RECEPTION TO DR. GIFFIN.

Elm Park Church Members Express Joy Over His Return.

A reception was last night tendered Rev. C. M. Giffin, pastor of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal church, at the rectory on Linden street, by the official members of the church and their wives. The reception was given in honor of the re-appointment of Dr. Giffin to the Elm Park church, at the recent conference in Owego. This is his fifth year here and will conclude his term.

Last night was the occasion of many wishes of hearty good will and very complimentary remarks regarding Dr. Giffin's work, since he has been pastor of the Elm Park church. Remarks were made by W. H. Peck, G. F. Reynolds, J. G. Shepherd, Chas. Schlager, M. S. Larkin, Mr. Surdam and others. A general air of good fellowship and good cheer prevailed throughout the entire assembly, and the occasion was a most enjoyable one. One gentleman quoted Mark Twain's story of the small boy who crawled into a hoghead, which had been filled with molasses, and then wished for "a thousand tongues to do justice to the barrel." The speaker, in a like manner, wished for a thousand tongues to do justice to his subject, in speaking of the works wrought by Dr. Giffin, and of the love and reverence felt for him by the congregation. All of the speakers united in wishing the pastor good speed in his work, and in pledging him their earnest support.

Dr. Giffin, in response, expressed himself as highly gratified by the evidences of regard shown him, and seemed particularly pleased at the general spirit of joy and good fellowship which marked the occasion. After the speech-making all present joined in the singing of "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds." The company broke up a short while later.

BICYCLE CLUB SMOKER.

Specially Organized Orchestra Rendered a Musical Programme.

The members of the Scranton Bicycle club gave one of their delightfully informal smokes last evening in their club rooms, on North Washington avenue. A very large number were present and listened to the enjoyable music furnished by a specially organized orchestra, under the leadership of John Turn.

Thomas Miles rendered a difficult cornet solo, John Turn gave a trombone solo and Theodore Bauschmann played a flute solo. Probably the most enjoyable selections played by the orchestra were a number taken from Victor Herbert's "The Amer." At the conclusion of the musical programme, refreshments were served by Caterer Hanley.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following members: C. E. Pryor, G. A. Millet, W. S. Wolf, P. J. Morris, J. Turn and H. T. Kaye.

MORRIS POSNER ARRESTED.

Charged with Stealing Thread from Adolf Marcus.

Morris Posner was arraigned before Alderman Howe yesterday on a charge of larceny, preferred by Adolf Marcus, of Penn avenue. The latter keeps a wholesale house next the Hotel Windsor and received a consignment of cases of thread on Saturday last. The store being closed, the goods were left outside until the evening, when it was discovered that some of them were missing.

Posner was suspected on pretty good grounds of being the guilty party, and was accordingly arrested yesterday by Detective Mohr. Some of the thread was found on his person. He was held in $300 for his appearance in court.

Y., were last night united in marriage in this city by Rev. E. H. Fitzgibbon. Dr. J. Miss Fitzpatrick was maid of honor, and Charles E. Kingsbury, of this city, best man. Among those from this city who were present were Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kingsbury, parents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Simpson, H. W. Kingsbury and C. E. Kingsbury. Dr. and Mrs. Kingsbury will reside at 35 Second avenue, New York.

DISSOLUTION OF A CLOTHING FIRM.

Mr. James Tighe to Retire from the Firm of Corcoran, O'Brien & Tighe.

The clothing firm of Corcoran, O'Brien & Tighe, at 408 Lackawanna avenue, has been dissolved, Mr. James A. Tighe retiring from the business. Hereafter the firm will be known as Corcoran & O'Brien. On Wednesday next the store will be closed, in order to arrange the stock for a big liquidation sale, which will begin on Thursday. The firm must have money to settle up affairs with the retiring partner, and to this end will inaugurate a great bargain sale. Every article of clothing, hats and furnishings will be marked down to sacrificing prices, and as the stock contains all this Spring's styles, it will afford a great opportunity to secure the newest fashions for little money. The sale begins next Thursday morning, and no doubt large numbers will take advantage of it.

FORMAL ACTION OF THE SCHOOL BOARD

EXPRESSES REGRET AT DEATH OF D. I. PHILLIPS.

President Jayne in Explaining the Object of the Meeting Referred to the Deceased as One of the Most Progressive and Valuable Members of the Board—Eulogies Pronounced by Superintendent Howell and John Gibbons—Text of the Resolutions That Were Adopted.

The members of the board of control, at a special meeting held last night, decided to close the city schools today at 12 o'clock, out of respect to the memory of Daniel I. Phillips, the late school controller from the Fifth ward. All of the members were present, except Mr. Jennings, when the meeting was called to order.

President Jayne explained the object of the meeting held to take special action on the death of Mr. Phillips, whom he referred to as having been "one of the most progressive and valuable members of the board." He then appointed the following committee on resolutions: E. E. Evans, P. J. Langan, John Gibbons, A. B. Eynon and Peter Neuls. The committee retired and later presented the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

THE RESOLUTIONS.

Whereas, We, the members of the Scranton Board of Control, have learned of the sad and unexpected death of Mr. D. I. Phillips, late member of the board from the Fifth ward; and whereas, We have assembled in special session to express our sorrow for his loss and our appreciation of his character and of his services to the school district now, therefore, We do hereby resolve, that we have lost a valuable member and one whose place will be most difficult, if not impossible, to fill. Although a member of the board but a little more than two years, he has been one of its most industrious, energetic and able members. His intellectual force, his sturdy manhood and his determination in the cause of right, his honest, upright, fearless, and self-sacrificing character, his interest in the sake of advancing the cause of public education, his friendship to the teachers and pupils alike and his beloved by all who came in contact with him.

Resolved, That in his death the board has lost a most efficient member and the school system of this city an earnest, able and friendly member, who has served on the most important committees and was always prompt and active in the discharge of his duties. During the past year he was chairman of the teachers' committee, and his zeal and ability in that position were recognized by his appointment as the head of another important committee at the last re-organization of the board to the head of another important committee. Further recognition of his fitness to manage the school affairs of the district. As one of the board of twenty-one, it might be said that every member has his personal friend. A man of such marked character and strong convictions was necessarily in opposition at times to measures advocated by the majority. But his sense of justice and fairness was such that no personal feeling was allowed to bias his official acts, and his courtesy and kindness of heart were such that no feeling of resentment could be felt even by those who might be for the time being in opposition to him. As a citizen, his character was above reproach and everywhere he was respected and admired. His general is the feeling that the community has suffered a great loss in his death. We, therefore, desire especially to extend our sympathy to his bereaved family. An exemplary and devoted husband, a kind, affectionate father, his absence from the home circle will cause a great sorrow to his friends and associates, can only partially comprehend. Very few men were more widely known or had more friends than D. I. Phillips, in the social circle, in the business world and in public affairs. And now that he will be seen no more in any of these walks of life, we shall more than ever appreciate his character and abilities.

Resolved, That we extend to his stricken family and relatives our heartfelt sympathy in their hour of sorrow and bereavement.

Resolved, That this board extend the funeral of our late lamented member in a body.

Resolved, That, out of respect to his memory, the public schools be closed at 12 o'clock noon on Tuesday, and that the flags at all buildings be displayed at half-mast.

Resolved, That for a period of thirty days, the book occupied by Mr. Phillips in the board rooms, be draped in mourning.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes and that a copy of the same, attested by the business world and in public affairs, be forwarded to the family of our departed fellow member.

PROF. HOWELL'S REMARKS.

After the adoption of the report, Superintendent Howell, who has been a life long friend of Mr. Phillips', spoke feelingly of his death, referring to the marked influence he had upon his own life. Mr. Howell's voice broke and he was noticeably deeply moved as he finished his remarks. He was followed by Mr. Gibbons, who told briefly of some evidences of the deceased man's charity that had come under his personal observation.

The members of the board, and any ex-members who may desire to attend the funeral, will meet at city hall at 1:15 this afternoon, where carriages will be waiting for them.

There promises to be a most interesting fight over the election of Mr. Phillips' successor, who will be chosen by the board. The act of 1874, under which the present school board is transacting business, provides that in case of any vacancy in any of the said offices by death, resignation or otherwise, such vacancy shall be forthwith filled by said board of control for the remainder of the school year.

successor, who must be chosen at once, will have almost a year to serve. Mr. Phillips was a member of what has been termed the "loyal eleven" faction of the board, and his death reduces that faction from eleven to ten members, so that honors between the two portions of the board are now even.

This is what will cause the interesting fight above referred to, for which ever one of the two factions that succeeds in winning over a man from the other side to insure the election of the new member will constitute the power that will be for the coming year. One candidate has already put in an appearance. This is William Morgan, a well known merchant of West Scranton. Just whether Mr. Morgan is a Jayne man or a Jennings man is not announced.

REVOLVER WENT OFF.

Thomas Dougherty and Martin McGrail Had Narrow Escapes.

Two South Scranton young men, Thomas Dougherty and Martin McGrail, had very narrow escapes from serious injury on Sunday night. The boys were standing at the corner of Hickey and Cedar avenues and a young fellow was showing his companion an old triggerless revolver he had in his possession.

He supposed of course that it "wasn't loaded," but it was and it suddenly went off, the bullet taking the top of McGrail's head and striking Dougherty in the abdomen. It fortunately struck a button and made only a slight abrasion on the flesh. Had it entered the abdomen serious consequences might have resulted. The young men's injuries were dressed by Dr. Manly.

AFTER MANY WEARY YEARS OF WAITING

Paving of Providence Road and North Main Avenue Begun.

Councilmen Dug First Dirt.

The Girard Construction company, of Philadelphia, yesterday began work on the North Main avenue and Providence road pavement, and in a few months the residents of North Scranton will see the realization of their long-cherished hope.

Quite a crowd collected yesterday morning at Providence road and Court street, where operations were commenced. Among those present were: Select Councilmen W. M. Finn and Philip Ross, and Councilmen David Reese and Morris V. Morris, of the First and Second wards, all of whom were largely instrumental in securing the passage of the ordinance by council.

The first work done was the turning up of a bit of ground with a shovel, and each of the four councilmen took a turn at this, after which the opening of the street was commenced with a plow. The pave to be laid will be of bituminous concrete. The stone crusher and concrete mixer has arrived and is now on the ground.

About fifty men were employed yesterday, but in a few days over 150 will be put at work to hasten the construction. City Engineer Phillips stated yesterday that he believed the pavement would be entirely finished from Court street to the city line in five months' time, or by Oct. 1 next.

Arthur L. Shrive is the company's general manager here, and he has established an office in the Auditorium building, from where he will direct the work of construction. Providence road and North Main avenue will be closed in a few days as far as the corners, but that the work may be pushed rapidly.

Simultaneous with the work of paving the Scranton Railway company will lay a double track from Court street to the corners, where the street is not now double tracked.

THIRD DEGREE WORKED.

Wilkes-Barre Knights of Columbus Visit Local Council.

About fifty members of the Wilkes-Barre council, Knights of Columbus, came to this city last night and assisted in completing the third degree of the organization at the headquarters of a new club house on North Washington avenue.

The visitors were met at the station by a committee from the local council, who escorted them to the club house, where nearly 200 of the local members were assembled. At the conclusion of the degree work refreshments were served.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune does not assume responsibility for opinions here expressed.]

Charity at Home.

Editor of The Tribune. Sir: Prompt assistance will put a stop right here in Scranton to one of the saddest dramas that can happen in a civilized community. In the most prosperous of this city a poor but worthy family are in danger, threatened with a most dire and distressing misfortune, of having everything they own seized and themselves thrown on the streets.

This victim of persistent misfortune is James Bowen, living at 621 Dix court with a wife sick from indolent food, and a little baby. In September, 1899, Mr. Bowen was struck by a flying piece of iron in the repair shops of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad. Two operations were necessary to save his life and another will soon have to be resorted to. His family have subsisted by the kindness of others, for his total earnings since the accident have not exceeded ten or twelve dollars. On account of his inability to pay rent, owing to $25, his landlord has levied on his goods and given him notice to quit by May 5.

HONORS FOR HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS

CARL ZEIGLER WILL BE VALEDICTORIAN.

He Has Been Taking the Latin Scientific Course—Wayland Gates, of the Classical Course, Will Be Salutatorian—Norwood Pitcher Is Third and Misses Anna Russ and Mabel Sloat Are Tied for Fourth Place—Victor Thayer Is Sixth and Miss Isabella Graves.

The Senior class of the High school was yesterday detained after school, and an announcement then made to the members of the allying of the honors for this year. Carl Zeigler, of the Latin scientific course, will be valedictorian; Wayland Gates, of the classical course, comes in a very close second and will be salutatorian.

Norwood Pitcher, another member of the classical course, is third, and the Misses Anna Russ and Mabel Sloat, of the Latin scientific course, are tied for fourth place with the same average. Victor Thayer, of the English course, is sixth, and Miss Isabella Graves, of the commercial course, has the remaining honor.

The competition has been very close all through the course, and the first five winners of honors were all considered very likely candidates for the valedictory. This class will number 153 and is the largest that ever graduated from the Scranton High school, the English and commercial courses being especially large.

PRETTY EVENING WEDDING.

Miss Bertha E. Conger and Ralph E. Ward United.

One of the most brilliant of recent weddings in this city was that on last evening, of Miss Bertha E. Conger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Conger, of East Market street, to Ralph E. Ward, of Diamond avenue, which took place in the Ashbury Methodist Episcopal church. The pastor, Rev. W. G. Simpson, performed the ceremony, the bride being given away by her father.

She wore a very pretty gown of white liberty gauze over white satin, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Miss Bernice C. Conger, her sister, attended her as maid of honor, and was dressed in an organdie gown over white tulle, and carried pink roses. Simon B. Ward, brother of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Alexander Brydon, H. B. Andrews, Leonard Knapp and Charles Dawson.

At exactly 8 o'clock the bridal party entered the church and marched down the main aisle to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Ella Y. Rooney. As a recessional Miss Rooney played Mendelssohn's march. The edifice was prettily decorated with palms and a profusion of Easter lilies. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, Mrs. D. L. Watkins, Miss Bessie Jones, Miss Ella Rooney and Miss Allie Von Storch assisted in receiving the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward left on the midnight train for New York city, from where they will visit Washington and other places of interest in the south. The bride is an attractive brunette, and is one of the popular young women of this city. Mr. Ward is also well and favorably known.

HAINES IN HARD LUCK.

Twice Has the Cup of Happiness Been Dashed from His Lips.

Either David Haines is regrettably impoverished or a walking contradiction. David is a farmer lad from Spring Brook, Aug. 17, 1888, he came to this city with Louisa Swingle, a 24-year-old widow and applied for a marriage license. His father anticipated this and when he and his bride-in-law appeared in Clerk Daniels' office, they were confronted with a telegram from Haines' father, forbidding the granting of the license. David maintained he was twenty-two and beyond his father's control, but the clerk had the father's telegram, declaring that the boy was only nineteen and the clerk chose to believe the father. Soon after they left the office the father came in and inquired for the elopers. Learning that they had parted he presumed that they would try again at Wilkes-Barre, and hurrying to a telephone he called up the Luzerne clerk of the courts and warned him not to issue a license to his son if he should apply, as he was not of age.

Sure enough, the elopers applied at Wilkes-Barre, but again they were doomed to disappointment. The clerk refused to issue a license to them. As their funds were about exhausted, they were compelled to return home.

Yesterday, David appeared again at Clerk Daniels' office as an applicant for permission to wed. Deputy Clerk Elmer Daniels, who was presiding over the marriage license docket, recognized David, but the bride was beyond his ken. He tried to identify her as the widow-bride-nominated of two years before, but failed to trace any resemblance, so far as his memory served him, and at length he was forced to surmise that it was some other.

His surmise proved correct. She gave her name as Maggie Dyson, of Lackawanna township, and when it came to the question of age she confessed that she was only 23. When told that she must secure the consent of a parent or guardian she stated she was an orphan and had no guardian. Deputy Clerk Daniels suggested that she have a guardian appointed. They inquired what this would cost and being told that the sum total of expenses would be $7.50 their faces dropped. Some sighs, a "guess we'll wait," and they departed, a decidedly downcast pair. Miss Dyson said she would be twenty-one June 16 next.
