SHOT BY HIGHWAYMEN.

Another Pittston Bridge Robbery. Lithuanian Merchant the Victim.

Pittston, April 24 .- Frank Spudis, unmarried, aged about 38 years, a Lith-uanian merchant of this city, was found on the west end of the ferry bridge in West Pittston at 5 o'clock this morning, in a half-conscious condition, his clothing soaked with blood from a bullet wound in the abdomen, and his pockets turned inside out. He had been held up by three men about 1 o'clock this morning, fatally shot and afterward robbed. The victim was taken to the Pittston hospital, where it was found that the bullet had entered near the abdomen, deflecting to the right, passing above the stomach, severing a large and important blood vein, and lodging near the back. The injury is a fatal one, and the man is hovering between life and death.

Spudis regained consciousness for a time and the story of the affair, as told by him, is as follows: On Monday night he went to Wilkes-Barre to attend to legal affairs, and started for home at a late hour. By mistake he took a Luzerne borough car, and learned his mistake upon arriving at Dorranceton. It was too late to get a West Pittston car, and he started to walk toward his boarding house, which is near the east end of the ferry bridge in Pittston. He arrived at the bridge shortly after 1 o'clock, and was about to start across when stopped by two men, who asked him for a clgar. He replied he had none and a few words passed between them, when a third man, who had been on the opposite side of the bridge, came over to where they were and as he drew near, pulled a revolver and shot Spudis. The latter fell to the sidewalk and one of the men sat on his head while the other two searched his clothing. A gold watch and $1.30 was all the reward they received for their foul crime. Spudis was then left lying along the sidewalk until 5 o'clock this morning, although several persons passed during the intervening hours, but they evidently thought him a drunken man and left him undisturbed. About 5 o'clock men on their way to work discovered the victim in a semi-conscious condition and had him taken care of.

There is no clue as to who were the perpetrators of the crime, but Spudis says they were English-speaking men. The scene of the crime is between the center of Pittston and West Pittston and the spot on which the man was shot is within seventy-five yards of several houses. Nothing whatever was known of the crime until it was discovered this morning. It was on this bridge that a man was thought to have been thrown over into the river in the dead of night about three months ago, screams for help followed by a loud splash having been heard by people in the vicinity at the time and footprints having been seen in the snow on the Special to the Scranton Tribune. Stroudsburg, April 24.-Lightning struck the big brewery that is being built here with the assistance of Scranton capital. The damage done was not great. FIRST PRACTICE GAME.

Manager Burnham's Men Lined Up Yesterday Afternoon.

The first real live practice of the base ball season took place yesterday afternoon, when Manager Burnham's Pligrims lined up against a collection of amateur players, and for six consecutive innings played fast interesting ball. The game was hardly what might be called a close one, nor nright it be termed a pitcher's battle, as at the end of the sixth inning the score stood 25-1, and whereas the Yanigans had made but three solitary hit off Miller and Kennedy. the two twirlers worked by Manager Burnham, the regulars had been hitting both "Kid" Posner and Julius Posner, who succeeded him in the box, with surprising regularity.

While the game could hardly be taken as a fair criterion of the ability of Manager Burnham's nine, still it must be said that the men showed up exceedingly well.

The infielders played a fast, snapppy game, handling grounders, flys and liners with equal case. None of the outfielders had much work to do. Fer-guson, the left fielder and "Old Boy" Scheffler led at the bat, with four hits

The veteran Scheffler looks to be in the very pink of condition and gamboled around right field like a colt. Shortstop O'Brien is a lively young-ster, and Center Fielder Dick Knox ran the bases cleverly. McIntyre, the first baseman, is by far the biggest man on the team, and

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review

Wall Street Review.

New York, April 24.—There were indications of some large operations on the Stock exchange and the market seemed to be under manipulation for the purpose of facilitating them. Yesterday's late show of strength touted a response in the London market this morning and prices of Americans were well advanced before the opening nere. London bought quite treely in this market after trading commenced but it quickly became manifest that yesterday's rally had been due to the demand from the about interest. After the opening spart buying quickly fell off and prices fell back while the market became very dull. The pool operations in Missouri Facific, which were a prominent factor in yesterday's rally came to a stop again and that stock fell back. The room traders turned to the bear side and worked for a reaction. The vigorous attack on Baltimore & Ohio and Reading first preferred caused declines of 3% and 3½c respectively and broke the whole list quite sharply. But at the decline very large buying developed again for both accounts, all of the stocks being absorbed apparently with 10 desire to advance prices. A very characteristic movement in Sugar indicated a periodical punishment to the shorts in the stocks. After a preliminary drive which carried the price to 101½, the stock suddenly shot up in the last hour to 110½.
