AN IMPORTANT OPINION.

Has Been Handed Down by Justice Mestrezat of Supreme Court.

Justice Mestrezat, of the Supreme court, handed down an opinion of interest to all those who use the highways. The court reversed the lower court of Philadelphia in a suit, in which the plaintiff sought damages for personal injuries sustained by being run over by a wagon, was nonsuited. The plaintiff was riding a bicycle and the defendant a wagon. Both were going at a moderate speed, as they approached. The plaintiff struck his head, but the defendant headed it. The former in dismounting fell and a wheel of the latter's wagon passed over his foot. Hence the suit. The case was non-suited.

An appeal was taken and Justice Mestrezat, in directing a new trial, quoted the ordinance of Philadelphia council of February 2, 1877, requiring "all persons driving or riding to do so on the right side of the street and to pass all vehicles traveling in the opposite direction on the right side and those going in the same direction on the left side."

"The rights of the boy and the driver were reciprocal, and each was required to obey the law of the road and conform to its requirements. There was no apparent necessity in this case to apply the exception to the rule that a light vehicle or bicycle must give way to a heavily loaded wagon."

"The boy was where he had a right to be and where the law required him to be in traveling northward on Seventeenth street. When no one was approaching with a right of way to pass him with a vehicle the driver had the right to use any side of the street, but when he turned abruptly on Seventeenth street in the manner shown he was taking the chance of a collision with a vehicle going northward."

Every Portion of Chicago.

The Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway, in conjunction with the Elevated Railway system of Chicago, will take you direct to almost any part of that city you may wish to reach. The trains of the Union Elevated Road leave from the Lake Shore depot in the metropolis of the West so that all passengers on the Lake Shore have to go to it to step from one train into another and they can reach almost any part of Chicago without the expense of cabs and hacks. This is only one of the many advantages offered by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway. Full particulars may be found in the little book entitled "The Union Elevated Loop in Chicago," which will be sent free of charge on application to A. J. Smith, G. P. A., Lake Shore Railway, Cleveland, Ohio.

LOCAL SHERLOCK HOLMES.

"Jack" Tierney Could Give Pointers to Dr. Doyle's Hero.

Sherlock Holmes was pretty good in his palmy days, but it is hard to work up any great amount of enthusiasm over Dr. Doyle's alleged hero, when one has an intimate acquaintance with "Jack" Tierney and his doings.

If it wasn't that Jack is so modest, many good stories would fall to the lot of the local reading public, and simultaneous hours would be very marked dropping off in the sale of the Doyle stories, for it is safe to assume that an appreciative reading public such as Scranton is blessed with would infinitely more prefer true stories of cleverness and adventure to romances dealing with some idea, especially when the instance would be another corroboration of the adage that truth is stranger than fiction.

Jack and Sherlock work along the same lines, of course, but this must not be taken to mean that Jack has been reading the Doyle stories, but that he is simply a case of great minds, etc.

One of the chief characteristics of Holmes' modus operandi, or more properly speaking, his chief stock in trade, was making a man's notes and every thing coming under his observation, that his biographer might need later in working out a story.

Same way with Jack. For instance: Last week, Mrs. Duggan received a letter from a chief of police, down in state, soliciting her aid in finding a runaway girl who, it was supposed, had headed Scrantonward. A description of the girl accompanied the letter, but as it was presumed, and rightly too, that the girl had changed her appearance as much as possible by dyeing her hair, and penciling her brows, rouging her cheeks and painting her lips, to say nothing of adopting a different style of dress, the description of her outward appearance was not to be taken as a very reliable aid to her discovery.

But the down-the-state chief of police sent along another clue to her identification. The clue was furnished by the girl's aunt, by whom she had been raised from infancy. It was that she had been vaccinated twice on each arm.

"Cert," said Jack, when the case had been laid before him. He drew from his inside vest pocket a little red-covered book, nonchalantly ran his thumb down the indices till it came to "M," opened the book, studied the page a minute and then, writing something on a slip of paper, said: "Go to that address and ask for Maggie."

The instructions were forthwith carried out, and that night the young girl was started for her home in custody of an officer.

FUNERAL OF W. H. STANTON.

Requiem Mass was Celebrated in St. Peter's Cathedral.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the funeral of the late Hon. William H. Stanton was held from the residence on Clay avenue. All day Thursday the body could be seen at the house, and was viewed by numerous friends.

The remains were yesterday morning taken to St. Peter's cathedral, where a requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. P. J. Gough, after which he read a selection from the Scriptures. In the sanctuary were Rev. J. A. O'Reilly and Rev. D. J. MacGoldrick. As the casket was borne from the church, Professor Schilling played "Flee as a Bird." The remains were then taken to the cathedral cemetery and there interred. Among the out-of-town relatives who attended the funeral were Michael Stanton and W. B. Kearney, of Wilkes-Barre.

The floral tributes were many and beautiful, bouquets of lilies, roses and carnations and handsome pillows, wreaths and crests being sent as souvenirs of the esteem felt for the departed. Especially handsome was the large floral wreath and wreath, sent by the Lackawanna Bar association.

The pall-bearers, who were selected from the members of the Bar association, were Robert M. Murray, M. W. Lowry, L. B. Carter, C. S. Woodruff, C. W. Dawson and L. M. Bunnell.

TWO BUILDINGS BURNED.

Fire at the House of Ernesto Genaro Yesterday Morning.

At about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, fire broke out in the two-story dwelling of Ernesto Genaro, at 517 Breck street. A still alarm was sent to the William Connell Hose company, whose quarters are located nearby.

When the Connells arrived the fire had gained considerable headway, but the firemen fought the flames heroically and about 5 o'clock had them well under control, when suddenly a can, containing some kind of an explosive, which was on the upper floor, exploded and again the fire spread rapidly.

Seeing the impending danger to adjoining property, the Connells immediately called out the other South Side companies. The Neptunes and Centurys promptly responded, but owing to poor water pressure little could be accomplished, and the building in which the fire originated, together with a one-story structure next to it, also the firemen fought the flames heroically and about 5 o'clock had them well under control, when suddenly a can, containing some kind of an explosive, which was on the upper floor, exploded and again the fire spread rapidly.

OUR FLAG BEYOND THE SEA.

Subject of the Lecture Chaplain Pierce Will Deliver.

Rev. Charles C. Pierce, D. D., chaplain United States Army, will give a lecture in the Penn Avenue Baptist church, Thursday evening, April 5, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society of that church. The topic of the lecture will be "Our Flag Beyond the Seas, or Civil and Military Life in the Philippines."

Chaplain Pierce was the first United States chaplain to enter Manila, and he has rendered distinguished service on the battlefield and in the civil and military affairs of the islands. He came home to bury General Lawton, and will return to Manila the first of May. He has declined requests to lecture, but by special request consents to give this address for the benefit of the young people of the Penn Avenue church, of which his brother, Rev. R. F. Y. Pierce, is pastor.

GRAND JURY MAKES ITS PRESENTMENT

COURT RELIGIOUSLY GUARDS ITS CONTENTS.

Officials and Jurors Admonished Against Divulging Any Information Which It Contained—Various Reports as to the Number of Parties Indicted in the Presentment—Indictments Will Be Passed Upon This Morning and a Report Made Before Noon.

It is probable the grand jury will adjourn its Lexow at noon today and by that hour the report of its findings will have been made public.

At 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the jury came into court with its presentment. Judge Edwards received it in the superior court room, read it over carefully, directed Clerk of the Court Daniels to mark it "sealed" and then turned it over to Assistant District Attorney Thomas with instructions to draw up the indictments. Strict orders were given from the bench to the court officials and the jurors that they were not to divulge any information concerning the contents of the presentment. As the court delivered itself of this admonition it looked a meaningful look towards the table at which the reporters were grouped with double-pointed pencils in hand, and the court officials and jurors looked at each other with the mass of information concerning the contents of the presentment which appears in this article tells eloquently the effect of the court's look.

INDICTMENTS PREPARED.

The presentments developed into bills of indictment under the manipulation of Assistant District Attorney Thomas last night, and when the jury reassembled this morning it will pass upon the indictments. It is generally expected a report will be made before noon.

Whether or not the jury will continue its sessions into next week is a question. The matter was discussed yesterday, but no conclusion was reached after the jurors went to continue in session till the absent witnesses are secured. Others feel that they should adjourn, unless there is something approaching a reasonable assurance that the absent witnesses will be forthcoming. This matter will be decided after the indictments are passed upon this morning.

Even the number of parties included in the presentment could not be ascertained with any degree of certainty. One "reliable source of information" put it at seventeen, with seven counsels included. Some of the jurors want to "know" said it was not over eight and that two counsels only were included. Another "whose evidence could not be doubted," said it was two and that no counsels were included. The reader who is not content to wait until noon for the official dictation, and who has had his choice of the above, "take who has watched the proceedings closely" suggests the first as the best guess.

EXAMINED YESTERDAY.

City Clerk M. T. Lavelle, C. G. Boland and Andrew Henley were the witnesses examined yesterday. Mr. Lavelle produced the minutes of councils to show how the different members acted on the various telephone ordinances and the electric light contract. It was stated yesterday by a member of the Electric City Light and Heat company that if corruption or fraud is shown "a connection with the passage of the electric light contract, proceedings will be instituted to have the contract annulled and new bids advertised for."

THEY MUST KEEP OUT.

Working Room of Postoffice Will Be Strictly Private.

The custom heretofore prevailing to a greater or lesser degree, of allowing outsiders to circulate through the back or working room of the postoffice has been stopped. A strong railing has been erected inside the rear door and beyond this no one not connected with the office can pass.

This action was taken on account of the abuse of a privilege granted to the friends of postoffice employees. A strong iron cage is also being built for the local office and this will be placed around the money order and registered letter departments to prevent any daylight hold-ups, such as have occurred in other cities.

HELD IN $300 BAIL.

Harry Granville Accused of Theft by L. B. Fowler.

L. B. Fowler, of 1211 Swetland street, yesterday swore out a warrant for the arrest of Harry Granville, on the charge of theft of a $20 bill. Granville was arrested and entered bail for his appearance at court. At the hearing the strongest witness against Granville was little six-year-old Lulu Phillips, his niece. The child, it seems, found the bill in the road and going into Granville's house, showed it to him.

He took the bill and, remarking, "Oh, that's a counterfeit," put it in his pocket. Fowler heard of this and going to Granville demanded the money. The latter denied having it, and the warrant for his arrest was then issued.

Mrs. Col. Richardson Saved by Mrs. Pinkham.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 75,595]

"You have saved my life, snatched me from the brink of the grave almost, and I wish to thank you. About eighteen months ago I was a total wreck, physically. I had been troubled with leucorrhoea for some time, but had given hardly any attention to the trouble.

"At last inflammation of the womb and ovaries resulted and then I suffered agonies, had to give up my profession (musician and piano player), was confined to my bed and life became a terrible cross. My husband summoned the best physicians, but their benefit was but temporary at best. I believe I should have contracted the morphia habit under their care, if my common sense had not intervened.

"One day my husband noticed the advertisement of your remedies and immediately bought me a full trial. Soon the pain in my ovaries was gone. I am now well, strong and robust, walk, ride a wheel, and feel like a girl in her prime. I would not be without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; it is like water of life to me. I am very grateful and sincerely recommend your remedies. I hope some poor creature may be helped to health by reading my story."

BOY SERIOUSLY INJURED

Had a Revolver in His Hand and Did Not Know It Was Loaded.

Bullet Entered Abdomen.

Will Gibbons, a twelve-year-old boy, living at 1310 Prospect avenue with his uncle, Michael Gibbons, was taken to the Lackawanna hospital at 11:30 o'clock last night with a cartridge in his abdomen, as the result of another of the series of apparently inexhaustible didn't-know-it-was-loaded episodes.

The boy had found in his uncle's room the latter's 22-calibre revolver. With this he stole into the cellar, to there examine it at his leisure. Of course, the trigger struck against something, there was a flash and a crack, and the boy fell on the floor with a bullet in his body.

The blood poured out freely, and members of the family hearing the shot, ran downstairs and carried the boy to his room. Dr. M. H. Quinn was called in and stopped the flow of blood. It was later decided best to take the boy to the hospital and the Lackawanna hospital being notified the ambulance was sent for the injured lad. At the Lackawanna he was made easy for the night, and early this morning he was resting comfortably and did not seem to suffer much pain. He will be operated upon today and the bullet removed.

MR. THOMAS' FIRST REPORT.

Street Commissioner Has New Plan for Cleaning Streets.

Street Commissioner Thomas' first yearly report will be presented to council next Monday, immediately after reorganization. In addition to a resume of the work done during the past year, the commissioner will outline his plans for cleaning the streets during the coming summer.

It is understood that he has a plan of organization in view which will produce far better results than have heretofore been obtained. This plan contemplates, it is believed, the permanent employment of certain men, instead of the present system of employing a new gang of laborers nearly every day, to satisfy the whims of councilmen who think that this is the proper way to look after their interests.

The present system makes it impossible to fix the responsibility for any dirty streets on any one person, whereas if the same men are permanently employed the year round each man will be responsible for a certain section of street.

SCRANTON BUSINESS COLLEGE.

A Scarcity of Good Bookkeepers and Stenographers.

Students are now enrolling for the spring and summer terms. The summer school last year was a very decided success. Many ladies and gentlemen then fitted themselves to fill positions which they secured during the fall and winter.

There is a need for three bookkeepers and three stenographers. Good salaries. But one place filled. Good bookkeepers and stenographers are scarce.

THE CENTRAL MARKET.

A New Market to Open in Old Postoffice Building.

Messrs. Hechtold and Loughran, who have been variously employed in the market of W. H. NO PROSPECT OF TAX LEVY BEING REDUCED

SCHOOL BOARD ESTIMATES ALL VERY HIGH.

They Were Considered Last Night at the First Meeting of the Finance Committee of That Body—in Nearly All Instances Big Increases Over Last Year Are Asked for. Building Committee Not Yet Heard from—New Buildings May Be Asked for.

There will be no reduction of the school tax levy during the coming year if one is to judge by the estimates turned in by the various committees of the school board and considered by the finance committee of that body at its meeting last night. In almost all instances these estimates are above those of last year.

The high and training committee wants $41,550 or $45,000 if a new heating plant is installed. The appropriation allowed this committee last year was $30,577. The committee didn't touch this estimate last night, deciding to leave it until they meet again.

The teachers' committee estimated that they require $168,000 where $155,000 only was appropriated last year. The committee's estimate includes the salaries of fifteen new teachers. This item was cut to $164,000.

The estimated expense of maintaining night schools for the coming year is $5,000, where it cost $3,400 last year. The committee decided to leave this item alone. The salary of officers and clerks is placed at $9,160, where the appropriation last year was $7,430. This increase must be allowed, as it is caused by increases in salary fixed by the board. The item of janitor's salaries is $9,160, or an increase of $1,740 over last year. The committee allowed this item.

FOR NEW FURNITURE.

The estimated cost of new furniture for the coming year was placed at $7,000, where only $5,000 was appropriated last year. The increase is explained by reason of the new buildings, which must be furnished. The item, however, was cut down to $5,000.

The estimated cost of rents for the coming year is $2,500, or $1,000 more than last year. This item was allowed, as was the estimate of $13,000 for supplies, an increase of $3,000 over last year. The coal and wood estimate is $7,000, the same as last year, and was of course allowed.

The item of gas, water and telephones was $3,000, or $1,000 less than last year, and the estimate of $300 for the delivery of supplies was also the same as was the one of $1,000 for printing and advertising. All of these were allowed to pass without cutting.

The item of legal expenses was placed at $300, a reduction of $700 from last year. This was accepted by the committee, as was also an item of $200 for tax refunding, which was $100 less than last year.

The text book committee didn't send in an estimate, but the committee supplied one for them, making it $11,000, the same as last year. The insurance committee's estimate was $3,000, where only $500 was appropriated last year. The chairman of this committee happened to be present and explained things so that the committee was allowed the increase but immediately took revenge by lopping off $500 from the incidentals appropriation, leaving it $1,000, the same as last year.

BUILDING COMMITTEE YET.

The committee ceased its labors at this point, as the building committee has not yet presented its estimate, which is the most important of all. The size of the tax levy will depend to a considerable extent on this committee. There are some members on it who think that no more new schools should be built during the coming year, while other members want new schools and want them built immediately.

In addition to the other expenses the board will have to appropriate funds for the payment of a deficiency amounting to something like $40,000. Taking this fact into consideration it
