Desperate Quarrel Over a Young Woman - Harry Cluto Made a Desperate Attempt to Shoot.

There was a celebration in the "Risng Sun" block, on Seventh street, yeserday, which almost resulted in murer. But for the failure of Harry Cluto to load his revolver, William Capo probably would be the subject for a coroner's inquest today. Guests had assembled from all parts Lackawanna county to join in the elebration and beer flowed freely. Toward evening the participants became intoxicated. About 7 o'clock several of the men engaged in an altercation over the failure of one of their number to win the hand of the sister of Cluto

A rejected lover who blamed Cluto, wanted his friends to kill the brother, and they proceeded to accomplish that end by kicking and beating him. Cluto retaliated by biting a chunk out of Capo's arm. This enraged the other assailants, and to protect himself Cluto drew from his pocket a 38-calibre

Johnson's self-acting revolver. He snapped the hammer several times at Capo, but it was empty and fortunately did no harm. The crowd scattered in every direction, and way of the house. Meantime, a call was sent to police headquarters and several officers responded with the patrol wagon, but Patrolman Matthews. had already placed the man under ar-prisoner is about twenty-five years of age, and resides in Moosic. The affair created intense excitement and the rumor spread rapidly that a man had been shot. Hundreds of men and boys followed the patroiman with his prisoner to the station house. The house where the fight occurred is located at Scranton and Seventh streets. Several times the police have een called there to quell disturbances

A BEER GLASS DID IT.

John Yock Cuts George Glisk's Face In a Drunken Quarrel.

George Glisk and John Yock, of Lloyd street, engaged in a drunken brawl, Saturday night, in which a broken beer glass was the chief instrument used, as a result of which Glisk now has four teen stitches in his face, and Yock's countenance is ornamented with several pieces of court plaster and a few stitches. Glisk boards with Yock, and their quarrel arose out of the latter asking the former for a month's board due him. Glisk resented this and, taking it as a reflection on his honesty, hurled at him a beer glass, which struck him on the forehead. Yock then closed with him and striking him in the face with the broken glass, the jagged edges inflicted terrible cuts, from which the blood poured freely. He became unconscious, and Dr. J. B. COMBINING THE LIGHT COMPANIES

AMBITIOUS PLANS THAT CAPI-TALISTS HAVE FORMED.

Men Headed by Martin Maloney, of Philadelphia, Are Making a Strong Effort to Get Control of All the Electric Light Companies in the Lackawanna and Wyoming Valleys-Have Already Done Much to Bring About the Desired Combination of Interests.

A prominent capitalist of a neighboring town is authority for the statement that within a few years every town in this valley between Carbondale and Nanticoke will be lighted by one company, the headquarters of which will be in Scranton.

Martin Maloney, of Philadelphia, is the moving spirit of this great deal, and the combining of the three Scranton and the Dunmore companies is regarded as a forerunner of the plan to be followed in carrying it out. The company will be composed of New York and Philadelphia capitalists and several capitalists of this valley whose presence in the company will be necessary for the consummation of the deal

Several months ago this rumor was in circulation in Pittston and Wilkes-Barre financial circles. At that time s prominent Pittston man made an attempt to secure an option on the Citizen's Electric Illuminating company of Pittston, but President J. K. Ross refused to sell at the price offered. This is said to have been surprisingly large. The man who was after the option refused to tell who were associated with him in the deal, but in Pittston it was said that he represented Philadelphia capitalists.

PLAN TO BE FOLLOWED.

The failure to secure the Pittston plant caused the movement to be abandoned for the time being, but the announcement last week that application had been made in Harrisburg for a charter for an electric light company to be located in Pittston revived the old rumor and investigation revealed that the new company will either buy the old company or try to force it out of business.

Simultaneously with the announce ment of the application for a charter was the announcement that the present company wants the city of Pittston to grant them a ten-year contract when their present contract expires, which will be in a few months. It is said that if they get this contract the new company will give the price demanded by President Ross.

The men who are after the Pittston plant are said to be the men who have acquired the companies in this city and up the valley.

ANOTHER COMPANY.

The plan to be followed by them is to get the plants in all the large towns in the Wyoming and Lackawanna valleys, and then either buy the companies that own the plants in the smaller towns or invade their territory.

Already the combine has obtained a hold on the electric light business from Forest City to Nanticoke to an extent that few realize except those who have been closely watching the various moves made during the last two

HOTEL BUILDING DAMAGED. Bulging Necessitates the Use

Heavy Props for Braces. The front of the Morosini hotel building, at 31 Lackawanna avenue, is in danger of collapsing, and will have to be replaced. Saturday morning, it was discovered that it had bulged about five inches at the first line of bricks above the steel cross beam at the second floor. Heavy props were put in place to brace it temporarily.

What caused the disturbance has not as yet been definitely decided. This is one of the buildings erected on the "air lots" at that end of the avenue, That the ground there is wont to settle is evidenced by the fact that the pave and curb has changed very pereptibly from the level at which they were laid.

PRECAUTION WAS IN VAIN.

Peculiar Accident That Came of Stealing a Ride.

At the Dodge colliery there is a trestle crossing the Lackawanna tracks. which is only five feet above the top of the high box cars. One hundred feet to either side of this trestle a fringe of leather straps is suspended across each track at such a height that a man standing on the top of a box car will be touched by them and warned of the "low bridge" beyond, This precaution was all in vain, however, as far as John Coates was concerned. Yesterday afternoon, he was walking homeward when a freight train overtook him just above the Dodge colliery. It was moving slowly and he boarded it. By the time he had clambered to the top of the high box car on which he chose to ride, the warning overhead fringe had been passed. Just as he gained an erect position the car on which he stood passed beneath the trestle. He was looking in the wrong direction and as a consequence did not notice the tres-

PRIMARIES ON JUNE 11.

Custom of Holding Them Saturday Has Been Abandoned -- Will Nominate Candidate for Judge.

At a meeting of the Republican county committee, held on Saturday afternoon in the Price building, it was decided to hold the primaries on Monday. June 11, from 4 to 8 p. m. The convention is to be held on Thursday, June 14. Chairman A. A. Vosburg presided. After the meeting had been called to order, C. E. Robinson, of the Tenth ward, moved that the primaries be held on Saturday, June 9. Mayor James Moir amended this, fixing the date as Monday, June 11, and the hours from 4 to $ p. m. He explained his amendment by saying that Saturday was an inconvenient day for business men to come out and vote. Mr. Javne also spoke in favor of the amendment, which was unanimously adopted.

The next matter discussed was the question of candidates' assessments. This was brought up by John G. Mc-Askie, who stated that at last fall's primaries they were entirely too high. Mr. Ward, of the Second ward, suggested that they should be fixed pro rata by the chairman after the registrations were completed. Mr. Jayne finally moved that the matter be left in the hands of the executive committee, with power to fix the assessments candidates had registered. This motion was adopted, and it was then decided to fix the last day for registration at May 22. In the course of his remarks. Mr. Javne said that he believed the assessments were made high in the fall so as to make the Crawford county system odious, thing we are trying to prevent," he

FUNERAL OF MRS. J. H. GUNSTER Held Yesterday Afternoon from the Family Residence. The remains of the late Mrs. Lucinia Gunster, wife of Joseph H. Gunster, were yesterday afternoon borne to their last resting place in Forest Hill cemetery by her five sons and a nephew-Charles W., Henry, Walter, Arthur,

George and John H. Gunster. Brief funeral services were conducted at the family residence. 402 Jefferson avenue, at 3 o'clock in the presence of a hushed throng of the bereaved family's friends. Rev. Charles E. Robinson, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, led in prayer and gave a short eulogy of the dead woman's sterling Christian character. The quartette from the church, consisting of Messrs. Gippel and Morgan and Misses Black and Garagan, rendered several appropriate selections The funeral offerings, while lavish, were noticeably simple in design, consisting chiefly of large boquets of roses.

FOURTH DISTRICT CONVENTION. Return Judges Will Meet in Carbondale Today. The Republican return judges of the Pourth Legislative district will meet in Burke's hall, Carbondale, this afternoon, to go through the formality of declaring the result of Saturday's primaries. As there was only one candidate for each office, the committee, for the sake of economy, had polls opened in only a few of the districts. It is likely an amendment will be made to the Crawford county rules, providing that hereafter, in such an emergency, the committee can dispense with the primaries altogether. The candidates are: P. A. Philbin, of Archbald, for representative; W. C. Carrell, of Dunmore; J. W. Smith, of Blakely, and James E. Burr. of Carbondale, for state delegates.

BRIEF MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR

HONOR CONFERRED UPON DAN POWELL, OF DUNMORE.

Much Admiration Expressed by Lawyers Over the Manner in Which Judge Kelly Charged the Juries in His Maiden Cases as Judge-Master Car Builder Canfield Is Enjoying a Much Needed Rest-O. T. Corson One of the Most Popular Institute Instructors.

Dan Powell, former burgess of Dun nore, on Saturday rounded out his seventeenth year as the manager of the store at Dunmore, which was for years owned by O. S. Johnson, but is now the property of the Green Ridge Coal company. It is a long period for one of Mr. Powell's comparative youth to have held such an important and responsible position. It demonstrates hat he has been faithful and diligent in the services of his employers, Though his time has been largely taken up by the management of the mportant business he has charge of, he has taken the keen interest of a public spirited citizen in everything that pertains to the welfare of Dunmore, and for several years was honored by the people of that place with the office of burgess, which he filled in a most satisfactory manner. He was largely responsible for beginning a series of public improvements that are of great advantage to that borough.

In church affairs he has also been active and a good illustration of the esteem in which he is held by the mempers of the Methodist church, of which he is such a consistent member, was given last Friday when the conference at Owego honored him with a place on the delegation that will represent it at the general conference to be held at Chicago.

No institute instructor who has lectured in this city is more popular or succeeds better in impressing his hear with the force of what he says than is O. T. Corson, the tall, hand some and intellectual superintendent of public schools of Columbus, Ohio, who has appeared at the local teachers' in stitutes for the past three years, and who gives what are known as "common sense talks by a teacher to teachers." He has a ready fund of anecdote and the happy facility of drawing deep lessons from the stories he tells

He was talking last Tuesday about the manner in which school room happenings are either magnified or distorted by the child when it relates them at home, and was cautioning par ents against drawing any conclusions from a story told by a child of a school incident until the teacher's side is heard. As an illustration of this habit of children's distorting things he told the following quaintly humoreus story which he vouched for as being true,

"A little girl came home one day from school and told her mother of something that happened in school. She said that right in the middle of song which the children were singing the teacher had stopped them and pointing to Tommy Jones had asked Tommy, how many turnips are there in a bushel?" "The child said that Johnnie had anresumed. Thoughts of the teacher be ing insone flashed through the mother's brain, but she said nothing until she met the teacher on the street a few days afterwards. She told the child's story and asked her what on earth she meant by asking such a ridiculous question. The teacher burst out laughing and it was several minutes before she could say anything. "Why, Mrs. Blank," she said, "I was giving a singing lesson at the time and what I asked was not-how many turnips i a bushel-but how many beats in measure? "That's just about as straight a many children get things," said Mr Corson, when the laughter had sub

As soon a Mr. Canfield returns he will plunge into the matters awaiting his attention that have accumulated during his absence He is not through with the improvements he has in mind for the car shops by any means and in time expects to make them the most up-to-date in the

The test of a judge's all-round ability is the delivery of a charge. This fact caused a large attendance of attorneys at No. 2 during the latter days of last week when Judge John P. Kelly was submitting a case to a jury He proved a pleasant disappointment even to his most admiring friends You would think he had been doing nothing else all his life but charging juries," one enthusiastic admirer put it and this fairly expressed the genera sentiment

A characteristic strongly marked to Judge Kelly as an attorney was the thorough, serious, intense and exclusive way in which he attacked a case. This same applies to his method of trying a case. He is trying it every momen that it is before him, and nothing is permitted to distract his attention "A thing worth doing is from it. worth doing well" apparently is his method. This made him a success as a lawyer and as there is no question of his ability he can be counted upon to make for himself a most enviable reputation as a judge.
