THEATRICAL. "The Princess Chic."

After a long run of good, bad and Indifferent operas written for the oper atic stars of the day "The Princess Chic" comes as a welcomed relief. It was written as an opera rather than as a vehicle for a star and the results obtained ought to encourage other constructors of light opera to return to the old, but for years deserted field. The libretto of "The Princess Chic" was written by Kirke La Shelle and the music is by Julian Edwards, who is no stranger to the world of light opera. The story of the opera is interesting, the book not bad, and the music distinctly good. In the first act the opening numbers are reminiscent of "Robin Hood," but, as the act progresses, the flavor of that opera passe away and the music of "The Princess Chic" takes an individuality all its At the head of the company which presented the opera at the Lyceum last night is Miss Christie MacDonald, who appeared in the title role. She is an altogether charming little person and a ciever artiste as well, with a voice that is sweet, though not of extensive range. The comedy was in the hands of Harry Brown, Thomas Leary, J. C. Miron and Walter A. Lawrence. They sang a topical ditty in the last act that was uproarously applauded. Brown has the leading comedy work thrown his way and evokes good many laughs. He might, however, cut out a few of his numerous 'wouldn't that," etc., etc., with good results. The vocal work of Miss Mathilde Preville, Winfield Blake and Clinton Elder was much admired. The opera is in three acts, is nicely staged and superbly costumed. It was seen last night by a large audience.

"An Actor's Romance."

At the Academy of Music tonight 'An Actor's Romance" will be repeated by the Cook-Church company. This afternoon "She" will be presented. "An Actor's Romance," which will be seen tonight, deals with the life of an actor and brings clearly before the public eye not only what is seen in front of the footlights, but what transpires behind the scenes, giving one a perfect picture of the way in which a play is produced, how and where the actors dress, how the scene shifters work, how artificial snow and thunder storms are made; in short, what goes on behind the scenes which the audience does not see from the front. The bill for tomorrow is: Afternoon

Waite's New Stock Company. The series of plays to be given by Waite's new stock company at the Academy of Music next week will be a source of pleasure to the theater-going public of Scranton, as they are entirely new to this city.

They have received the favorable endorsement of the press of other cities and consist of the following plays: "Orphans of New York," "Out in the Streets," "Beyond the Rockies," "Walfs of New York," "Signal Lights," "False Colors," "Adrift in a Great City," "Jack Sheppard," etc. New and novel specialties are given between the acts, making a continuous performance. "Orphans of New York" will be the opening attraction for Monday matinee and night. Dime matinee daily.

LIGHTNING TELEGRAPH.

New York to Chicago and Answer Returned in Forty-Five Seconds. From Ainslee's Megazine. It is not in show performances that finds the greatest achievements of the telegraph, but in the speed with which ordinary business is transacted. Thus the Stock and Produce exchanges of New York and Chicago have the closest possible connection. There is vast amount of communication between the exchanges of the two cities every day, and the telegraph com-panies have their offices on the floors of the exchanges. It is on record that messages have been sent from the New York Produce Exchange to the Chicago Produce Exchange, and answers received in forty-five seconds. When one reflects that these were ordinary messages, for which no special preparation was made, and that the operation involved the writing out of the messages at each end of the line, and their deivery to the persons to whom they were addressed, the result seems marvelous.
