MASON ELECTED ENGINEER.

duces City's Bill-Other Doings. night and unanimously elected Randolph Mason city engineer. The nomi-nation was made by Alexander Kennedy, who emphasized the importance of the office and the fitness of the candidate to fill it. Mr. Mason has for several years been the efficient engineer this city. A committee having conferred with the officials of the water company regarding an excessive bill reported and the following resolution was adopted in accordance with its recommenda-

of the Delaware and Hudson company

That the bill of the Consolidated Water company for water from April 1, 1899, to October 1, 1899, amounting $1,043.61, as modified and reduced by your committee on light, water and fire to $771.05 and the bill of said company from October 1, 1899, to April 1, 1999, amounting to $744.96, as modified and reduced by your committee to $708.66, be ordered paid. The claims for damages made by James J. Gallagher, J. M. Cheevers, Carbondale laundry and Mrs. Elizasewer overflow, were reported upon unfavorably, the committee declaring that none of them knew where the water came from. The report was ac-

MICHAEL NEISEN BURIED.

The funeral of Michael Nelsen, who was killed by a Delaware and Hudson train Friday evening, was very largely attended at St. Rose church. The pallbearers were chosen from among the members of the St. Boniface society, the Germania society and his fellow workmen at the Hendrick shop. They were: Andrew Krantz, George Sontag, Jepson Vail, Joseph Little, Carl Schroeder and Frank Kahl. The floral offerings were unusually elaborate and fine. Among them was a large piece from employes of the Hendrick Manufacturing company and the Carbondale machine works, on which was a large clock with the hands pointing to 8.35; the time at which the unfortunate occurrence took place. A piece representing the "Gates Afar" was borne by Henry States and J. Myers. The Germanias gave a large lyre on the base of which were the words, "Our President." The St. Boniface society gave a sheaf of wheat and the offering printed by natives. But we have the of the stricken family was a pillow upon which was the word "Father. These were borne by Peter Herman, Frank Franzak and Charles Swan, The Germania Singing society, the St. Boniface society and his fellow workmen attended in a body.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

Interesting News from One of Our Townsmen at Cape Nome-Strike at Silk Mill-Other Notes.

Thomas Roundy, of Jermyn, has received a letter from his son, Charles, who is at the much-talked-of Cape Nome. The letter was postmarked at Nome Dec. 10, so that it has been more than three months en route. It contains much interesting matter, from which we are privileged to publish the following: "Winter is fairly upon us, but thus far it has not been, here at Nome at least, an Arctic winter by any means. The temperature has not yet been lower than ten degrees below zero. I am still wearing my leather shoes, and have worn nothing but summer beth Brennan, as the result of the clothes thus far. It is the same old story of a new country. You can place no reliance on the tales of old-timers concerning a new country.

The country all around here is being stampeded and staked for hundreds of miles in all directions, except, of course, the sea, and even that is receiving some attention at the hands of cager prospectors. One hundred feet from shore they are cutting through the ice and sinking into the sands of the sea. The days now are dark and short, almost always cloudy, but no wind prevails such as we had heard of be-fore landing here. Prices of provisions have come down a little, so that we can live for about $50 a month each. Thanksgiving day we had no turkeys, chickens nor cranberries, but we had native pharmigan and plum pudding." Charles owns a one-third interest in the Nome News, the first newspaper established at Cape Nome. Of this en-terprise he writes thus: "The News is Nome's pioneer paper, but not, as we stated in our columns some time ago. the paper published nearer the north pole than any other paper. You remember reading once of the Eskimo Bulletin, published once a year at Port Clarence, about one hundred miles north from here. It is smaller than ours, is edited by a missionary and best and most prosperous paper in Northern Alaska, and we always have news enough to fill it. With the first boat in the spring we will have a first class plant and stock for a semiweekly paper, and then, if the field warrants a daily, a flying trip to Seat. tle will have to be made for the neces-

The latter has been employed at an out of town mill, and the strikers were disappointed, because one of their own number had not been given the position. As a consequence of the strike is considerably handicapped but few of the hands being at work It is hoped, however, that the trouble will be of short duration and that the difficulty will be amicably adjusted.

A number of teachers as well as directors, patrons and puplls of the different schools were in attendance. The institute was called to order at 1,30 p. m., by Chairman Prof. E. B. Rogers, with Miss Inez Blessing acting as secretary. first thing on the programme was the singing of that grand old hymn, "Come Phou Almighty King," led by Prof. R. H. Martin, with Miss Bessie Buckingham presiding at the organ, after which the institute was favored with a most excellent paper on "Primary Reading," by Miss Inez Blessing, in clearly demonstrated the which she fact that she was handling a subject with which she was thoroughly acquainted, and that the little ones who were entrusted to her care to be taught this very important branch, would surely be started right, before going ahead. The next number on the programme, which was a paper on "Order in the School room," was by Superintendent J. C. Taylor. He said his idea of an orderly school agreed with the definition given by Colonel F. W. Parker, who said, "order in school limits the attention of the pupil to the work in hand," and anything that distracts the attention of the pupil from his work makes a disorderly school, Superintendent Taylor's paper should prove a rare help and inspiration to every teacher who heard it. After a short discussion on this subject. Miss Viola Gonzales gave a very interesting talk on "Busywork," and she had at the request of the County superintendent, brought along samples of the work done by her primary grades, consisting of darning, hemmed handkerchiefs and fancy work, which proved that in her school the little hands were kept busy and therefore found no time for mischief. After the song "Auld Lang Syne," by the institute, Professor R. H. Martin read a very interesting and carefully prepared paper on "The Ideal Nation and its Dependence Upon Moral Training for Its Realization." He said, in opening: "In this paper I wish to discuss the necessity for moral training to aid the student in determining his course in life, fixing high ideals and support-ing him in their pursuit." In closing he said, in the words of John Ruskin, "Education does not mean teaching people to know what they do not know; it means to teach them to behave as they do not behave. It is not teaching the youth the shapes of the letters and the tricks of numbers and then leaving them to turn their literature into lust and their arithmetic into raquery." The next thing on the programme was a talk on "Local Geog-raphy," by Mr. I. S. Turner, of Spring Brook, who exhibited some very skilfully drawn maps and proved that he was thoroughly conversant with his subject. This was followed by a song
