record and achievements of our party, and believing that the continuance of the Republican party in national affairs will increase the welfare and prosperity of all our people, we call upon all loyal Republicans to subordinate what differences of opinion there may be in minor matters, to join the colors and with a solid front prepare the onslaught of our common enemy in the fight which lies before us that so soon will confront us.

Second—We condemn as unpatriotic and un-American the course of those who, for mere personal gain or political advantage, delayed our support of our country in the late war, and who, by their selfishness, have endeavored to bring about a division of our people, and who, by their actions, have endeavored to bring about a division of our people, and who, by their actions, have endeavored to bring about a division of our people.

Third—We heartily endorse President McKinley's dignified, statesmanlike and international administration of national and international affairs, which has brought about an era of unprecedented industry and prosperity within our borders, enlarged our sphere of usefulness, and upheld the honor of our nation, and we believe that the continuance of the Republican party in national affairs will increase the welfare and prosperity of all our people.

Fourth—We endorse the conservative, business-like and economical administration of the state government under the wise leadership of Governor William A. Stone.

Fifth—We congratulate the people of the state and nation on the election of a man in public life of that eminent American statesman, Susquehanna county's distinguished son, Charles A. Groves, who has secured the nomination and re-election.

Sixth—We met with pride to the record of our congressman, C. Fred Wright, and his attitude on all public questions while a member of the national house of representatives.

Seventh—That we heartily commend the effort of the Republican organization of Susquehanna county, which made it possible to secure legislation which gives to this county the bonus paid to the state by the Erie canal.

Eighth—We endorse the actions and record of our state representative, James W. Adams and George B. Tiffany, in their official life at Harrisburg.

It will be noticed that the candidacy of E. W. Jackson, of Wayne county, who also represents this senatorial district at Harrisburg, was not referred for auditor general. The resolutions endorsing the Hon. Galusha A. Groves met with hearty applause.

BRADFORD FOR WRIGHT.

Results of the Convention of the Republicans.

Towanda, Pa., March 8.—The Bradford county Republican convention was held here today and adopted resolutions commending the administration of President McKinley and Governor Stone. C. S. Means, of Towanda; O. R. Ballard, of Troy; L. H. Marsh, of Stevensville, and G. B. Lancaster, of Monroeton, were selected as delegates to the state convention with instructions to vote for Hon. E. R. Hardenbergh for auditor general.

B. T. Hale, L. L. Beardsley, E. J. Connelly, A. F. Waters, M. E. Angie and I. W. Chamberlain were chosen as conferees in the Fifteenth Congressional district with instructions to support Hon. C. F. Wright, and John H. Brown, of Cedar Lodge, for presidential elector.

June 9 was fixed as the date for holding the primaries for the nomination of president judge, and June 12 for the convention. This was a victory for the friends of Judge A. C. Fanning, the president judge of Bradford county.

HOPBOTTOM.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Hopbottom, March 8.—The Sunday School association which met here on Tuesday was not so largely attended, on account of the unpleasant weather, but the meeting was both interesting and profitable to those who attended.

The evening session contained two able addresses, one by Rev. Gillett, of Clifford, and one by Rev. Roads, president of the association. The ladies of the church served meals to the visitors in the church annex, and so avoided largely the inconvenience of the storm.

The Ladies' Aid of the Universalist church will meet Friday afternoon of this week with Mrs. Truman Bell.

This is the month for the election of new officers, and the casting up of old accounts. All members should endeavor to be present in due season.

Mr. E. M. Tiffany has purchased the store building belonging to G. W. Strupler and will remove his now overcrowded stock to more commodious quarters.

Mr. Tiffany has won the approval of a large body of patrons by many years of honest and fair dealing, and his trade has outgrown its present accommodations. The newly purchased building will be put into first-class shape, with all improvements the town affords.

Where the river was roaring, a new building has already been erected, the same being a new barn on the property lately purchased by Ed. Yeomans. It better be well anchored, in case there should be another flood.

James Jeffers, of Montrose, was calling on friends in town today.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Carpenter have returned to their home at Hallstead, after spending some time in town, caring for Mrs. Carpenter's father, Mr. Ainey, and managing the affairs of Mr. Carpenter's father, lately deceased.

Mr. Ainey is reported some better at present.

Mr. Wright is seen about town again after a long illness.

There is only about one month more of school in the present term, and the higher grades are already having their final examinations.

John Bisbee has begun work as clerk for E. M. Tiffany, and Claude Roberts will finish his work in that capacity this week.

The people of the village will all be sorry to lose Claude from town as well as miss him from his accustomed place of business, but are glad to welcome Mr. Bisbee back after his sojourn at Kingsley.

The partnership of Finn and Bisbee has dissolved, Mr. Finn buying Mr. Bisbee's interest.

Chronic Diarrhoea Cured.

My mother suffered with chronic diarrhoea for several months. She was attended by two physicians who at last pronounced her case hopeless. She procured one 25-cent bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and five doses gave her permanent relief. I take pleasure in recommending it as the best on the market.—Mrs. F. E. Watson, Atiken, Ala. Sold by all druggists. Matthews Bros., wholesale and retail agents.

NEW MILFORD.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

New Milford, March 8.—Miss Josie Boyle is visiting friends in Hallstead. Miss Jennie Robinson, of Scranton, spent a few days with her parents in the township this week.

Rev. C. C. Gillet, of Clifford, called on friends in town on Friday night.

John J. Hand made a business trip to Binghamton Thursday.

Our popular young barber, Thomas Brick, has a new gasoline lamp in his shop.

Rev. A. D. Decker, of Binghamton, was a guest at the home of Mr. David Dayenport, one day this week.

Mrs. S. R. Bell is visiting in New Jersey.

Mrs. E. L. Peck is visiting friends at Alford.

To Cure a Cold in One Day

Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

FACTORYVILLE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Factoryville, March 8.—Mr. Spencer, who for some time runs a shoe shop in the "old factory" building here, has opened a shop in Nicholson, and moved his family up there this week.

Mr. Tillingshat Brayton is quite seriously ill.

The town council met Wednesday evening. The old council closed up the year's business and paid what bills were outstanding, and appropriated one hundred dollars (the annual appropriation) to the board of health, for the purpose of defraying expenses.

J. W. Eilenberger's term, as a member of the board of health, having expired, he was re-appointed by the council.

The tax collector presented a list of borough taxes amounting to $117 for exoneration, which the council exonerated. The contract for furnishing water for the fire plugs was again let to Nakomis Water company for two hundred and fifty dollars for one year.

This concluded the business of the old council and they adjourned. The new council then organized by electing the following officers for one year: President, A. A. Brown; treasurer, A. J. Gardner; secretary, W. W. Bard; for street commissioner, Aaron Phillips was elected. The president then made the following appointments: Street committee, N. A. Gardner, W. H. Reynolds and R. Lindley; light committee, R. P. Lindley. The resignation of Solomon Reynolds was presented and accepted by the council.

Messrs. C. R. Bliss, Charles Hunt, E. W. Thompson, M. W. Bliss and A. D. Gardner were in Scranton Wednesday.

PITTSBON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Pittsbon, March 8.—Mrs. John Walker, aged 48 years, mother of Thomas J. Walker, of the Wilkes-Barre News, died last night at the family home in Jenkins township, after a six weeks' illness of pneumonia. Her husband died about four months ago from injuries received in the mine. The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

John Mackin, an aged resident of this place, died this morning of general debility, aged 70 years.

William Tracy, aged 25 years, died this morning at his home in Upper Pittsbon, after a two weeks' illness of pneumonia. For the past six years he had been employed as outside foreman at the Phoenix colliery, Duryea, but resigned two weeks ago, and was taken ill the next day.

The farmers in the vicinity of Bethel, Pa., contemplate erecting a milk condenser at Clark's in the near future. The product of 2,500 cows will be disposed of.

Jacob Koehler, of Paterson, N. J., employed as foreman at the new silk mill here, was placed in the city station house, yesterday, suffering from temporary insanity.

An unoccupied house owned by the Old Forge Coal company at Duryea was totally destroyed by fire this morning.

John McFadden, of Parsonage street, employed as a boss hostler at the Coxton round house, is suffering from a sprained ankle, received by falling from his engine at Coxton, last night.

SUSQUEHANNA COUNTY.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, March 8.—A good-sized delegation from Susquehanna and vicinity is in Montrose today, attending the Republican county convention.

Three arc lights are being placed in St. John's Catholic church.

The following correction appears in the Montrose letter in the Binghamton Leader: "In the Montrose items Wednesday it was stated the Rev. A. T. Broderick spent a few days with his mother-in-law at Archbald. It should have read his mother."

Many divisions of the Order of Railway Conductors are passing resolutions endorsing the candidacy of our state senator, Hon. E. R. Hardenbergh, of Wayne county, for auditor general, on the Republican ticket. Being an old railway conductor, the senator has a strong following among railroad men.

Misses Lillian and May Phillips, of Great Bend, will attend a military establishment in Duluth, Minnesota.

The series of Sunday school institutes being held in various parts of Susquehanna county this week are largely attended. Much interest is manifested.

Rev. Dr. Roads, of Philadelphia, the able secretary of the Pennsylvania Sunday School association, is assisted by the county president, Charles F. Whitney, of North Jackson; Miss Eva Sophia, of Susquehanna, a superintendent of juvenile work; and by local Sunday school workers.

A directory of Susquehanna is being compiled by the Open-High-Low-Close-Epworth League of the First Methodist church will hold a week of evening services, beginning on Sunday evening next.

Hereafter, Erie freight engines will be used for freight service only, and passenger engines will be used for passenger service only.

The funeral of Mrs. Michael Murray, of Hallstead, took place from St. Lawrence church, in Great Bend, on Tuesday morning.

W. J. Chappelle, the well-known Great Bend showman, is in advance of the "Blue Jeans" company, now in Cincinnati. About May 1 he will organize a comedy company, with Miss Lizzy Pixley as the star, in "The Girl from Mexico."

Rev. A. F. Harding, of Great Bend, probably the oldest Odd Fellow in Susquehanna county, is visiting relatives in Binghamton.

Congressman C. Fred Wright, Postmaster George W. Schaeff and Editor Pride, of the Journal, are among the Susquehanna delegation at the Republican county convention in Montrose today.

No new cases of scarlet fever have this week been reported to the board of health. The disease is of a very mild type, and there have been no deaths this winter from it.

The Jackson Dramatic society will appear in a drama, March 15-16. The Thomson orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

Misses Josephine Millard and Edith Trumbidge, of Great Bend, who have been in Chicago, attending the Moody school, will return home on Friday.

Silas E. Sands, of Great Bend, has been appointed chief of police of that village.

Blair Bishop, recently foreman of the Brush factory in Great Bend, has been arrested on a charge of deserting his family. He has a wife and three children. When arrested he was about to take a train to New York. It is claimed that he has become infatuated with a Great Bend young woman.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen has paid out $750,000 to crippled men, or widows of men who have lost their lives.

In a letter to the Susquehanna Transcript, C. F. Farrell, of New York, formerly secretary to the late Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, denies the current newspaper report, that on a train from Chicago, January 12, 1888, the colonel united in prayer with a little child in the aisle of a car. Mr. Farrell says "the story is a fabrication from beginning to end."

It is rumored that a new time-table will take effect on the Erie on Sunday next.

Thomas N. Reilly, recently proprietor of the Starucca house barber shop, in Susquehanna, has purchased the Allen house barber shop, in Honesdale.

The Erie now employs about 1,200 men at this place, in shops and railroad yards.

Treatment for Miserable Nervous Weakness, Secret Losses, etc.

Failure of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

Wanted: A few more of our exalted sense of duty, and the loss of our vitality, are the result of a general debility of the system. This is the result of a general debility of the system.

W