NEW TAX CONSTITUTIONAL.
So Judge Simonton Decides in a Harrisburg Case.

At the action of the board of trade at Monday night's meeting, in directing that counsel be engaged to join with the Wholesale Grocers' association in fighting the new mercantile tax law, the following Harrisburg dispatch will be of interest:

Harrisburg, April 17.—Judge Simonton today handed down an opinion in a case of much importance regarding the revenues of the commonwealth. The legislature of 1899 imposed a new mercantile tax on vendors and dealers in goods, wares and merchandise, requiring an annual license tax of $2.00 and one mill additional on each dollar of business transacted, while sales to pay $3.00 and one-half mill additional on each dollar of business, dealers at any exchange of board of trade to pay 25 cents on every $1,000 worth of goods sold.

David W. Cotterel, a real estate vendor in the city of Harrisburg, contested the tax. His counsel, ex-Sheriff Attorney General Lyman D. Gilbert, contended that the act was unconstitutional. Judge Simonton, in his opinion, holds that the legislature has the power to separately license wholesale and retail exchanges and boards of trade. The suit may be taken to the supreme court.

BOWMAN AGAIN ARRESTED.
Acquitted of Murder, He Is Charged with Aggravated Assault and Battery on John Kneirem.

William Bowman, of Petersburg, who was tried before Judge Archbald during the early part of the week, on the charge of the murder of John Kneirem, of Paul street, Petersburg, and who was acquitted, was re-arrested yesterday by Constable M. Feirstein, on a warrant issued by Alderman Myron Kasson, at the instance of Mrs. Mary Kneirem, widow of John Kneirem, charging him with aggravated assault and battery on her late husband.

He waived a hearing and entered bail in the sum of $800. Michael McLoughlin, of Petersburg, became his bondsman.

As will be remembered, on January 6, 1899, Kneirem and Bowman had a quarrel, in which Bowman, who was intoxicated, stabbed Kneirem eight times with his knife. He was arrested at the time on the charge of felonious wounding, and six weeks later Kneirem died. The result of the inquest conducted by Coroner J. J. Roberts indicated that the wounds had nothing to do with the death, which was due to dilatation of the heart.

The grand jury, however, indicted Bowman for murder. At the trial, Bowman was acquitted on the evidence of Coroner Roberts, called by the commonwealth.

KNIGHTS WILL ENTERTAIN.
New Club House to Be Thrown Open Tonight.

With an informal reception to which hundreds of friends have been invited, the suburban council of the Knights of Columbus will, tonight, throw open its new home on North Washington avenue. The club house has been completely renovated and furnished and for tonight's event elaborate embellishments have been added in the way of floral decorations.

No set programme is to be observed, beyond an address of welcome by one of the club's officers. The house committee, however, will see to it that the guests will go away with a high regard for the hospitality of knights.

JAMES NOLAN KILLED HIS FATHER
THAT IS THE DECLARATION OF CORONER'S JURY.

It Met in Office of Alderman S. S. Jones, at Carbonade, and Heard Evidence of Such Witnesses as Had Any Knowledge of the Facts in the Case—Young Nolan, Who Is in the County Jail, Permits That Killing Was Done in Self-Defense.

A coroner's jury decided last night that James Nolan killed his father, John Nolan, in Carbonade on the night of April 11.

Young Nolan, it will be remembered, is now in the county jail awaiting the action of the next grand jury on his case.

The inquest last night was conducted in the office of Alderman S. S. Jones by Coroner J. J. Roberts, Drs. Kelly and Gilis testified as to the man's injuries and how they had caused his death. Patrick Nolan, a brother of the accused man, took the stand and said that he had conversed with his brother in the county jail on Tuesday and that the latter said he had struck his father in self-defense. He said that his brother would not say how the quarrel started or anything further about the incident.

Alexander McDonald, a son-in-law of the deceased man, testified as to hearing the quarrel in the yard and finding Mr. Nolan a few minutes afterwards some twenty paces from the house. He saw young James Nolan running away in the direction of the railroad tracks at the same time.

Witness further testified that he found a gun in the yard with the stock broken and had heard it said that the old man had run upstairs after this. The gun, he said, was always kept under Mr. Nolan's bed. It will be remembered that young Nolan contended on the night of the murder that his father had struck him with a gun.

Martin Casey, who also arrived on the scene a few moments after the incident, was sworn, but he knew nothing further than that young Nolan had a hard fight ahead of him. The jury finally decided upon the following verdict:

"From the evidence, we the jury in this inquest, are convinced that the fatal blow received by John Nolan was inflicted by his son, James Nolan, with some blunt instrument and that his death was due to the said blow. (Signed) J. F. McAndrew, E. J. Neary, M. F. Norton, W. D. Evans, E. J. McHale and P. E. Jenkins."

There having been no witnesses to the affair it would seem that young Nolan has a hard fight ahead of him to prove that he acted in self-defense. It has not yet been discovered with what kind of a weapon the blow was inflicted.

BASE BALL NOTES.
The Philadelphia team will play Villa Nova college this afternoon.

Jack Walters, the old Scranton outfielder, will play right field at Providence this season.

John O'Neil, the Minnesota boy who did most of Scranton's catching last season, will catch for the Syracuse team this season.

E. G. Barrow, recently selected to manage the Toronto base ball team, has been elected president of the Eastern League, which will manage the Syracuse team.

Elmira now has seven players signed. Catcher Accorini was the last man to affix his name to a contract. The latter was a member of the Cincinnati Reds up to his going to Elmira. Manager Allen has three others for the team and there was no need of carrying the youngster.

The Worcester team of the Eastern league has a choice trio of ex-Atlantic leaguers on the payroll. Frank Ward, last year captain and second baseman of Lancaster, will play the center field; Ladd, last year with Paterson, is in center field; and Klopfe, who was the bright particular star of the Newark infield last season, is at short.

Getting the hard hitting young pitcher and utility man of the New York team, has been sold to the Chicago club of the Western league. Buck Ewing's move in disposing of this valuable young player is looked at rather anxiously by the other Giants and by the general public. Gettig, while at New York, made himself a big favorite and showed that he has the ability to make himself a name, both as a batsman and a fielder.

Clymer, of Wilkes-Barre, has now practically completed his team and it looks like a strong one. Nye, the third baseman of last year's Providence team, has been signed, and is expected to do great work this season. Last year he batted for the Barons, and was fourth among the league third basemen. Cliffswore will play first base, Burns, last year with Wilkes-Barre and Kansas City, second, and Clymer, short. Batter and Mearns will catch, and Nye, Stratton and Ketchum will constitute the outfield. Manager Clymer is after several pitchers and among those already landed is Arthur Gooch, who has been signed for the Barons, and who has now been released to them by Montreal.

THE GAILETY CLOSED.
May Not Be Opened Again This Season.

The Rents-Bantley three-day company, which began a business engagement at the Galety Monday, did not conclude its engagement. Manager Walsh decided to end his connection with the house and after the performance Tuesday night he directed that the house be closed. The company at once moved out its effects. A show billed for next week has been cancelled.

It has not been definitely decided whether or not the house will open under a new management for the remainder of the season, but it is probable that it will continue dark and during the summer months be subjected to extensive alterations and improvements.

ROBERT EDDY TERRIBLY HURT.
Miner in Johnson's Shaft Injured by Premature Blast.

Robert Eddy, of Blakely, a miner in the Johnson Coal company's mine at Priceburg, was terribly injured yesterday by a premature blast, and was taken to the Lackawanna hospital, where his recovery is despaired of.

He suffered a compound fracture of the skull and his head is badly battered and bruised besides. The accident happened about noon.

BUILDING STATISTICS.
They Will Be Presented to Councils Tonight by T. B. Jackson, the Building Inspector.

Building Inspector T. B. Jackson will present his report for the fiscal year ending April 1, at tonight's meeting of select council, and a most interesting report it is. The number of buildings permitted was 457 and from the issuance of these 11,648 was received in fees. The value of the brick and stone buildings erected was $198,740 and that of wooden buildings was $668,470, making a total valuation of $867,210, or nearly one million dollars.

The kinds of buildings erected were as follows: Barns, 27; double dwellings, 62; single dwellings, 262; churches, 6; schools, 3. A number of permits were granted, of course, for alterations only.

The Eighth ward leads all others in the value of buildings erected, with $121,315, and the Thirteenth comes a close second with $117,141. There were 61 permits granted residents of the First ward and the Seventeenth comes second in this respect, with 32 granted.

CLASS REUNION OF '99.
High School Grad's and Seniors Meet Tomorrow Night.

The members of the class of 1899 of the Scranton High school, of the present senior class, and a number of invited guests, are looking forward to tomorrow night's reunion of '99 at the Scranton Bicycle club's club house on Washington avenue.

Bauer's full orchestra will be in attendance, and dancing will be the order of the night. The affair will be a very informal one and its chief purpose is to bring together last year's graduates and refresh old school ties.

Four young ladies will act as patronesses. They are the Misses Anna and Grace Rose and Josephine Lees, who are High School alumnae, and Mrs. Pryor.

Cheaper Fares on the Lackawanna.
It is the intention of the Lackawanna railroad, as soon as the tariffs can be prepared and distributed, to sell round trip tickets between all stations except between Buffalo and New York and intermediate stations affected. These round trip fares will be a material reduction from double the one way fare and will be limited, going, to four days from date of sale, and returning to thirty days from date of sale, and will be good for continuous passage only in each direction. Agents first will be supplied with round trip fares between stations on their division and these will be followed by letterhead fares, thereby enabling them in a short time to sell round trip tickets between all stations.

Information concerning these rates may be secured from all ticket agents, and as soon as tariffs can be printed they will be posted in stations for inspection by the public.

WILL ATTEND CONVENTION.
Local Members of Knights of Malta Will Visit Reading.

A meeting was held last Saturday in Malta Temple by the representatives of the various Knights of Malta commanderies, and the local members of the Grand lodge, as a result of which a party of about fifteen will leave the city Monday night, May 6, to attend the state convention at Reading.

Among those who will go are Grand Sentinel of the Grand lodge, Evan M. Jones, W. S. Bartlett of the committee of appeals, and Deputy Grand Com-

SCUFFLE RESULTED IN SOPCZAK'S DEATH
JOHN KUSBA IS NOW UNDER ARREST.

The Men Were Employed at the Blast Furnace and Yesterday Engaged in a Scuffle Over an Iron Hook, Which Both Desired—Immediately After the Scuffle, Sopczak Fell Backward and Broke His Neck—He Was Married and Has a Wife and Five Children.

John Kusba, of 1012 Kirst court, is a prisoner at police headquarters, and Joseph Sopczak, of Stone avenue, is dead, as the result of a scuffle, in which the two men engaged yesterday morning at the blast furnace, where they were employed.

Coroner J. J. Roberts yesterday examined the remains and stated that the man's neck was broken. Kusba will be given a hearing in police court this morning by Mayor Moir.

The affair occurred while both men were at work at the pig beds, as they are called, in which the molten iron runs into forms, and Foreman Daniel Dempsey and several of the workmen were eye-witnesses of the entire affair.

Kusba and Sopczak were good friends, having had no previous quarrel, and having eaten their lunches together about ten minutes before the accident. In handling the heavy blocks of iron, long iron hooks are used, and the two workmen had a dispute over the procuring of one, both claiming it.

The affair occurred while both men were at work at the pig beds, as they are called, in which the molten iron runs into forms, and Foreman Daniel Dempsey and several of the workmen were eye-witnesses of the entire affair.

Kusba left the blast furnace and rapidly walked in the direction of his home Superintendent Lee, of the works, notified the police, and Sergeant Deiter and Patrolmen Lona Day and John Puester immediately left with the patrol wagon for the scene. When they arrived there they found that Kusba was gone and Patrolman Day and Puester started after him on foot. He had a big start, and the two officers went in pursuit at the top of their speed and on Mattes street, below River street, they came upon him. He did not offer the least resistance, however, and seemed unaware of the fact that Sopczak was dead. He was taken to the central police station in the patrol wagon.

At the blast furnace, when Sopczak fell, the general opinion was that it was due to heart failure or a sudden attack of apoplexy. Foreman Dempsey said to a Tribune man: "I saw the entire affair and there was not a blow struck in it. Neither did Kusba grapple him by the throat. He simply seized him by the shoulder and pushed him backward. Both men were good, honest, hard-working fellows. Kusba has only worked here about six months, but has never before had any trouble of any sort, and is well liked. Sopczak was a quiet, industrious man, and a good tempered."

The same story was told by others who were eye-witnesses of the quarrel. Coroner Roberts impelled a jury in the case and will hold an inquest. Kusba is twenty-eight years of age and unmarried. Sopczak was about thirty-three years old, and lived on Stone avenue. A wife and five children survive him. He was of medium height and slender physique, being far from a match for his burly antagonist.

POPULISTS' CONVENTION.
The Organization Takes the Name of Progressive People's Party.

Kansas City, April 18.—Middle-of-the-road Populists, at their mass meeting today, affected a permanent state organization and adopted a new name, the Progressive People's party. The name will be presented to the national convention for ratification. The platform demands a reduction of state and county salaries to correspond with the prices paid for products; denounces both the old parties for failure to enact initiative and referendum legislation, for the protection of corporation interests and for legislation for protection of national banks; condemns William Jennings Bryan and John B. Rockefeller for their alleged connections with trusts and especially condemns the Democratic state administration because of its "disregard for paramount interests of the people."

A full state ticket, headed by Richard Thomas, of Saline county, for governor, was named. Captain W. C. Allridge, a farmer of California, Mo., who was the favorite candidate for governor, declined the nomination. The convention elected twenty-five delegates to the Cincinnati convention and sixteen presidential electors.

BRIDGE HAS BEEN REMOVED.
Erie Company Now Has Possession of Canal at Lackawanna.

Honesdale, Pa., April 18.—The Erie Railroad company has secured another point in its legal battle with the Erie and Wyoming Valley company concerning the abandoned Delaware and Hudson canal. The Erie had filed a bond to take possession of that part of the canal beneath the railroad bridge at Lackawanna.

The Erie and Wyoming asked a stay in the proceedings in order to take the matter to the supreme court. Judge Purly refused the stay yesterday, and last night the Erie company removed their bridge and constructed the track on the bank of gravel with which the company had filled the canal beneath the bridge last fall.

This effectively blocks the proposed branch road from Hawley to Lackawanna to connect with the proposed line on the old canal from Lackawanna to Kingston, N. Y.
