THE WEEK'S CLEARINGS. - The Clearing for last week, reported by the Scranton Clearing House association, were as follows: Monday, $290,193.31; Tuesday,$172,553.46; Wednesday,$167,040.77; Thursday, $123,450.39; Friday, $153,028.81; Saturday, $128,131.74. Total, $554,342.48.

THE THIRD VICTIM.—Peter Barnes iled at the Moses Taylor hospital on saturday evening, as the result of in-direct sustained in the Oxford tunnel on the Lackanian in the Oxford tunnel on Lackawanna railroad some months ago, when a locomotive struck a section gang working on the track. Mr. Barnes was the third man to die from injuries received at that time.

FALSE ALARM.—The alarm of fire sent in yesterday afternoon at 220 o'clock from box 29, at the corner of Pine street and Monroe avenue, proved a false one. Unsuccessful efforts were made to find the person who sent in the alarm. This is the third time an alarm has been sent in from this box, without cause, and efforts will be made to have the nuisance stopped once for all.

MESTING QUIETLY.—R. T. Black, whose serious illness was chronicied in Saturday's Tribune, was resting quietly last evening at his home on Franklin avenue. His physicians do not apprehend any sudden change for the worse just yet, but it is believed that this is his last illness.

JAMES POWELL INJURED.—James Powell, a motorman for the Scranton Railway company was seriously injured on Friday evening. He was in charge of an inbound Peckville car, which struck a wagon being driven along the road near Archbald. The fender was broken and the front end of the car stove in, Mr. Powell was caught in the debris, and sustained a broken arm and leg, in addition to severe bruises. He is now lying in a serious condition at his home on Marion street.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES.

Successful Competitions in Outdoor Sports.

The High School Pedestrian club had in outing on Saturday, which was attended with success and practically stamps the club as a permanent or-ganization. The event included a walkng match, 100-yard dashes, skating race and hockey game. Lake Scran-ton was the scene of their contests.

A handsome school pin was offered to the student making the best time around the lake on foot, a distance of five miles. Seven starters lined up at the tape and three finished in the fol-lowing order: Weisenfluh, first; Tropp, second, and Powell, third. The winner's time was 37 minutes.

Five contestants entered the sprint races, which were won by Tropp, Four members competed in the skating race and Seybolt Lawson proved to be the fastest of them all. The hockey game was the most exciting of all the events, and was won by the Sophomore class by a score of 3-1. Their opponents are members of the Freshmen class. The judges were Prof. Fuller, Prof. Beaumont, Harry Rheinhart and Will-

But Fortunately Were Not Those of a Murderer's Victim-Were the Property of Dr. Gunster.

It looked for a time on Saturday evening as if the Scranton police were going to have a headless body mystery on their hands that would rival anything ever solved by Conan Doyle's wonderful detective, Sherlock Holmes. The mystery was cleared up, however, in a very few minutes.

Chief of Police Robling was notified about 8 o'clock Saturday night by Joseph Gunster that two carpenters working at the old Gunster homestead on Penn avenue had reported to him that the withered up body of a man was lying in the cellar of the house. The chief immediately organized - searching party composed of Lieutenant John Davis, Mr. Gunster and several newspaper men. The party en-tered the musty, dark cellar, made greusome and uncanny by the single light of a lantern and after searching for about ten minutes came upon what the carpenters had taken for a body. This was a heap of human bones connected by ligaments and lying between the remnants of an old trunk. All of the bones of the human frame were there but the skull, which was One of the party immediately jumped at the conclusion that some one had been murdered, the head cut off and the remains placed in a trunk, which was hidden in the cellar. Chief Rob-ling wouldn't listen to this, however, and insisted that the bones were probably left there by Dr. Gunster, who formerly occupied the house. This view proved to be correct, for the doctor, upon being asked about the matter by telephone, said that he faintly remembered having left some bones in the cellar when he moved away.

JOSEPH H. STEELL.

Resolutions of Respect Adopted by Directors of Traders' Bank. Whereas, In the Providence of God one of the members of the board of directors of the Traders' National bank has been taken from us; and Whereas, It is mete that the board should give an expression of its deep sorrow and great loss in the death of Mr. Joseph H. Steell; therefore be it Resolved. That we learned of the sudden demise of our beloved member and brother with the most profound grief and sorrow. Mr. Steell was one of the most esteemed members of the board and a good and true friend. His death has caused a vacancy that will not be easily filled. He was a man of excellent judgment, honest, upright hearted and more willing to give than receive. Many business institutions of this city will miss his wise and timely counsel. The city of Scranton has lost one of her best and noblest citizens, the community in which he lived has lost one of its best neighbors and friends, but we must be reconciled to the allwise dispensation of Divine Providence.

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the family of the de-ceased and that these resolutions be engrossed and a copy be presented to his widow and children.

Action of Allegheny Lumber Co. The board of directors of the Allegheny Lumber Co., called in special meeting for the purpose of taking action upon the death of its president, Joseph H. Steell, places upon its records a brief minute in recognition of the faithful and efficient service rendered by him in the interest of the company.

In the loss of our president we part with one who has been energetic, intelli-gent, and shown great sagacity and good business judgment as the chief officer and manager of the affairs of this com-

Fire at Taylor.

Yesterday morning fire was discovred in Parker's hotel, Taylor. How the fire originated is not known, as the occupants were asleep, but it is thought that a kerosene lamp exploded. The smoke soon awoke the tenants, who immediately gave the alarm to neighbors, who quickly formed a bucket brigade and soon extinguished the blaze. The damage amounted to about $200.

JESUS, THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

ABLE SERMON BY REV. CHAS. LEE, OF CARBONDALE.

Exchanged Pulpits with Rev. James McLeod, D. D., of the First Presbyterian Church-Said That Jesus Is the True Light of the World and Tria How He Lends Mer Out of the Darkness of Ignorance, of Sensuality, of Sorrow and, Most Important of All, of Sin.

Rev. Charles Lee, pustor of the Carbondale Presbyterian church, exchanged pulpits yesterday with Rev. James McLeod, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city. and preached two excellent sermons. In the evening he took as his text John 8:12: "Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world; he that followsth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life," and among other things said:

"The feast of the tabernacle, at which these words were spoken, was a sort of religious outing, at which ritualistic ceremonies in commemoration and remembrance of the history of the early Israelites were performed. One of these ceremonies was the lighting of two immense lights, whose flames, flaring out over Jerusalem, typified the pillar of fire which guided the tootsteps of the early Jews. Perhaps Jesus saw those lights, as He uttered those words so full of deep meaning for all of us, 'I am the light,' who shall guide men in future to the kingdom of God.

"I AM THE LIGHT." "What a vast meaning there is in those simple words, 'I am the light.' He saw truly the light whose power illumined the whole Roman empire from Persia to Portugal, and from Scotland to Italy; yea, even the whole world. These were no chance words that had no lasting meaning. They have a deep, sweeping meaning and are true or else the man who uttered them was insane to the point of fool-

"The greatest intellects of all ages have been only too eager to lay their tributes at the feet of Him who said 'I am the light'; the greatest philosophers have been only too willing to ascribe all power and glory to Jesus; men of affairs, Washington, Bisnearck, Gladstone, all have bowed before the throne of the lowly Nazerine.

"Jesus is the light of the world to lead men out of darkness, but out of what darkness you ask. There are many, many darknesses. There is the darkness of ignorance which envelopes man in some parts of the world. Jesus by the power of His grace and by the light of His own revalution dissipates this darkness; picks us up in His arms and brings us back into the fold, showing us that we are still heirs of the kingdom of God. "Then there is the darkness of materialism and sensuality. There are savage peoples scarce above the brute creation as regards their knowledge of the higher things of life. There are people, too, in civilized lands who seem to think of nothing else but eating. wearing fine clothes and gratifying their own selfish desires. "To these Jesus comes and tells of of the glory of being co-workers with God; tells of the pleasure that comes from the cultivation of the higher intellectual and spiritual things.

DARKNESS OF SORROW. "Then there is the darkness of sor-

How universal this is. How few eyes there are that never weep. Sometimes this sorrow comes from disappointment at ourselves, from the chagrin of not being able to accomplish our ambitions. Sometimes it comes from disappointment at some outward thing, from the alienation of a friend's affections and sometimes it comes from the loss of loved ones.

"Truly is there sorrow abroad in this old world of ours, but there is no place where earthly sorrow is felt as it is in heaven. Christ comes with a message of peace and wipes away the tears. He opens His arms and says: Come unto me all you that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you

"But the deepest of the darknesses and the blackest component of the gloom that settles over this world of ours is sin. How it has blasted this world of ours that God made so good with its meanness and its awfulness, But Christ is willing to take up the very worst sinner, the very devil's outcast and lead him back where all is joy. He comes into the life defiled by sin and cleanses it and makes it one of joy and happiness.

"Walk close to Jesus, friends, and the power of His life will shine in you. If you follow Him you will not walk in darkness but in the light. To follow Him may be hard for the old na-

[LETTER TO MES PINERAN NO. 15.733] "I am very grateful to you for your kindness and the interest you have taken in me, and truly believe your medicines and advice are worth more to a woman than all the doctors in the world. For years I had female troubles and did nothing for them. Of course I became no better and finally broke down entirely. My troubles began with inflammation and hemorrhages from the kidneys, then inflammation, congestion and falling of the womb and inflammation of ovaries.

"I underwent local treatment every day for some time; then after nearly two months the doctor gave me permission to go back to work. I went back, but in less than a week was compelled to give up and go to bed. On breaking down the second time, I decided to let doctors and their medicine alone and try your remedies. Before the first bottle was gone I felt the effects of it. Three bottles of Lydis E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a package of her Sanative Wash did me more good than all the doctors' treatments and medicine.
