ABOUT THE SILK MILL.

Do the people of Carbondale want the silk weaving mill? That is the question that will be decided tonight in the council chambers. Those who have been conducting the canvass for subscriptions have not succeeded in raising an amount sufficient to take up the bonds and stock of the concern, so the men who have interested themseives principally in the project have decided to call a meeting of the citizens tonight.

The project must receive the material support of every one, and at the meeting all who care to subscribe, no matter how small an amount, it will be thankfully received and help to swell the fund. The Empire company has received a proposition from the city of Norfolk, Va. The southern city anxious to secure the mill and is awaiting the decision of the Carbondale people. They must have an anearly this week, so the decision of those who attend tonight's meeting will be final. There is no good reason why Carbondale should not have the new mill. The proposition of the Empire company is a liberal one. They do not ask any one to give anything but instead offer to bring an industry here that will pay out in wages over a hundred thousand dollars a year. All they ask is that the people of this city invest their idle money in stock and bonds that are well secured and pay 8 and 6 per cent. interest, respec-

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

It is with genuine regret that the of a distressing accident to little Leon Gruver, of Waymart, reached us yesterday. The little one is the son of Mr. and Mrs. U. V. Gruver, who conduct the popular hostelry at Waymart. In company with two companions he visited the blacksmith shop owned by a man named Moylan. A pattern saw attracted the attention of the boys and in playing with it Leon's left hand was caught. The cry of agony caused the saw lacerating the boy's hand brought Mr. Moylan to the scene. He carried the lad to his home and the frightened parents hastily dispatched a messenger for Dr. Coursen. An examination revealed the fact that the thumb and first two fingers had received the worst cuts. The first finger was so badly torn that the doctor decided to amputate it, but the parents objected to this, saying that they would wait until Monday before allowing the digit to be amputated.

The nerve displayed by the little fellow is something remarkable considering his age, which is but 5 years. Soon after the injury he remarked: "Gee Whiz! It hurts awful, but there's no use crying over it." He is an exceptionally bright child and the pride of Waymart and his many friends will be pleased to learn that his fingers may be saved.

PECKVILLE.

The Wilson Fire company's fair and trades display glosed on Saturday evening. There was a large crowd present. Bonn's band gave one of their delightful concerts. The contest for a gold watch between Miss Katie Gallagher, of West Peckville, and Miss sainesbury, of Hyde Park, Scranton, was won by Miss Gollagher, who turned in $131.90. Miss Sainesbury col-fect. $25.10. Miss Cassie Rodway turned in for a previous contest for a watch the sum of $43.75. An oak stand chanced off was won by Mrs. Henry A beautiful doily was won by Aivey Hammond. Ticket No. 1415 won the Scranton bicycle. Mr. H. P. Johns of Forest City, was the lucky holder of the ticket. Mr. Vankleeck, of Jermyn, held ticket No. 1159, which drew the solid gold watch. Mr. Edward Thompson drew the door prize, sisting of two pounds of coffee. Taken altogether the fair has been a most successful one and will give the firemen a chance to pay off their indebtedness and make several much needed improvements to their fire fighting apparatus. The Wilsons are more than pleased with the patronage of the Peckville people, but feel deeply in-debted for the generous patronage accorded them by the people up and down the valley. The fire laddles are high in their praise of the faithful corps of ladies who, by their untiring efforts, accomplished so much for the success of the enterprise.

V. P. FIELD SPORTS.

One Record Broken and Another Equalled.

Philadelphia, April 29.-Myer Prinstein, champion broad jumper of Syrause university, yesterday afternoon made himself champion broad jumper of the world, by defeating the former champion, A. C. Kraenzlein, of the University of Pennsylvania, and breaking the latter's previous record. His jump was 24 feet 714 inches, while Kraenzlein's former one was 24 feet Kraenzlein and Prinstein were the Scranton. ly two contestants in this feature of which proved to be the greatest ever held by the University of Pennsylvania since the establishing of the event six years ago. The day was an ideal one for sports, and the representatives of over one hundred eastern colleges, academies and preparatory schools entered, about 450 athletes taking part.

This occasion marked the first meetng of Princeton and Pennsylvania in outdoor athletics since 1894, the two big universities meeting in the field events and the two-mile relay championship. Duffy, the Georgetown sprinter, led in the 100 yards dash, equaling the record of 9 4-5, and was closely followed by E. G. Minnehan, of Georgetown, while M. Goodman, of Pennsylvania, beat out H. G. Lee, of Syracuse, by one foot for third position. In the one-mile relay championship the fast boys from Chicago university won, making splendid time, it being only one second slower than the world's record, which stands at 3.22 3-5.

Princeton easily won the two-mile reiay college championship from Penn-sylvania, Columbia, the other competitor, being out of the race from the start. The time made by the men from Old Nassau was 8.05, five seconds faster than any two-mile relay race ever run on Franklin field.

In the field events, Sheldon, the ex-Yale weight man, won the shot put and discus throw, defeating McCracken and Hare, of Pennsylvania. McCracken, the former collegiate champion hammer thrower, was defeated by Boynton, of Cornell, the Pennsylvania man not doing nearly as good work as he did in practice during the week. Baxter, of Pennsylvania, won the high jump, and Coleman, of Princeton, the high vault.

THEATRICAL.

By far the best work that either Daniel L writer of plays and the other as an interpreter delighted audiences. It was an Irish play on new lines; an Irish play without a buffoon or a villain; an Irish play without a single hackneyed race joke; an Irish play that, so far as its illustrations of character went, might as well have been English, French or Datteh; a simple comedy of laughter and tears, revolving around the rich humanity and adroit charity of the kindly and wify village priest.

Dan Hart has in this play linked his exceptional gifts as a writer of polished dialogue tional gifts as a writer of polished dialogue with a command over the heart interest of his audience which is a new feature of his development as a play-wright; and it is no more than just to Mr. Sully to say that us the interpreter of Mr. Hart's conception be has perfected a most pleasing and artistic impersonation, which is fit

At that time he had just passed 21 years of age and upon the advice of friends he later abando the heavier roles of tragedy to appear in mantic comedy, for which he was physically better fitted. Mr. Young's "Hamlet" was one of the most poetic interpretations of the part that the stage has seen, and in the different cities in which it was exhibited it won most flattering commendation.

For three years Mr. Young has been a mem-ber of Ada Rehan's company, but this year has again essayed the stellar role and will appear in the Lyccum on Wednesday evening in a new historical drama well suited to his temperament called "Lord Byron."
