HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

It seems as though the Pedestrian club It seems as though the redestination has been burled in obscurity for the last few weeks, but they have at last shown themselves. It is the determination of the members of the club that, as soon as the weather becomes settled, they will have a hars and hound race. But this other intersection affairs is not the only have a hars and hound race. But this rather interesting affair is not the only thing talked of by the members. Mr. Weisenfluh, secretary of the club, has received a letter from the Wyoming seminary, stating that they would be greatly pleased if he would select a num-ber of competent athletes from among the club or school, and after they had received sufficient training, to have them take part in the athletic contests which the seminary are to have some time in the future. Mr. Weisenfluh is determined to see if this cannot be done, and is willing to do his utmost in order that the Scranton High School may be rep-resented in the field on that day. There is plenty of material in the club which, with a little honest training and practice might prove very worthy antagonists for

The newly-appointed superintendent of motive power of the Lackawanna system, T. S. Lloyd, who succeeds John W. FitzGibbon, arrived in the city yesterday and registered at the Jermyn. Shortly afterwards he assumed charge of affairs at the office formerly occupied by Mr. FitzGibbon and was introduced to his clerks and others about the building.

Mr. Lloyd also visited the offices of without much ceremony and seemed ought to be sent to the Wilkes-Barre to be familiar with the requirements of the position.

The new superintendent is a middleaged man, short in stature, of pleasant disposition, and has a thorough knowledge of the work before him. From what can be learned, Superintendent Lloyd will deal with the case of Engineer John Troch, which has been hanging fire for several weeks.

New Costumes and Skirts

Fashions have changed. As noiselessly as the frost gathers on the window pane, the eel-tight skirt has given place to less rigorous style-and a style that admits of sate variation. The plait, widening as it runs down from the waist line; several plaits, widening in the same way, but lying very flat; a hand plait that seems to hold a transverse puckering of the skirt-take your choice.

But the cut is not half the battle in making a Woman's Tailored Suit-it's the tailoring. And we are glad to have had something to do with raising the standard of it. The bodice or jacket is fashioned-worked into enduring good shape-by the tailors as they build it. No mere shaping of the cloth, and sewing it up, will give the effect.

Do not imagine that our authoritative position in matters of woman's dress has been gained by chance-very serious, intelligent hard work

The Hampton colliery, operated by the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western company, was shut down yesterday preparatory to the building of a coal washery, which will be operated in connection with the breaker. The work of erecting the structure will require several weeks' time and it cannot be definitely determined at this time how long the colliery will be shut down. As there is no great demand for coal just now, and as the different collierles are not working full time at present, the employes of the Hampton will remain idle unless their services are required in other workings.

A large force of carpenters will be employed in building the washery and additional help will be required when work is commenced on the coal storage plant. The company will undoubtedly give their own men the preference in this work.

Lehigh Valley Improvements.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad company has appropriated $250,000 for improvements along its lines from Packerton to Lizard Creek Junction. Among the proposed improvements is a plan to tunnel under the Central railroad tracks, between the present cross-under and the Lehigh river, and run the main line tracks to the extreme east of the Packerton vard tracks.

This would straighten the track leading to the Lehighton station proper and avoid delays to passenger trains. now frequent because of congestion at the yard outlet at the Central railroad cross-over bridge. A new station at Mantz's crossing, or near that point, is also part of the plan.
