Clark, Corporal William Saville, Private Thomas Reed; reception committee, Sergeant Eugene Biesecker, Sergeant Orle Colwell, Sergeant Chester Smith, Sergeant Bert Kellow, Sergeant Alfred Berry, Corporal John Lack, Corporal Arthur Weeks, Corporal Harry Kern; prompter, Private George Kern.

Spalding Bicycles.

Some of our competitors being unable to meet us in fair competition and hold their own, on account of the superior quality of the SPALDING bicycles, have circulated the report that the manufacture of the SPALDING BICYCLE would be discontinued after this season, and to assure the numerous riders and prospective buyers we publish the following letter from Mr. A. B. Barkman, manager of the Spalding Bicycle Department:
"Office, 53 Chambers St., New York.
"April 18, 1900.
"Messrs. Florey & Brooks, Scranton.
"Gentlemen: Replying to yours of April 13th, in which you state that a rumor is afloat by traveling men to the effect that the Spalding Bicycle will not be on the market another season, we would say that reports of this kind are simply absurd, and have no foundation of truth whatever. The same report has been circulated regarding the Crawford and several others controlled by the American Bicycle Co., that had nothing whatever in them. All bicycles of recognized merit and standing will be manufactured and their names kept prominently before the public, and you need have no fears regarding either the Spalding or Crawford bicycles for the future. In every case where this rumor comes to your notice you have our full authority to contradict it flatly.
"Yours very truly,
"A. B. BARKMAN."
We have sold more Spalding Bicycles this season than the combined sale of our competitors of all other makes of high grade wheels.
The prices on Spaldings are: For chain wheels, $35.00, $40.00, and $50.00. Chainless, $60.00 and $75.00.

George W. Okell Retires from the Contest for Sheriff.

To my friends and supporters for the nomination for sheriff:
Finding that I can not attend to my employment and at the same time run for office, and matters now exist, I hereby withdraw from the contest for sheriff in favor of my life-long friend, ex-Mayor John H. Fellows, and I shall be more than thankful to all my friends if they will do all they can to elect Mr. Fellows to procure the nomination for this office. With sincere thanks for what has already been done for me, and regretting that circumstances and conditions will not permit me to continue in the contest, I am sincerely yours,

FIRST BLOOD FOR THE LEXOW VICTIMS

MITCHELL, SEIDMAN AND WOELKERS EXONERATED.

Commonwealth Utterly Failed to Make Out a Case Against Them and a Verdict of Not Guilty Was Directed—H. C. Pease, owner of Slot Machines, on Trial—Gulldhot and Merlier Reiterate Their Story Before Judge Kelly.

Through some misadventure, not at present made clear, the last grand jury found indictments against Detective Ike Seidman, Constable Ira Mitchell and Constable Joseph Woelkers, charging them with larceny by receiving. The allegation was that they illegally carried away four slot machines and abstracted therefrom the nickels they contained. Justice, however, has prevailed, the mistake shown up, and the defendants acquitted. This all happened yesterday afternoon before Judge Swartz in the superior court room. The story, as the grand jury had it, was to the effect that the three officers, in September last visited the hotels of P. F. Durkin, Frank Callahan and Joseph Casseuse, of Lackawanna avenue, and Edward Horn, of Franklin avenue, took away a slot machine from each place, carried them to Mitchell's dining room, kept them there for three or four days, and that when they were returned they were devoid of whatever they had contained in the way of coin.

The stories of the witness, however, did not bear out the misdemeanor charged. Mr. Durkin said they came to his Grand Central hotel and they said they were there to confiscate the slot machines. Seidman drew an official looking paper from his pocket and started to read it, but was interrupted by Mr. Durkin with, "Never mind any warrant; take it away if you want to, I don't care." Mr. Durkin did not know whether the three men had any money in the machine at the time and was not about when the machine was returned four days later, so could not tell who brought it back.

CALLAHAN'S TESTIMONY.

Frank Callahan testified that the machine that was in his place was taken away by Seidman, Woelkers and some other man he did not know. Seidman offered to read a warrant, but Callahan told him he didn't care to hear it and made him take the machine if he cared to. He supposed it contained some nickels, but could not say positively that it did. He was away from the place when the machine was returned. It had a different look on it, but further than that it was just the same as when it was taken away, as far as he knew.

Joseph Casseuse testified that the three officers came to his place and announced that they were about to confiscate the slot machine in his bar room. Seidman offered to read a warrant but Casseuse said he didn't care to hear it, and addressing his bartender, said, "Go ahead, and let them take it." Four or five days later it was returned, but he happened to be away at the time and could not see whether it was the same. He did not know positively that there was any money in it when it was taken away.

The witness was asked if there was any money in the machine when it came back, but the court refused the question out of the ground that the defendants were not charged with loading the machine up with money before allowing it to be returned.

HORN DID NOT KNOW.

E. J. Horn could not tell who took the machine away as he was not in his saloon at the time. His bartender, John Keegan, however, testified that Mitchell, Woelkers and some third man, unknown to him, were the parties who offered to read a warrant and one of them announced that they had a warrant for the arrest of the machine and inquired for Mr. Horn, that they learned he was not in, they took the machine away.

P. F. Callahan and Frank Agli were called by the commonwealth but did not respond. Then the commonwealth rested. The defense at once moved for binding instructions on the ground that no larceny had been shown. Addressing Assistant Attorney General Soper and County Detective Leyshon, the prosecutor, Judge Swartz said: "Unless you can do better than that, we can't help you out. These defendants have not been shown to be guilty of any crime. These were gambling machines and from the evidence adduced here they confiscated them as they had a right to do." Then he directed the jury to find a verdict of not guilty.

"There is some chance for innocent men, after all," remarked Mr. Seragg, as he turned to tell the defendants they were free to go. The defendants' attorneys were John F. Seragg, Joseph O'Brien, Ralph L. Levy and R. J. Murray.

The Pease Cases.

Messrs. O'Brien and Seragg succeeded in having the seven cases against H. C. Pease called next before Judge Swartz. He was indicted as a result of the Lexow for maintaining slot machines at seven different saloons. Judge Archbald hesitated somewhat before consenting to having the cases called for court room No. 3, as he thought they ought to be tried before some local judge. "You know, there might be a motion for a new trial," he explained. After some argument it was decided to proceed with the four cases set down for yesterday, and if the witnesses can be gotten around, include the three cases which were down for last Thursday and had to be put over. With this understanding, the jury was sworn in all seven cases.

The jury was selected with the greatest care. It is made up as follows:

- Thomas Collins, laborer, Scranton.
- John J. Keegan, miner, Scranton.
- William Fehrick, laborer, Scranton.
- J. D. Muffan, conductor, Scranton.
- David S. Thomas, mason, Scranton.
- Richard Roberts, miner, Scranton.
- James F. Finson, merchant, Taylor.
- P. J. Feeley, janitor, Scranton.
- P. J. Nealis, conductor, Scranton.
- Martin Morrison, laborer, Carbondale.
- Roland D. Thomas, street commissioner, Scranton.
- Thomas R. Williams, gateman, Scranton.

Mr. Soper made an eloquent opening address, urging upon the jurors the importance of the duty they were entering upon, and charging them that the community would expect them to carry on the grand work so well and cour-

A WEST SCRANTON CANDIDATE.

Frank B. Reese Seeks the Nomination for Recorder of Deeds.

Herewith is presented the portrait of Frank B. Reese, of West Scranton, of which section he has been a resident since birth. He is a candidate for the Republican nomination for Recorder of Deeds, and was the first candidate in the field. Frank, as he is best known, received his education in the Scranton public schools, and later pursued a course in the English and bookkeeping departments at the State Normal school at Millersville, and was a graduate with the class of '91 at Wood's Business college, this city. He is an excellent penman, a splendid accountant, and has held a position as such at Storr's shaft of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company for the past eight years. These experiences fully qualify him for the responsible duties of the office of Recorder of Deeds. At the Millersville Normal school he developed exceptionally fine athletic ability, and on coming home he associated himself with the Young Men's Christian association, on whose athletic teams he has gained such a widespread acquaintance throughout the county. He was one of the promoters of all athletic contests, and worked hard in the interests of the young men who many times called him

MRS. J. H. GUNSTER DEAD.

Sudden Stroke of Apoplexy Resulted in Her Demise Yesterday Afternoon at 3 O'Clock.

Mrs. Lucina Gunster, wife of Joseph H. Gunster, of 402 Jefferson avenue, brother of the late Judge Frederick Gunster, died yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a sudden stroke of apoplexy being the cause of death. She was sixty-four years of age, and was subject to apoplectic attacks. Yesterday morning she seemed in the best of health, but about 2 o'clock in the afternoon suddenly received the attack. Dr. P. F. Gunster, the brother of her husband, was summoned, and Mrs. Gunster's five sons were notified of their mother's illness. Before any of them could reach the house, she was dead, the only member of the family present being Dr. Gunster.

DE ORO IN THE LEAD.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.
New York, April 19.—The first of the series of games in the pool match for the championship of the world was played tonight at Daly's, between Alfred De Oro and Jerome R. Keogh. De Oro scored 294 to 179 scored by Keogh. The match is 600 points up, 200 to be played each night.
