Of these the only one liable to be tried are Kowler vs. Frear and Little; Connell vs. Mathewson; Gilton vs. Lehigh Valley Railroad company; Sherwood vs. Clinton township, and Vosburg vs. Lee. The balance of the cases have either been settled or are now in course of settlement.

Of Gilton vs. Lehigh Valley company is set down, by agreement of attorneys, to be heard on Wednesday at 2:30 o'clock. This above list promises to give a full week of business.

Miss Elizabeth Platt, of Wellsville college, Frank D. Miller, of Protection, Harry Lewis, of St. John's Military school, are at home during the Easter holidays.

F. K. Stephens, a Bradford county attorney, was in town on Friday.

T. M. Culver, of Towanda, was in Tunkhannock Saturday afternoon.

F. C. Ross, esq., died at his home here on Friday afternoon, after a sickness which has lasted for over a year. Mr. Ross was the oldest attorney, in point of admittance, at the Wyoming county bar, having been admitted to the practice of law in 1847, after having for five years studied at the law with John K. Peckham and Peckham & Smith. He was elected and served in the office of county treasurer during 1846 and 1847, and was afterward elected register and recorder of the county. The first commenced the practice of law in 1852, in connection with St. John's Military school, known as F. C. & R. P. Ross. Ebanian Smith afterwards joined the firm, and the firm name was changed to Smith & Ross. Mr. Smith retired in 1870 and the firm was known under the old name until the death of R. P. Ross. Shortly after that Mr. Ross and C. G. Dersheimer formed a partnership under the name of Ross & Dersheimer, and this continued up to the time of Mr. Ross' retirement from active practice some years ago, on account of ill health. Since that time he has been confined to the house and most of the last year or two to his bed. He never married and leaves to survive him only his niece, Mrs. S. W. Eysenbach, of this place. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the house, with interment in Sunnyside cemetery. The Wyoming County bar held a meeting at the office of W. E. & C. A. Little this afternoon and adopted appropriate resolutions.

C. B. Little, of Scranton, and W. N. Reynolds, Jr., of Wilkes-Barre, are at home over Sunday.

W. C. Ross, shortly after that Mr. Ross and C. G. Dersheimer formed a partnership under the name of Ross & Dersheimer, and this continued up to the time of Mr. Ross' retirement from active practice some years ago, on account of ill health. Since that time he has been confined to the house and most of the last year or two to his bed. He never married and leaves to survive him only his niece, Mrs. S. W. Eysenbach, of this place. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the house, with interment in Sunnyside cemetery. The Wyoming County bar held a meeting at the office of W. E. & C. A. Little this afternoon and adopted appropriate resolutions.

There was the usual very liberal Easter offering in St. John's Catholic church this morning.

Interesting religious and largely attended Easter services in all of the churches of Susquehanna and vicinity today.

The Susquehanna Maennerchor will hold a masquerade carnival in its Oakland side music hall on Monday evening.

Mourner Curtis lodge, No. 184, Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will hold its thirteenth annual ball at the Star-rucua house on Friday evening, April 27. Music will be furnished by Doran's full orchestra of Susquehanna. It will be a fine social event. A goodly delegation of railroad men from Carbon-dale and Scranton are expected to attend.

Phoenix-like, the Susquehanna Transcript arose from the ashes and reappeared on Saturday. It was warmly welcomed by its numerous readers.

The Unitarian Methodist church held very interesting Easter services.

The Citizens' band, of Forest City, will hold a fair all of this week, in the opera house.

The new brush factory force in Great Bend is being materially increased.

There are scores of cases of grippe in Hallstead and Great Bend, and physicians are kept bustling.

Rev. Charles Henry Newing will leave for Owego on Tuesday, to attend the annual meeting of the Wyoming conference. His absence has unanimously asked for his return for another year.

At present there is but a fair freight traffic on the main line of the Erie. Regular crews are getting in satisfaction.

The Baptist congregation of Susquehanna will begin canvassing for a pastor at once. There is said to be twenty-five applicants for the pastorate.

At the Easter services in the Susquehanna churches, the sermons were able and appropriate, the decorations were beautiful, the collections were liberal and the Easter bonnets left nothing to be desired.

BIG STRIKE AT CROTON DAM

and 250 cavalry. Squadron A will furnish 200 men and Troop C will have 150.

Troops Ordered Out.
A report reached here at 10 o'clock tonight that the conference in New York was a failure so far as bringing about the settlement of the strike, and that troops have been ordered to come here tomorrow. The news was quickly passed to the strikers, who hastily gathered on the Bowery to discuss the situation.

The strikers were much excited. Angelo Rotella, the leader, when informed of the fact that the troops had been ordered out, was much perturbed and doctored. He said:

"Only some of our men are armed, but they will all be armed in the morning. We will resist every attempt by the contractors to renew the work tomorrow with strange men, and we will fight if necessary until the troops get here. They kept their word for two months, but we can afford to wait six months, and the contractors will be sorry when the troops go away."

Another Strike.
Seven Hundred Piedmont Miners Will Go Out Today.

Piedmont, W. Va., April 15.—Seven hundred miners employed by the Davis Coal and Coke company, in this section of the Elk garden mining region, have voted unanimously to strike, and will not re-enter the mines tomorrow. Like their brothers of the Georges Creek region, the miners demanded 60 cents per ton. The miners involved are the Franklin Big vein, Franklin Gas coal, and the Six Foot vein in Maryland, and the Hampshire Big vein and Hampshire Gas coal, and the Six Foot and Four Foot veins in West Virginia.

Officials of the company urged the men to arbitrate their differences and offered to pay the men whatever the operators of the Georges Creek region decided as the scale to prevail in that region for the current year. Speaking of the situation General Manager Landstreet, of the Davis Coal and Coke company, said:

"There is no reason to fear a coal famine, as a result of the strike. Some regions have been unable to market their products because of lack of motive power and cars. The transportation facilities made idle by these strikes will be sent up to such an extent as to carry the coal to market as much as coal on the market, but the quality may not be quite so good. I now have in my possession an offer from one of the greatest coal firms in the country offering to accept the contracts of the Davis Coal and Coke company, so we have no fear of being short of a new supply. In my talk with the men this afternoon I attempted to explain something to them, as to the differentials in freight rates, but they were not there to listen to reason or anything else. They were there to strike."

Wright to a mining expert here the strikes will not materially affect the general output of coal and there should be no fear of a coal famine.

Millionaire Shot.
Rufus Wright Killed While Struggling for a Revolver.

Chicago, April 15.—Rufus Wright, the millionaire manufacturer of rubber tires, who was shot during a scuffle for the possession of a revolver, died in the apartment of Mrs. Louisa Lottridge at the Leland hotel, died today from the effects of a bullet. A statement by the deceased Chief of Detectives Collieran that the shooting was accidental, it is thought, clear Mrs. Lottridge's death. Wright died with words of exculpation on his lips for the woman whose revolver was responsible for his death. He persisted in saying that the woman was not to blame for his condition, and that he had the revolver in his hand when it was discharged.

Mr. Wright's son-in-law and partner, Fred Morgan, was at his side at his death. Mr. Morgan held that his father-in-law was on an errand to help a friend, who had become entangled with the woman, when he received his fatal wound.

Although he admits he can offer no evidence, Chief of Detectives Collieran strongly believes that the weapon was not in the hand of Wright when it was discharged. A careful examination of the position of the wound, he says, will show that it would be impossible for Wright to have held the weapon in his hand. Captain Collieran says, also, that Mrs. Lotridge said she could not remember whether the weapon was in her hand or in Wright's. He also cites the fact that Wright's beard is not stung, as it would have been if a weapon had been discharged close to his head; his face is not marked with powder; in fact, Captain Collieran says, there is nothing to show that he held a revolver close to his face.

Robbed by Tramps.
Experience of Kate and Johanna Sullivan, of Toledo.

Toledo, O., April 15.—Shortly before midnight two tramps, with white handkerchiefs tied over their faces, stopped at the house of two sisters, Kate and Johanna Sullivan, living four miles west of West Toledo, knocked at the door, and as Johanna opened the door one of the men sprang across the head with a club knocking her down.

Kate sprang to the assistance of her sister, when a second tramp fell her with an axe heaved. The women were bound and gagged, and the house robbed. Johanna died in a short time, and Kate was killed in a similar manner by the injuries. The tramps escaped with $200 in money.
