DECISIONS BY THE SUPREME COURT

FIVE LACKAWANNA CASES ARE DEALT WITH. Judgement of Our Local Court Is Affirmed in Every Instance Where It Is Brought in Question—Action of the Late Judge Gunster in the Old Forge Street Railway Case Is Approved—An Interesting Question Raised by a Widowed, Second-wife—The John Weber Will.

Five decisions in Lackawanna cases were handed down yesterday by the Supreme court in Philadelphia. In the case of Fahrig against Schimpff, a petition to advance the time for the hearing was refused. In the cases of Kellow against the City of Scranton, Clark against Dawson, York against Weber and Keogh and others against the Pittston and Scranton Railway company the judgment of the local court was affirmed.

PRELIMINARY INJUNCTION. The matter came to be heard before Judge Gunster and he granted an injunction against the city of Scranton. The injunction prohibits the city from constructing a street in the town of Scranton.

EVIDENCE WAS INSUFFICIENT. Patrick Hart, Patrick Shields and Martin Murray were arraigned last evening before Alderman Howe for the second time on the charge of theft, preferred by Albert Buchta, of Lloyd street, and this time were discharged from custody.

POLICE PICKINGS. Sunday afternoon Peter McGraw created a disturbance in a house at 616 Lee street and Patronus Franz was called to eject him from the premises. When McGraw had been put out he used vile language and insulted the officer.
