The World of Sport.

THE WORK of the Scranton baseball team for the past week has been of the glib-edge order, and four straight victories in the record. It is too early in the season to gain a very clear idea of the strength of the league nines, but from a comparison of the work already done Burnham's men show up very strong.

In the two games with Elmira they made the New Yorkers look like an aggregation of amateurs, and by winning from the strong Allentown and Wilkes-Barre teams increased their stock immensely in the eyes of local fans. Comparing the team with last year's nine, the present Scranton representatives appear very much stronger.

The chief trouble with last year's team was the fact that the... could not bat. In that respect, this year's nine is surely not at fault. In the course of the week they batted fiercely every pitcher who faced them, and their batting did not consist of singles alone, but included a generous sprinkling of long drives, home runs, three-baggers and two-baggers all being made.

Ferguson, Knox and Sheffer constitute a hard-hitting, fast fielding outfield and during the week batted at a terrific rate, while of the infielders, Doherty and McIntyre hit the ball hard, and the two O'Briens also did their share with the willow.

The men are fast, givory players and fight hard for every game, as was evidenced in Thursday's match at Allentown, when the unfortunate little occurrence happened, as a result of which Kennedy and Seasonal Baseman O'Brien were put out of the game.

Every man on the team played his game during the week, Toft and Miller catching in splendid style, and the entire fielding staff doing good work.

Another game is played at Wilkes-Barre today and then two games with Elmira, after which Scranton comes home to play Wilkes-Barre. At least one of the Elmira games ought to be won.

Base Ball Brevities. PITCHER JACK KEENAN, last year with Scranton, left for Syracuse Tuesday, and will pitch for that city's Eastern league team.

Ladd, the big fellow who played left field for Paterson last year and is now playing the same position at Newark, is batting the ball at a terrific rate. Wednesday he had a single, a double, a triple, and a home run, and Thursday in a seven inning game, two doubles and a three bagger were his share.

The work of "Rube" Waddell, who last year at Louisville, with a second rate team back of him, won nearly every game he pitched, has proved a big disappointment so far at Pittsburgh, with a fast fielding, terrific hitting aggregation of players back of him, as he has only won one of the games he has pitched. It is probable the conditions of the weather that his work have with the young fellow's arm, and when it begins to grow a bit sultry he will probably have the batsmen all guessing again, as he did last summer.

The Pittsburg team seems to have been having troubles of its own at the first base position. Now that Cooley has been signed, however, the difficulty has been done away with and the hard-hitting ex-quaker will prove a tower of strength to the Pirate infield.

In Beaumont, Manager Fleischman, of Reading, seems to have acquired a star of the first magnitude, if his work during the past week can be taken as a fair criterion. He has fielded his position well and batted the ball at a rate which will land him near the top of the league batsmen.

"Kid" Cross, brother of Monte Cross, of Philadelphia, is putting up a fine game at shortstop for Reading.

Dick Hanley is playing a star center field for Detroit. In the American league, and it oughtn't to be long before the hard-hitting ex-collegian is back again in the big league ranks.

Wahsh, the Mayfield boy, who plays left field of the Georgetown university ball team, in Wednesday's game with the Carlisle Indians hit four singles and a home run.

Shaw and Ryan, both of whom formerly caught, at the same time, on the Syracuse Eastern league team, are now with Detroit. Shaw is catching and Ryan holds down first base.

Ralph Seybold is making a strong bid for the American league home run hitting honors and has three or four to his credit already. Tuesday, at Buffalo, he sent the ball over the fence, and drove two others which cleared the fence, but were just inside the foul line.

"Ducky" Holmes has been signed by Detroit to play left field.

Schreckengost, a man with the unpronounceable name, who last year caught for Cleveland and St. Louis, is now one of the Buffalo backstops.

Dick Knox, of the local team, seems to be a batter of the Buck Freeman order, inasmuch as with him it is generally an extra base drive or nothing. In his first three league games he made five hits, of which four were two-baggers.
