LECTURE ON "UTAH AND HER PEOPLE" BY ELDER SNOW.

"The State Has Been Searched from End to End. but Not a Single Case of Plural Marriage Has Been Dis-Jackson Street Baptist Church.

President Edward H. Snow, of the Eastern States mission of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, lectured in Co-operative hall last evening on the subject of "Utah and Her People." The lecture was attended by a good-sized audience, and the speaker gave an interesting talk, during the course of which he said:

It is a great mistake, but one often made, to believe that plural marriages obtain among the Mormon people, For the past ten years the marrying of plural wives has ceased in the Mormon church. The civilization of the United States was against it. The social evil was preferable. Congressional enactments were passed against plural marriage. The Mormon people, notwithstanding all assertions to the contrary, are wedded American institutions, and are taught to uphold the constitution of the land.

They believed the anti-polygamy laws to be unconstitutional—to be an infringment of religious liberty, guaranteed by the first amendment of the constitution. They contested in the courts the laws of congress, meanwhile undergoing impris-onment, until the supreme court declared the law constitutional. In 1890, Wilford Woodruff, then president of the church, by a manifesto, declared that plural marriage should cease in the church, and no more marriages should be contracted that were contrary to the laws of the United States.

Politics heretofore along Mormon and anti-Mormon lines, now faded away. and non-Mormons divided according to their political belief. In January, 1896, I tah was admitted as a state. The enabling act, by which the territory became a state, provided as a precedent to admission "That polygamous or plural marriages should be forever prohibited." This prohibition was inserted in the constitution, and the identical penalties prescribed by the congressional law upon the subject of polygamy, were made a part of the constitution. It has been freely charged that Utah has broken faith with the government. It is not faith with the government. It is not true. The only condition usked by conwas the discontinuance of plural ages. This was promised by the church five years prior to statehood, the onstitution prohibited it, and since then he church has not only kept its pledge but the people have absolutely obeyed the law against polygamy or plural mar-

Puring the last six months the United States has been swept like a hurricane with a storm of anti-Mormonism, because of the belief that the charges were true spies.

The state has been scarched from end to end, but not a single case of plural marriage has been discarce et, not an iota of evidence to support the charges which have aroused the American people against Mormonism, and a people who are peaceful virtueus, industrious and God-fearing, which creed is to mind mind their own business.

The law of congress against polygamy and unlawful cohabitation was enacted in 1892 by the territorial legislature, and has been in full force ever since. The cases of so-called polygamy are just such cases and are punishable now as they ever have been. The judiciary is in the hand of non-Mormons, the law is on the statute books and all who violate the law are amenable. It must be potent to all honest men that no church would attempt to say to a man that he should cease to do his duty by the wives whom he married by the sanction and rites of a holy church, yet no one is encouraged to break even this law which denies him this privilege, but on the contrary he does so upon his own

NEW BUILDING DESTROYED. The flames which illuminated West Scranton at a late hour Saturday night arose from the burning of a large double frame building in course of erection on the West Park Land company's plot, on North Main avenue structure was burned to the ground, as the fire had gained such headway before the firemen arrived that it was useless to attempt to

The house was being erected for N. L. Conrad and was to have been occupled on April 1. The origin of the fire is a mystery, as there were no stoves in the building. The structure was valued at $2,000 and was recently insured for that amount by Contractor D. D. Oakley.

A gale was blowing when the fire broke out and the sparks were scattered over the houses fronting on Main avenue, but a careful watch by the firemen, prevented any other fires.

after the morning service at the Jackson street Baptist church yesterday by the pastor, Rev. Dr. de Gruchy. The evening service was unique. The seating capacity was taxed long before the service began. The pastor gave the first sermon in the series of illustrated sermons. The topic was "Abraham, the Friend of God."

The singing was inspiring and the illustrations were the best that could be procured. CLERGYMEN'S RETIRING FUND.

Rev. James H. Lamb, D. D., of Philadelphia, spoke at St. David's Epis-copal church last evening in behalf of he Clergymen's Retiring Fund 8>iety, which cares for the aged and poor clergymen of the Episcopal church in America.

In the course of his remarks Dr. Lamb told of what other demominations are doing for their retired brethren and urged his hearers to support the society in its noble work. The

The Fashion Event Of the Opening Spring Season

"I wonder what I shall wear this spring?" How many ladies have already asked that question this year, and how few have been able to answer it, because the new Modes and Fabrics for the approaching season had not been seen or determined on by the leaders of fashion. Well, the guessing period has been passed. All the weaves, makes and colorings to be worn during Spring and Summer of 1900 have passed through the crucial test, which decides selection or rejection, and today correct styles are as well defined as they will be in the month of June, when trade begins to slack off, Under such favorable conditions it affords us pleasure to announce to the Dress Goods Buyers of Northeastern Pennsylvania that

Our First Formal Display Of New Dress Fabrics for 1900

Opens this week, when everybody who cares to call and look at the new textile creations, will be a welcome visitor. As you are probably aware, we carry the only extensive and complete stock in this line in this end of the state, hence the importance of this
