WORK RESUMED AT MT. PLEAS-ANT COLLIERY.

Many of the Strikers Are Back in Their Old Places-Make Up of the Board for Today-Ravine Mine at Pittston Has Been Purchased by the Pennsylvania Coal Company. Importation of American Locomotives Into Germany-Boring for Zinc at Espy, Columbia County.

After two weeks of idleness, the Mt. Pleasant colliery was started up yesterday morning with many of the striking employes back in their old places. The company has not granted any concessions, and all who resumed work did so at the old terms.

ment with the strikers, but they were When notices were not successful. posted that all who desired to return to work could do so yesterday there was a rush for the various places. Several of the more impulsive men who still hold out, gathered at the entrance to the mine property and caused a little trouble.

Several employes, among whom were Alfred Payne and a man named Lynch, were accused by their fellow workmen of alding the company to secure workmen to operate the mines, and the two men were roughly handled by some of the strikers. The trouble soon subsided, however, and the troublesome ones left the premises after the colliery started up.

It is understood that the places of those who yet remain idle will be filled by others unless the men return to work Monday morning. Mr. Payne denied that he was guilty as accused, and asked The Tribune to publish a statement to that effect.

Will It Be Built?

At last the New York State Railroad commissioners have granted promotors of the Delaware Valley & Kingston-independent coaler-the right to construct the projected line along the bed of the old Delaware & Hudson Canal from Lackawaxen, Pa., to Kingston, N. Y. Much speculation is going on in coal trade circles, however, as to whether or not the anthracite combination's fight ends here. It is given out that President Fowler of the Ontario & Western, one of the strongest opponents of the new line. said the case would be carried to the

understood, is firm in the belief that the decision of that body will reverse the one rendered by the railroad commissioners. In the immediate future, therefore, some very interesting things are likely to develop in connection with Public sentiment is strongly in favor of its construction and operation. It would shorten the distance between the coal fields and tidewater at Kingston, N. Y., to 81 miles, thus enabling coal to be laid down in the markets at a cost much below that now ruling. What does this mean? It means that fuel can be sold to consumers at prices considerably lower than those now prevailing. Little wonder, therefore, that sentiment generally is in favor of the new road. When it is borne in mind that the Delaware Valley & Kingston, if built and in op-eration, would get the bulk of the Erie's coal traffic, thus placing the latter road in a very bad way, the anthracite combination has very good grounds there is no doubt, but what will be the outcome hobody can foretell .-Philadelphia Stockholder.

Boring for Zinc.

Several Scranton capitalists have a gang of sinkers at work putting down an eight by eight shaft on the edge of a mountain spur two miles north of Espy, Columbia county, and from still a sincere and flattering complidevelopments already apparent, ore showing fifty per cent, of zinc will soon be mined there.

George Watson, who was formerly a foreman at the West Ridge colliery, is superintending the work of sinking. The two Scranton men most largely interested in the enterprise are Thomas Sprague, formerly superintendent of the Mt. Pleasant mine and Attorney William D. Boyer.

supreme court. This gentleman, it is vania Coal Co. This water may be drained down to the Ravine and pumped out of the shaft.

The company has also purchased an additional tract of land from J. E. Patterson, whose land adjoins the Ravine, and this will give the company access to a large area of coal and will enable it to reach coal land already held by it near the river.

It is not the intention of the company to hoist coal out of the Ravine shaft, but will have the coal from the Ravine workings transferred underground to No. 10 shaft and hoisted from there to the breaker.

American Locomotives.

In a recent report to the state de partment Consul Frank H. Mason at Berlin, relates that trials and tests of the efficiency of American locomotives are now taking place in Germany.

"By reason of their great boiler space and the extent of their heating surface, American locomotives are for its fight to prevent construction of much more economical than those now in use on German railways," writes That interests identified with the Mr. Mason, "It is very evident, howcombination will continue their fight ever." continues Mr. Mason, "that like other American machines that have been tested by the Germans, the locomotives have been brought over to he studied and used as models to be imitated by German builders and that no idea of obtaining a supply of lo comotives built in the United States is entertained for a moment. Though not profitable to American builders, ment is bestowed in the acknowledg-ment of American superiority in the respect. It also illustrates the importance of protecting as far as pos-sible by German patents, every American invention or improvement sold for use in Germany."

This and That.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

A very enthusiastic meeting of the Athletic association was held Wednesday at the close of the session. Vice-President Har ingron provided. The chief business brought before the memthe session. Vice-President Har inston previded. The chief business brought before the members was the acceptance of certain amondments which were made to the constitution by a committee appointed for that puro set. The gist of the amendments is that no persy, not a nember of the school in good standing, will be allowed to take part in any of the athletic contents participated in by any of the school teams. Moreover, that when any person holding office or position under the Athletic association discontinues his connection with the school, it will be considered equivalent to his resignation. Principal Grant gave a very interesting and instructive talk as regards to the basis on which the affairs of the foot ball team, especially, should be controlled. He also stated that in a few week he would submit a plan for the consideration of the association whereby the foot ball team and all athletic sports might be carried on in a more business-like manner. Professor Grant's remarks received the hearty applause of the members. The hase ball question was also discussed, and it was finally decided to call out the players, organize a team and accept the challenge issued by Keystone Academy for May 15 on the Academy's grounds.

The Literary society held their meeting yes-emy for May 15 on the Academy's grounds.

The Literary society held their meeting yesterday at the close of school, but with a much smaller number of atudents present than attended last week. Whether the pro-Boer meeting had any effect upon the enthusiasm of the students is not known, but it is earnestly hoped that it did not. Nevertheless one very important piece of business was transacted, which ought, and no doubt will, have a tendency to increase the interest of the students in the literary society. The transaction was to the effect that in the coming meeting a prize of a book, coasting $2 will be given to any student who, in the estimation of certain appointed judges delivers the best extemporaneous speech. This will undoubtedly be very interesting and every student who has any ability as an orator should do his and her best to win the prize. The one sad defect with yesterday's meeting was the fact that the programme committee bad no programme to present to the society, because they were unable to secure participants on account of last week's vacation.

The first practice of the lately organized base ball team took place yesterday on the grounds of No. 35 school. A large number of enthusiastic students were on the grounds and played with such vim and vigor as to plainly show that the High School will not be backward on the field. Although some exceptionally fine playing was done by a number of students, yet it will be at least a few days before Captain Tropp will be at least a few days before Captain Tropp will be able to assign positions to the different players. Manager Kann was on the field, and encouraged the players not only by his presence, but aged the players not only by his presence, by is expected that practicing will take place on the grounds previously stated every afternoon and on Saturday mornings.
