PECK-STRATTON NUPTIALS.

Ceremony Was Performed at the Home of the Bride's Mother. . Miss Anna H. Stratton, of this city, and Dr. Welland A. Peck, of Peckville, were married last night at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Charles Stratton, of 331 Webster avenue. After the ceremony the young couple left the city on a short bridal tour and on their return will commence housekeeping in North Scranton. They will live at 2604 North Main avenue, and Dr. Peck will also have his office there. The ceremony took the form of a quiet, home wedding, none but the immediate relatives of the bride and groom being present.

At 5.30 o'clock last evening Dr. Peck and Miss Stratton entered the front parlor together to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Rose Grambo, and were united in wedlock by Rev. 8. C. Simpkins, of the Peckville Methodist Episcopal church. The room was artistically decorated.

Clark, the florist, having had charge of the floral adornments. A large mass of palms and Easter lillies formed a handsome bank, and the effect produced was a most pleasing one. Both bride and groom were unatended. After the ceremony had been performed and the newly married couple had received the congratulations and well wishes of all present, a wedding supper was served. At 11.20 clock Dr. and Mrs. Peck left the city on their bridal tour. Mrs. Peck is a charming young lady, and, as Miss Stratton, was widely known and universally liked for her many graces and good qualities. Dr. Peck is an able and energetic professional man and all whom know him are sure that success will attend his efforts in this city.

HE FILED A BOND.

Harry May to Receive His March Salary.

Harry May, permanent man of the Hook and Ladder company, has furnished Controller Howell with an indemnifying bond and the controller will accordingly pay him his March salary with the understanding that a resolution be introduced in councils stating that the sense of the ordinance appointing May was that he be said

660 a month. It will be remembered that he has been receiving $60 since he was appointed last October, which the controller lately discovered was too much, nasmuch as the ordinance providing for his appointment reads that he be paid the same as other permanent firemen. Other paid firemen are receiving $50 the first year and the controller accordingly made up his mind to keep out his March salary to even up things. The thing that May couldn't understand at first was the fact that Frank Moir, the mayor's son, who was appointed at the same time he was, has been receiving $60 a month right along and no kick coming. He was shown the ordinance appointing Moir, which fixes his salary at $60, and does not read "to be paid like other paid firemen," as does the ordinance appoint-A number of witnesses were ex- ing him. County Commissioners' Case Will Probably Be Concluded Tomorrow. A "Merry" Youth Who Was Ejected from a Trolley Car Seeks to Recover Damages for Alleged Permanent Injuries - Replogle-Frothingham False Imprisonment Case Called for Trial-Eight Verdicts.

The county commissioner's case is approaching termination in Judge Savdge's court. The commissioner's side expects to close today and the audiors' counsel say they have no large amount of rebuttal testimony to offer. The probabilities are that the case will be in the jury's hands tomorrow.

Architect Lacey, who went on the stand last Thursday, was not relieved from the verge of examination and ross-examination until noon yester-extra bill for gas fitting. He admitted that he himself supposed the plumbing bid sent in by his firm included the gas fitting, but his foremen informed him differently, and after the gas titting had been done the foreman reported he had done the work at the order of Architect Lacey.

ABOUT THE EXTRAS. Contractor Schroeder and his foremen gave testimony bearing on the extras for which Mr. Schroeder was given credit, all of which was gone over previously by Architect Lacey. Mr. Benore was called to testify as to his extra work, but as he had no personal knowledge of the matter, the business baying been attended to by his foremen, he was not questioned at any length.

In explaining how it came that be was allowed $1,000 for supervising the work on the roof Mr. Schroeder made the statement, incidentally, that if the old roof had not been removed it would be down on the sidewalk by this time. It had begun to spread and push out on the sidewalls, and these walls, in some places, contained cracks so wide that the arm could be inserted in the crevices the full length.

It was on this account mainly that the commissioners wanted some onto take full responsibility, and it was this that prompted them to engage Mr. Schroeder

Judge Archbald is engaged in trying the trespass case of Stuart Cutler, of Green Ridge, against the Scranton Railway company. The plaintiff wants $5,-000 damages for injuries which he aland wrongfully ejected from a Provi-Christmas eve, 1897.

There is no question but that he was ejected and his ejection was forcible, the conductor.

The plaintiff hopes to prove that even alleged the conductor threw him off while the car was in motion.

In answer to this, the company contends that Cutler and a friend named Lovelace attacked the conductor, B. P. Marshall, and that the conductor gava signal to stop, but before the car ould be brought to a standstill the struggle resulted in Cutler going headclothes and several small articles had first from the platform. Lovelace was put off after the car stopped.

The plaintiff's witnesses admit that Cutler was evidently under the influence of drink, and that he acted "merry." The defense expects to show that something more than mere merriment characterized Cuffer's conduct

A PERNICIOUS PRACTICE.

Some of the City's Creditors Went to

Be Paid Twice. introller Howell is making an effort to break up a pernicious practice which has been adopted in the past by number of the creditors of the city and with this end in view he is now notefring all such to send in their bills against the city promptly at the end each month

It has been the custom among partain persons to whom the city owes to send in a duplicate bill for collection some six or eight months after the first and original bill has been This second bill generally passes the auditing committee a second time, because it is usually split into two bills, the total amount of both being the same as the first original bill.

This rather puzzled the clerks in the ontroller's department, and, though they have stopped quite a number of them, it is quite possible that a number have been paid twice within the past few years.
