Suits That Are the Outgrowth of the Guernsey Trial.

J. W. Guernsey, the Washington avenue music dealer, M. T. Keller, carriage manufacturer, and Charles Bennett, one of the latter's employees, were yesterday arrested and arraigned before Alderman Myron Kasson, charged by M. W. Guernsey with conspiracy and with the preventing of witnesses from appearing at the recent trial in common pleas court in which M. W. Guernsey figured as prosecutor and J. W. Guernsey as defendant, and in which the jury gave their verdict for the latter. The defendants were held in $1,000 bail on each charge. Stephen Jones, of Marion street, becoming their bondsman.

The Three Defendants are Accused of Having Conspired to Deceive the Defendant of the Use of the Testimony of Witnesses Subpoenaed to Appear at the Trial and Give Evidence Which Would Strengthen His Side of the Case.

The other information charges them with having directly attempted to prevent Miss Josephine Bennett and other witnesses from appearing at the trial. The warrants were issued Thursday and served yesterday by Constable Ira Mitchell. The case in common pleas was one in which M. W. Guernsey brought suit for three years' wages which he claimed were due him from J. W. Guernsey, and was tried before Judge Savidge. The verdict was in favor of the defendant, J. W. Guernsey.

WHY THE FLAG WAS LOWERED.

High Wind of Tuesday Morning Alone Responsible.

Inquiry upon the part of The Tribune has satisfied it beyond the shadow of a doubt that Thomas Williams, superintendent of mines for the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, and Foreman J. F. Green, of the Continental colliery, had nothing whatever to do with taking down of the flag from above the Continental breaker on Tuesday.

As stated in yesterday's Tribune, the flag was not taken down from unpatriotic motives, but solely to prevent it being torn by the high wind which prevailed on that morning. The flag is owned by the workmen at the colliery and was taken down by two of their number without solicitation or suggestion from any of the officials. At the request of The Tribune Mr. Williams has made the following statement with reference to the matter:

"I know nothing about the taking down of the flag, absolutely nothing. I was at the colliery that morning for the reason that some of the drivers had quit work because it was Dewey Day. While there I had a conversation with Foreman Green about the affairs of the colliery, but nothing whatever was said concerning the flag. With several other officials of the company I went from the Continental to the Hamilton and when we noticed that the latter colliery had noticed that the flag was being taken down. There was a high wind at the time and the flag was being snapped about a good deal. I presumed at the time that this was the reason it was being lowered, and inquired made by me after this absurd story was circulated, proved that my surmise was correct."

Those who know Foreman Green realize that he is too good a soldier and too big a man to place the flag in his presence. He says: "I was born under that flag a good many years ago and I have carried a gun in its defense. I would not hesitate to take that gun down again if there was any need to protect our flag from insult. No one thought of offering disrespect to it. If they had, I would be one of the first to resent it."

CALENDARS FOR 1901.

The Rapid Strides Made in Artistic Printing Shows Some Remarkably Fine Productions.

Too early to think of calendars? It may surprise you to know that some enterprising concerns place their orders a year and sometimes eighteen months ahead and in these days when the year is so long, the Tribune has secured exclusive control of a line of over 185 samples of some of the finest calendars ever produced, and it is the man who places the first order that secures the best design, as after an order is given that particular sample is removed from the list and will be given to no other concern in Scranton. The line is made up of choice black and white designs on white board; half-tone prints mounted on gray photo card—something new—the most unique calendar of the season; forty odd lithograph designs in color; and a number of designs with new artistic design borders, embossed and cut out—cheap lithographs, but the productions of America's best artists; sixty reproductions of oil and water-color painting, in the original colors; and a number of designs, every subject selected especially for our work. Many of the pictures are heavily gold embossed, and all must be seen to be appreciated. The three-color process printing is done by the Chicago Colotype company, which name is a guarantee of the best color printing in the world.

FIFTEEN WARRANTS ISSUED YESTERDAY

FORTY-THREE PROSECUTIONS NOW UNDER WAY.

Peter Karoly, of Capouse Avenue; Raine Bros. of the Boulevard and F. F. Gerrity of the Bank Hotel Are Brought in for Selling Liquor Illegally—A Dozen Warrants Against Speak-Easy Keepers in the Hands of Alderman Howe—Mr. Vaughan Discharged.

A dozen more warrants were issued by the crusaders from Alderman Howe's office yesterday and three from Alderman Fuller's office, making a total of forty-three prosecutions now instituted. And this is only the beginning.

Peter Karoly, of 522 Capouse avenue, charged with selling without a license; Charles and John Raine, Boulevard road, selling without a license, selling on Sunday, to a minor; P. F. Gerrity, 428 Lackawanna avenue, selling on Sunday, were the three additional parties against whom prosecutions were begun in Alderman Fuller's court.

Karoly gave bail in the sum of $300 before Alderman DeLoay, of the Seventh ward, John Malloy becoming his bondsman.

The Raines entered bail in the sum of $500 in each of three cases, Robert Raine qualifying as their bondsman before Alderman Edward Fidler, of the First ward.

Robert Wilson, of 2019 Boulevard, is prosecuting the Raines. They are parties whose application for a license was defeated through the efforts of the members of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church. They built a large hotel building on the boulevard, near Capouse, at the northern end of the city, and proceeded to prepare to do a hotel and stabling business for the accommodation, as they alleged, of the many farmers who pass that way in their trips to and from the city.

APPLICATION REFUSED.

The Presbyterian church had established a mission school and chapel on the same road, seven hundred feet to the south, and on this account and the further fact that the residents of the locality were against the establishment of a hotel there, the court refused the license application.

Robert Wilson, of 2019 Boulevard avenue, who was in charge of the mission, and who is acting as the agent for the men's union in gathering evidence for these prosecutions, alleges that the Raine's have not only disregarded the court's refusal to issue them a license, but have sold it Sunday and to a minor. G. J. Van Buskirk and C. W. McLain, of Madisonville, and W. H. Trieble, of Elmhurst, will, it is alleged, give testimony to substantiate these allegations.

Gerrity's arrest was the result of a hearing held in the case against D. W. Vaughan. By some mistake the agents of the union got Mr. Vaughan's place at 428 Lackawanna avenue confused with that of Mr. Gerrity, which is adjacent. Mr. Vaughan was charged with having sold liquor on Sunday, April 22, at the Bank Hotel. The Bank Hotel is the name of Mr. Gerrity's place.

When Mr. Vaughan came in yesterday in response to the warrant, he demanded a hearing and, after proving that it was a case of mistaken identity, was discharged. A warrant was forthwith made out against Mr. Gerrity and he came in at 5 o'clock with his attorney, M. A. McGinley. After hearing the nature of the charge, he waived a hearing and entered bail for his appearance at court, T. F. McCann, of 1711 Cedar avenue, qualifying as his bondsman.

WILL HE SERVED TODAY.

The twelve warrants issued from Alderman Howe's office will be served today. It is understood they are all directed against speak-easy keepers.

J. S. McCabe, of McCabe & O'Connor, proprietors of the St. Cloud, acting on the advice of his attorney, Hon. C. P. O'Malley, refrained from entering bail and demanded a hearing. It took place at 4 o'clock in Alderman Fuller's court.

Attorneys F. L. Hitchcock and Fred E. Beers, representing the Green Ridge Men's union, called Agent Robert Wilson and his assistant, George West, a painter and paper hanger, of Rainey street, First ward, and they told of having bought and drank two glasses of beer at the St. Cloud, Sunday, March 25, at 9:50 p. m. West bought it at the bar and carried it to the dining room, where he and Wilson drank some of it. There were a number of persons in the place at the time, some at the bar, some in the dining room and others at the lunch counter. Neither of them could remember having seen McCabe about the place. West incidentally remarked something of having been there on another Sunday, but Colonel Hitchcock told him he need not relate anything concerning that visit.

Mr. O'Malley asked for the discharge of his client on the ground that the law presumes that a man acts legally and there was nothing to show that Mr. McCabe had been guilty of any illegal act. Alderman Fuller was disposed to dismiss the motion, but Mr. O'Malley asked him to defer his ruling till he could produce the decisions supporting his ground. The case was postponed.

DEATH OF G. W. FRITZ.

Was on a Trout Fishing Expedition at Parkson, Sullivan County, N. Y.—A Prominent Citizen.

G. W. Fritz, one of the oldest and best known business men of the city, died yesterday very suddenly at Parkson, Sullivan county, N. Y., a small country hamlet, four miles from Livingston Manor. Heart failure was the cause of death.

It was Mr. Fritz' custom to go each year on a trout fishing excursion to Sullivan county, and on Tuesday he left the city on his usual aunt, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. James Fitch, of Mulberry street.

They went to Parkson, where the trout streams are good, and enjoyed themselves immensely. Thursday night Mr. Fritz, who was not feeling well and a physician was sent for. He seemed to secure some relief from the medicines administered and yesterday morning said he was feeling nicely.

About 9:30 he began to sink and in less than half an hour he was dead. The remains were brought to this city on the train on the New York, Ontario and Western which reached here at 4:30 yesterday afternoon. They were taken to the home, 529 Madison avenue, where the funeral will be held 2:30 Monday afternoon, with interment in Dunmore cemetery.

Mr. Fritz was born in Springville, Susquehanna county, in 1838, and in 1856 came to this city and opened a country store. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church, of Parkson, and in 1859 he moved to 410 Lackawanna avenue, where he has been ever since. He was one of the best known and most substantial merchants of the city. He was a prominent member of G. W. Drake and Episcopate clubs, and the Peter Williamson lodge of Masons. Mr. Fritz is survived by his wife, one son, John A. Fritz, and a sister, Miss Rozella G. Fritz.
