DYSPEPSIA CURE

CARBONDALE.

MRS. PENGELY BURIED.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Pengelly, conducted by Rev. A. F. Chaffee yesterday afternoon was largely attended. Interment was made in Maplewood cemetery. The flowers were unusually handsome, the offerings being very profuse and special music was sung by a double quartet of mixed voices. All members of the Methodist choir, the pull-bears of Professor H. J. Hockenberry, L. D. Wolfe, J. M. Alexander, G. B. Van Gorder, T. C. Robinson, A. E. Tiffany, William Kenworthy and C. H. Gates. Among those who attended from out of town were George Simpson, of Tunkhannock; Mrs. Charles Allen, of Wyoming; Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Parsons; Mrs. William Nicholson and sons, and James Nicholson and family, of Scranton.

HOCKENBERRY ON OUR BODIES

On Monday Prof. H. J. Hockenberry will address the Scranton Mineralogical association at the Elm Park church on "Our Bodies." The professor's views on physical culture are well known and it is safe to predict that he will say some plain things to the clergy-men who, as a class, he thinks, do not pay enough attention to increasing their muscle. As a well developed two hundred-pounder the professor will be somewhat of an object lesson.

D. & H. MEN INJURED.

Alex Copeland, the popular Delaware and Hudson passenger engineer, is confined to his home by injuries sustained at the round house. He dismounted from a locomotive and was squeezed between the tender and a house, sustaining very painful bruises. Edward Dimock, Delaware and Hudson trainman, is laid up with an injured heel. His accident was the result of jumping from a train.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Attorney Watrous has returned from his western trip.

A. R. Jones spent yesterday in Scranton looking after the Leader's advertising interests.

Charles Yell, who has been laid up with an injured hand is able to be about.

Miss Tessie Higgins went to Port Jervis yesterday.

Patrick Kennedy, of this city, who has represented the Correspondence school in Elmira, will leave for New York in a few days.

S. H. Williams, proprietor of Hotel American, is still confined to his bed. He contemplates a trip to Colorado as soon as his strength will permit.

The Retail Meat Dealers' association met last evening and compiled a list of dead heads.

Presbyterian ladies will conduct a social at the home of Mrs. G. W. Morris on Belmont street, this evening.

Mrs. Ida McCool, of New York, is visiting relatives in this city.

Max Shepherd will entertain a party of children at the home of his brother, R. M. Shepherd, of Dartmouth avenue, this evening.

"Mile. Phil" was presented to a good sized audience at the Grand last night.

An Editor Finds a Sure Cure for Rheumatism.

A. R. De Fluent, editor of the Journal, Doylestown, Ohio, suffered for a number of years from rheumatism in his right shoulder and side. He says: "My right arm at times was entirely useless. I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and was surprised to receive relief almost immediately. The Pain Balm has been a constant companion of mine ever since and it never fails." For sale by all druggists. Matthews Bros., wholesale and retail agents.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

John D. Davis and Miss Stella A. Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cole, of Rushbrook road, were united in marriage at the Tabernacle Congregational church in Hyde Park Wednesday by Rev. D. P. Jones. The young couple were unattended and immediately after the ceremony returned to this borough, where a reception was tendered them by their numerous friends at the home of the bride's parents.

The Delaware and Hudson broker will be idle tomorrow, St. Patrick's day.

Mrs. Fred Johnson yesterday received a letter from her husband, who is in good health and meeting with encouraging success in his prospecting.

Mrs. Ebenzer Tennie, of North Main street, spent yesterday in Scranton. Her mother, Mrs. Reynolds, of West Mayfield, will leave on Tuesday for Montford, where he has accepted a position.

L. A. Burdick was a Scranton visitor last evening.

TAYLOR NEWS.

Price Library Entertainment This Evening—Funeral Announcement. Personal and Other News.

The Price Library association will meet in their rooms this evening. An excellent programme will be held in connection. The following programme will be rendered: Address, President W. B. Owens; organ voluntary, William Morris; club singing exhibition, Richard Kendall; either selection, William Evans; solo, William Price; solo, John W. Thomas; organ voluntary, William Morris. An excellent acquisition to the above programme will be the presence of Mr. James Dohren, the blind pianist, who is noted for his musical talent.

THEATRICAL.

"Faust" at the Academy.

Porter J. White, assisted by Miss Olga Verne and Frank MacDonald in the leading roles, and a company of competent actors, produced "Faust" last night at the Academy of Music. Mr. White takes the part of Mephisto, the role played for so many years by Louis Morris, and gives a clear, finished interpretation of the character.

Frank MacDonald made a pleasing Faust, and Miss Olga Verne was a winsome and lovable Marguerite. The other characters were well taken care of by the supporting cast, as enacted by Mrs. Annie E. Inman, making one of the hits of the night. The staging of the production was very elaborate, special attention being given to the garden scene and the famous act on the summit of the Brocken, which the academy hotel and restaurant the unfortunate souls on Walpurgis night.

The electrical effects were very fine, and the fair-sized audience which braved the storm to see the production was thoroughly pleased with the entire performance.

At the Gallery.

The "Indian Maidens" burlesque company, which has achieved fame under the leadership of the well known actress of Indian descent, Lillian Washburn, gave a novel entertainment at the gallery yesterday afternoon on the opening of a three days' engagement. The programme begins with a musical farce entitled "Poco-hontas," in which noble and ignoble red men, tuneful melodies, original jokes and handsome young women adorned with turkey feathers and the features of amusement. The innovation was a pleasing departure from the usual burlesque curtain-raiser that is associated with the stranded theatrical company and easy old uncle who buys a hotel. The olio included meritorious acts by the Learys, Tom Nolan and Cora White, in a laughable sketch; Campbell and Dare, musical artists; Marie De Rossett, the Cuban gun manipulator; Dick and Kitty Kurins, and Conroy and McFarran. The "Indian Maidens" will be at the gallery in the balance of the week, with matinees daily.

The Great Glove Fight.

The authorized pictures of the recent glove fight between James J. Jeffries and Thomas Sharkey for the heavyweight championship of the world at the Colosseum, Tom Nolan and Cora White, in a laughable sketch; Campbell and Dare, musical artists; Marie De Rossett, the Cuban gun manipulator; Dick and Kitty Kurins, and Conroy and McFarran. The "Indian Maidens" will be at the gallery in the balance of the week, with matinees daily.

OLD FORGE.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bainbridge on Saturday, the occasion being the birthday of Mr. John Bainbridge and Miss Ada Leng. Those present were Messrs. Arthur Thomas, Byron Hyde, Harry Hartman and Miss Sarah J. Burdett, of Scranton; the Misses Anna and Katie Muck and Mr. Anthony Muck, of Dickson City; Mr. Harry Lewis, of Forest City; Miss Minnie Samuel, Messrs. Charles Balcom, Harry Hartman, Robert Johnson and Joseph Tomlinson, of Duryea; Messrs. John and William Smith, of Kingston; Miss Cora Bainbridge, of Wyoming, Mr. and Mrs. David Thomas, Messrs. Emma Owens, Edith Daws, Amanda Brinting, Jennie Harrison, Messrs. George Hartman, Robert Barr, William Daws, John Bainbridge, of this place.

PECKVILLE.

The Wilson Fire company's fair and trades display, which opens up next Monday evening, promises to eclipse all former efforts of the Wilsons in that line. Over fifty ladies are engaged in arranging booths and arranging for the opening of the fair. The donations to the firemen's fair have been liberal and many valuable articles have been donated. A delightful programme has been arranged for each evening. The nominal price of admission, ten cents, is well within the reach of all. The Wilsons are a deserving organization, and all should turn out and help them.

One Solid Week.

Commencing Monday, March 19, at the Academy of Music, America's greatest repository of grand opera and grand orchestra, augmented by Snelling's vaudeville entertainers.

Monday evening there will be a grand production of Jacob Litt's great electrical melodrama, "Start No. 27." Grand scenery and effects. Great specialties. A great performance. Repertoire to be announced. Matinee commences Tuesday.

"A Milk White Flag."

This rarely novel comedy, "A Milk White Flag," is one of the coming attractions and it goes without saying that it will duplicate its popularity of former seasons. There is a swing and go about the performance that keeps an audience continually interested and added to, so that this seasons' entertainment is practically new.

The Ben Hur Spectacle.

The phenomenally successful run of

of the home of Miss May Brundage this evening.

Miss Jessie Stearns has recovered from her recent severe illness.

Mr. George Stearns, of Main street, is doing jury duty this week.

Miss Stella Wademan is ill.

DALTON.

Rev. J. C. Leacock will entertain his Sunday school in his home, Friday evening, March 18.
