

PRESIDENT'S OPINION

Postponement of Action on Puerto Rico Measure Favored.

EMERGENCY HAS PASSED

Appropriation of Customs Dues Will Relieve Pressing Needs—Other Legislation Unnecessary Until It Is Known More Clearly What People of the United States and the Island Want—Senators Who Are Against the Tariff—The House Refuses to Concur in Senate Amendment.

Washington, March 19.—Some of the senators who have called at the White House in the last day or two have gone away with an impression that the president is no longer anxious that the Puerto Rican tariff bill should be passed in the form in which it came from the house. To everybody he has said that he did not care to advise congress one way or another, and that the question was one which the senate ought to decide for itself. His attitude is now different from what it was a week or ten days ago when he told everybody he hoped the bill would be passed without delay as it came from the house. He seems now to be favorable to postponement of action, in order that it may be known more clearly just what the people of the United States and Puerto Rico really desire.

According to those who have seen the president he feels that the immediate emergency is passed. The bill appropriating funds for the relief of Puerto Rico seems a law today, and with that sum immediately available the pressing needs of the island will be met. Furthermore the senate has placed itself on record by its vote of Friday as distinctly opposed to the Democratic contention that the constitution follows the flag. So far as the purpose of congress can be indicated in a merely declaratory way, that vote is sufficient evidence that the Republican majority has no intention of allowing the tariff and other laws to extend over the new possessions by force of the constitution.

The immediate necessity for action by congress to establish the contention that it can legislate for the new possessions as it sees fit has therefore disappeared.

It is rather significant that the so-called "protected industries," which have been charged by some with responsibility for the house tariff bill, have now turned their energies to an attempt to delay legislation whatever, so that will leave the present high Dingley duties in force it seems to be the only alternative to the passage of the bill as it stands, for it is recognized that the enactment of a free trade measure after all that has happened is out of the question.

Uncertainty as to the Vote. Owing to the absence of Senator Spooner, the Puerto Rican steering committee has not yet held a formal meeting and none will be held until his return. Members of the committee, however, have been making a canvass of the senate to see if there can be found a basis of agreement which will be satisfactory to all parties.

A statement made by a senator today to the effect that he who opposed the tariff could not be won over to the majority, the majority would go over to them. So far, however, there is not the least disposition indicated of abandoning the tariff feature of the bill by its friends.

Prospects are that any action will be delayed as long as possible. The tariff feature of the bill will not be separated from the government features at present, although Senator Foraker, having the bill in charge, will take that action as soon as it is apparent that the government bill can be passed and that there is no prospect of an early agreement upon the tariff provision.

Measures of Importance. Two measures of national importance, and many of slightly lesser interest, were passed by the senate today. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, carrying more than $25,000,000, was passed without debate. The measure providing for the appointment of a commission to adjudicate and settle claims of citizens of the United States, growing out of the war with Spain, was also passed without opposition.

For the brief time the Puerto Rican government and tariff measure was under consideration. Mr. Foraker, in charge of the bill, submitted some committee amendments. A few of them were agreed to, but the important ones are still pending. A free trade amendment to the bill was offered by Senator Beveridge.

House Will Not Concur. The house today refused to concur in the senate amendments to the Puerto Rican relief bill. The Democrats supported a motion to concur on the ground that it would avoid further delay in extending relief to the inhabitants of the island, but the Republicans stood firmly behind Chairman Cannon

THE MIDDLE-OF-THE-ROADERS HOLD A SMALL CONVENTION OF THEIR OWN.

"POPS" HAVE TROUBLE.

The Middle-of-the-Roaders Hold a Small Convention of Their Own. Lincoln, Neb., March 19.—The Populist state convention held today was somewhat turbulent from the start. There were numerous candidates for every position and objections to every measure. Hot calls were frequent and consequently progress was slow. The committee on credentials decided against the claims of the middle-of-the-road Populists from Omaha to be classed as delegates and barred them from the convention. The opposition of D. Clem Deaver, of Omaha, as member of the Populist national committee from Nebraska, was declared vacant and E. E. Thomas, of Omaha, was chosen in his place. Mr. Deaver was ousted for the reason that he "was not considered a member of the Populist party."

Campbell, who has been employed by the brothers of the late William Goebel to assist in the prosecution of the assassin of Mr. Goebel, was here today fresh from a conference with his associates held at Lexington, Ky. In conversation Mr. Campbell was unwilling to disclose the state of their case, but he said that so far as now known the assassin was not yet arrested. He added that whenever a force of 3,000 armed men could be had to go to eastern Kentucky to the place where the assassin was, he would be arrested. He said further that the attorney for the commonwealth claim to have proof to establish a conspiracy for the assassination, but he made the assertion that this conspiracy was not charged against the Republican leaders but against what is known as the anti-Goebel party.

BRYAN AT KANSAS CITY.

Announces the Platform Which He Considers Best for Democracy.

Lincoln, Neb., March 19.—In effect, William J. Bryan announced tonight to the Democratic party and to the nation at large the platform which he considers best for the Democratic party and practically upon which he desires to stand if nominated at the Kansas City convention.

The platform, which was adopted by the Nebraska Democracy with the greatest enthusiasm, reaffirms the Chicago platform, declares for "18 to 17" opposes a large standing army, declares in favor of the Republican party on the Puerto Rico tariff bill, declares against trusts and "imperialism," and favors the choice of United States senators by popular vote.

The platform is practically the creation of Mr. Bryan. He did not write it personally, but he was consulted concerning it, and before it was read to the convention he had approved of it throughout.

The Commonwealth was not ready, and by agreement the trials were set for next Friday. GORED BY A BULL.

Bodies of E. C. Stout and Wife Found in a Barnyard.

Darvill, Pa., March 19.—The mutilated bodies of E. C. Stout and his wife, who lived on a farm near Nesquehony, Columbia county, were found buried under the snow in their barnyard today. His wife, it is presumed, came to his assistance and they both were gored to death.

Efforts in Bynum's Behalf.

Bynum as appraiser for the port of New York, but upon objection by Senator Jones, of Arkansas, the matter went over. An effort to secure the fixing of a day for a vote on the nomination proved unavailing.

She said she did not seek the position she had appointed because of her experience.

DISBURSING THE MONEY

CIRCULATION OPERATIONS UNDER NEW FINANCE LAW.

Busy Days for Controller of the Currency and His Staff—National Bank Notes Issued Last Week $5,041,980—Only $1,183,320 Destroyed—Circulation on Saturday Increased to $257,098,687—$10,000,000 Added Since January 31.

Washington, March 19.—The controller of the currency and his force are working hard to meet the demands for new bank notes and the exchange of one class of bonds for another to secure circulation. The total of the national bank notes issued for six days of last week was $5,041,980, and of those destroyed $1,183,320. The net result was to increase the circulation on Saturday to $257,098,687. That is an increase of $10,000,000 since January 31, and $7,500,000 since February 23.

A considerable part of the increase in circulation is due to the orders which are pouring into the treasury for circulation to par of bonds already pledged as the basis of circulation. The sum of $3,030,600 in new bank notes was shipped by the controller on Saturday, of which all but $200,000 were bonds which wanted to raise circulation to par.

The circulation secured by bonds now stands at $219,211,712, and that secured by deposits of lawful money and in prospect of retirement is $27,886,975. The various transfers of bonds by the banks with withdrawals, in some cases to take advantage of market prices, have had the effect of antipating the total legal limit of $3,000,000 per month for the withdrawal of circulation. The March account has been filed and the April account has been overdrawn to the amount of $2,150,000. The bonds cannot be withdrawn by the banks any faster than the law permits the retirement of the circulation.

Controller Dawes intends to scrutinize carefully all the applications for new bank charters, whether they come from banks in existence under state laws or from new applicants for charters.

It is not believed by the treasury officials, in spite of the slight flurry which is taking place among the banks, that any large increase of bank note circulation will occur as the result of the refunding operations. An increase of circulation will take place through the authority given the banks to raise circulation to par of their bond deposits.

The bonds cannot be obtained beyond that except by purchase in the open market or by the surrender of deposits of public money. The present prices of bonds, both the old classes and the new 2s, are not such as to encourage large purchases by the banks in the market with the expectation of a profit on circulation.

HUMMEL'S CONFESSION.

Tells How His Wife and Stepchildren Were Killed.

Williamsport, March 19.—In a copy righted story the Sun this evening gives a complete confession of William H. Hummel, the rag peddler, tried, convicted and sentenced at the last term of court on the charge of killing his wife. He confesses to have killed his wife and his stepchildren with a small axe. He did this deed on Nov. 15 last, and on the following night placed the bodies beneath a straw pile, with the exception of the body of the youngest child, which he buried in his barn. The night he took the bodies and threw them in a field, it was the finding of blood on the ground that led to the discovery of the murder.

THE COEUR D'ALENE.

Captain Forney, Special Prosecutor at the Scene of Disorder, Is on the Stand.

Washington, March 19.—The Coeur d'Alene investigation was resumed today by the house committee on military affairs, with Captain J. H. Forney, special prosecutor at the scene of disorder on the stand. Representative Hay, of Virginia, directed the examination with a view to disclosing how far the United States troops were under the control and direction of Governor Stenberg and his executive official in Shoshone county, Bartlett Sinclair. Mr. Hay asked if General Merriam was the responsible commander not only of the troops, but also of the affairs of the district in general. The witness said General Merriam was not the responsible commander, as the governor and Mr. Sinclair directed affairs. To a certain extent they controlled the United States forces. Mr. Forney said the troops were sent there to aid in suppressing the insurrection and they did this by co-operating with and assisting the state officials.

Mr. Hay stated that while he did not question the right of the governor to call troops on the right of the president to send them, he maintained that the president had no authority to place the United States troops under the control of state authorities. Questions by Mr. Lents brought out that Bartlett Sinclair was a civil official under the law, but that he exercised certain military authority in order to make effective his military authority.

Mr. Forney stated that in his opinion the trouble between the union and non-union men in the Coeur d'Alene district is irreconcilable, and that one or the other class would have to leave. Trouble has been going on since 1892 and the camp was too small to permit both elements to remain in peace. Mr. Lents sought to develop that the union men are being systematically driven out of the "company" system, but this the witness denied.

On re-direct examination the witness stated that in his opinion, based on all the circumstances coming under his observation, the government was justified in proclaiming martial law.

Mr. Forney's testimony was closed late in the day and the committee adjourned.

FARMONY IN ADAMS.

Quay and Anti-Quay Men Work Together.

Gettysburg, March 19.—The Republicans of Adams county held their county convention here today. There was entire harmony and an absence of factional feeling. S. L. Jones, an anti-Quay man, was elected to the position of moderator in favor of C. L. Deardorff. D. P. McPherson, of Gettysburg, anti-Quay, and Dr. C. L. Myers, of York Springs, a Quay man, were elected to the positions of acclamation. John L. Hill, jr., a Quay man, was selected as national delegate, and empowered to name his own conference.

The Quay leaders are determined not to allow York county more representation in the district conference than Adams county. York's County Enemy Siding admitted it will be with a half vote each.

AMERICUS CLUB BANQUET.

Will Be Attended by President and Noted Statesmen.

Pittsburg, March 19.—John I. Shaw, president of the Americus club, announced tonight that he had positive information that President McKinley will attend the banquet of the club on April 27 in honor of T. S. Arthur's birthday. The president will respond to the toast "Our Country."

Among the other speakers will be Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith, Senator M. A. Hanna, and Congressman Robert G. Cousins, of Iowa. Arrangements have been perfected for the seating of 500 people at the banquet, and altogether the function promises to eclipse any of the annual banquets in the history of the club.

The Budget Discussion.

London, March 19.—During the budget discussion in the house of commons today, John Reardon, the Irish leader, said the Irish members abstained from this discussion, but they did not regard it as a humdrum budget, as it imposed upon Ireland an additional war tax of over a million, and a new tax on the export of Ireland, he added, revolted. The bill passed its second reading by a vote of 182 to 39.

MAFEKING ALL RIGHT

General Belief That the City Has Been Relieved.

REPORT NOT CONFIRMED

General Roberts Expects to Advance on Pretoria from Three Directions. Lord Methuen May Lead One Force from Mafeking After Relief of That Place—Gen. Buller to March from Natal and the Commander-in-Chief from Bloemfontein—A Report That President Kruger Is Shipping His Effects to Europe.

London, March 20.—4 a. m.—The war office has had no news up to this hour confirming the report of the relief of Mafeking, but George Wyndham, parliamentary under secretary for war, replying to a private inquiry, in the lobby of the house of commons about midnight, smilingly said: "I think it is all right."

The Free Staters seemingly have not quite collapsed. They are in considerable force around Smithfield, although much dispersed.

A British spy from Roukville reports that Commandant Olivier and a commando are going to Koonstadt. The agents he left behind are using desperate means to raise recruits, commanding British Boers under penalty of death.

Koonstadt, where the Boers are concentrating, is 137 miles from Bloemfontein. It is surrounded by a country of hills and jungles.

General Gatacre is now resting at Springfontein, preliminary to joining Lord Roberts. General Buller's hill work before Ladysmith has given him an experience which is about to be used in forcing the Biggarsberg range. It is believed that 25,000 of his 40,000 men are about to engage General Botha's force, and the next news of fighting will probably come from Natal.

The leaders of the Afrikaner bond are circulating a petition in Cape Colony asking the imperial government not to take away the independence of the Boers.

Thirty-two thousand additional troops for South Africa are now at sea.

Plans of Gen. Roberts.

London, March 19.—Neither the advance by way of Fourteen Streams nor Col. Plumer's movement from Rhodesia has as yet resulted in the relief of Mafeking, at least so far as is known here.

From Bloemfontein and Natal no news of importance has been received. It is probable that the converging of the troops toward Mafeking indicates a much nearer end to the siege than merely its relief. Judging from Lord Methuen's presence at Warrenton and the capture of the nearby passage of the Vaal at Fourteen Streams, keen observers believe that Lord Roberts mediates an advance from Fourteen Streams of Klerksdorp and would encircle probably with an advance via Bloemfontein and Natal. Thus Lord Methuen may be given the chance to redeem his reputation as has been done with Gen. Gatacre.

MR. KRUGER'S PRECAUTIONS.

Report That Boer President Is Shipping His Effects to Europe. An interesting piece of news reaches us from Amsterdam to the effect that last Thursday a consignment of valuables and effects belonging to President Kruger and other Transvaal officials reached that port from South Africa. The consignment was taken charge of by a clerk in the employ of Dr. Leyds at Brussels, and was immediately transferred to the vaults of a bank which is generally understood to have President Kruger's interests in hand—Birmingham (England) Post.
