T. S. LLOYD TO SUCCEED FITZ-GIBBON.

He is the Master Mechanic of the Eastern Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad—Officials of the Lackawanna Road Will Confer with the Engineers—Spencer's Mine at Dunmore Examined and Declared to Be Safe—Make-up of the D., L. & W. Road.

The Tribune is officially informed that T. S. Lloyd, master mechanic of the Eastern division of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, will succeed John W. Fitzgibbon, as superintendent of motive power of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad, beginning on Monday next.

This information bears out the statement published in yesterday's issue, made by Mr. Fitzgibbon, that Henry Monkhouse, formerly of the Chicago and Alton railroad, who has been mentioned in connection with the position, will not be appointed.

But little is known of Mr. Lloyd among the railroad men in this city, but it is generally conceded by all who are familiar with the staff of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad that it is second to none in the United States.

It is said that the new superintendent is a Brotherhood man and bears an excellent reputation for fairness and civility among the working forces of the Chesapeake and Ohio company.

Officials Will Confer with Men. The general grievance committee of the Sam Sloan division of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who have charge of the case of Engineer John Troch, which has been under consideration for several weeks, expected to go to New York yesterday and confer with President Truesdale, of the Lackawanna railroad, with the purpose of having Troch reinstated.

It will not be necessary for the committee to go to New York to meet President Truesdale, as he is expected to meet them in this city this morning. Mr. Truesdale does not come, the committee will be met by General Superintendent E. G. Russell, J. M. Daly, superintendent of transportation, and Division Superintendent A. C. Salisbury.

Messrs. Russell and Daly arrived here from New York last night, and it is understood they have agreed to confer with the grievance committee with a view of adjusting whatever differences exist between the company and the men.

Spencer Mine Examined. So many stories have been afloat about the unsafe condition of the Spencer mines at Dunmore, that the following on Wednesday made an examination: T. E. Young, foreman of No. 5 colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal Co.; James M. Thompson, formerly foreman of the Harry E. and Forty-Fort collieries of the Wyoming Coal Co.; Daniel Jones, foreman of the Leggett's Creek D. & H. Coal company; Levi Emanuel, assistant foreman at the same colliery; Patrick Mulderig and John Beamish, expert miners, and E. W. Thompson, Jr., mining engineer.

After their tour of inspection was completed, they pronounced the mine perfectly safe and the following affidavit was made before Justice of the Peace Krotzer, of Dunmore: Personally appeared before me, a Justice of the peace in and for the county of Lackawanna, the following named persons, who, being sworn according to law, depose and say that we, the undersigned, have this day examined the mines of A. D. and F. M. Spencer, at the point where the mines are now working, and find the same to be in a good and safe condition, and have also examined the maps and approved of the plans of the said mines as proposed by the mine foreman.

This and That. The new spike mill at the Green Ridge iron works is in operation.

At the Hampton colliery the work of tearing down the company houses of the Delaware Lackawanna and Western company close to it is progressing, to make room for the proposed place for the storage of coal.

The Scranton Railway Employees' Beneficial association have endowed a bed at the Scranton Private hospital, where all employees of the company who may be injured while on duty can be treated in a private room.

The silk mill owned by Jenkins & Taylor at Dunmore operations yesterday. The mill has been furnished with the best machinery for such purposes. Mr. Hartman has the management of the mill. About fifty girls are employed.

Superintendent A. M. Wilson, of the Lebanon division of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway company, has announced that he has appointed William S. Groves trainmaster of that division, with headquarters at Reading, and H. C. Bombberger, assistant trainmaster, with his office at Harrisburg.

A rich ore find on Broad Mountain, near Glen Onoko, is announced. The prospectors are Miller & Derrick, lumber dealers, of Nesquehoning. The mineral found is in the nature of metallic paint ore and a valuable vein of yellow ochre. The ochre vein is eighteen feet wide and is one of the finest veins yet discovered in the state.

The civil engineer of the Long Valley Coal company and a force of men have been working at opening a drift on the company's property near Tonawanda. The new find is located about two miles south of the Long Valley plane and the drift has been driven seventy-five yards into the mountain.

The entire distance of the seam of coal is thirty-two inches thick of splendid quality. As far as driven the drift is a complete mine, with air course and track, opened to a height of five and a half feet.

Mr. Bedford positively asserts that the purchases were made by himself and for himself and not for the Lackawanna Telephone company, as has been stated. It can be easily understood, however, that if the new company desires to enter into long distance connections with either of Mr. Bedford's companies that he will not stand in the way, so that connections both up and down the valley are now practically assured.

It is pretty near settled that the Lackawanna company's new exchange will be located on the fourth floor of the Republican building in the quarters now occupied by the Scrantonian, that concern moving to another part of the building.

Engineer A. B. Dunning has now completed the working plan of the streets through which the conduits are to be laid. The contract for the work, however, has not been let yet, though it is expected that it will be in a few weeks.

COUNCIL STILL DEADLOCKED. Another Ineffectual Effort to Elect a Chairman. Next Monday the members of the Oliphant borough council are to appear in court to show cause why they should not be removed, because of their having failed to organize within the ten days prescribed by law.

Thinking to save themselves by an organization in the interim they had a special meeting Wednesday night and made another attempt to break the deadlock.

It was like the ten preceding efforts. Gallagher and Van Sickle, the opposing candidates for president, each received six votes on sixteen different ballots and then adjournment was made till tonight. This makes sixty-nine ballots that have been taken.

A RAILROAD SOCIAL. Given by Prof. Buck's Class of Elm Park Sunday School. Professor Buck's Sunday school class of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church held a railroad social in the church parlors last evening. A large number of the class members and several visitors enjoyed the trip from Scranton to New York and were well taken care of during the excursion by Conductor Carter and Newsboy Ackery.

Several stops were made to enjoy the scenery along the route, and at the Water Gap the conductor obligingly held the train while the tourists engaged in fishing. Several good strings were caught. Refreshments were served in the cafe cars, and all arrived home well pleased, voting the outing one of the most enjoyable ever given by the E. P. R. R.

SUPERIOR COURT DECISIONS. There Was One Lackawanna Case Among Them. Among the decisions handed down by the superior court at Harrisburg, Wednesday, was one affirming the finding of the local court in the case of John Pressman against the borough of Dickson City. It was a damage suit resulting from the plaintiff's property being flooded by water from the street. The borough successfully defended on the ground that the flooding was the result of an exceptional storm, and that even if the conduit which became blocked and diverted the water from its usual course, was too small, the borough could not be held liable as no damages can be collected for any injury resulting from a mistake in judgment, on the part of its officials. The opinion was delivered per curiam.

Other decisions of local interest were: Commonwealth against Plymouth township, reversed, with venue; widening of William street, Pittston, reversed; estate of James Hughes, Luzerne county, affirmed; Gallagher Bros. against Burke, Hazleton, affirmed; estate of Patrick Moran, Susquehanna county, affirmed; Solomon against Rodgers and Jordan, Wayne county, affirmed.

Adjournment was made to meet at Pittsburg, April 16. Governor and Mrs. Stone entertained the judges at dinner in the executive mansion. The governor's cabinet and heads of departments were among the guests.
