CARBONDALE.

DEATH OF MRS. HADGINS.

Mrs. Edward Hadgins, of Gordon avenue, died of paralysis yesterday morning at 8 n'clock. She was fifty years old and was born and had lived all her life in this city. Deceased was woman of many fine qualities. A husband and eight children are among the immediate survivors. There are five sons and three daughters, Thomas, Edward, Daniel, Patrick and James, and Teresa, Katio and Marie: also by her mother, Mrs. Katherins Coollean, and two sisters, Mrs. Ellen Bradley and Mrs. Katherine Lannon.

AFTER A SITE.

Here is a good opportunity for some property owner along the street car A site for the proposed silk mill . has not yet been decided upon and the trustees are casting about for one. They require about 75,000 square feet, and prefer it near the street car line. This specification shows that the street cars have not damaged property values very much.

ANNUAL CONVENTION.

That of the Lackawanna County Sunday School Association Held at Jermyn.

The annual convention of the Lackawanna County Sunday School associ-ation was held in the Methodist Episcopal church at Jermyn yesterday. addition to the large number of dele-gates from various schools, there were a number of people from all over the county who are interested in the good work, present, and at all three sesthe church was welll filled and much interest was taken in the proceedings. The officers of the association expressed their pleasure in the enthusiasm shown and there is no doubt the delegates and teachers will return to their good work tomorrow with fresh strength and vigor as a result of the many helpful things imparted to them by the able speakers and interesting papers read at the convention. The morning session, which was presided over by M. D. Lathrope, of Carbondale, commenced at 10 o'clock with devotional service by Rev. J. C. Cook, of Jermyn. Miss Mandane Rymer greeted the delegates very cordially and said that the convention would be mutually beneficial both to the visitors and the people of Jermyn. Her greeting was a hearty one. Miss Carrie Geary, of Carbondale, the corresponding secretary of the association, made an able response to the greeting. In the absence of Mr. Wolfe. who was to have spoken on "A Suc-cessful Superintendent," his place was taken by Rev. Mr. Whalen, of Carbondale, whose remarks were most interesting. Rev. Charles Roads, D. D. general secretary of the state association, spoke on "House to House Visithe Scranton Central Labor union, will tation," and told of the good that had een accomplished by this method in Philadelphia. Pittsburg and other cities in the state. He also replied to sev eral questions a dressed by the dele-gates on the subject. Miss Geary reported having received reports from 135 schools, which were attended by ,500 scholars, and during the past year 252 of the scholars have been convert-

He suggested having a Decision Day, as observed in Philadelphia Sunday schools, when 5,000 scolars had been converted on Decision Day. He be-Heved that if such a system of evangelistic work was adopted in all Sunday schools many that now stray away would be retained.

"Tenchers' Meetings, Shall We Have Them?" was assigned to L. F. Bower of Scranton, who warmly advocated them and gave some useful suggestions as to the manner of conducting them. The afternoon session was brought to a close by "Next Sunday's Lesson Taught to Primary Class." The lesson being taught a class of small children from the public schools by Mrs. Barnes.

The concluding session was held at half-past seven o'clock in the evening, and was presided over by Dr. Fletcher. The proceedings were opened by a service of song and prayer by Rev. Mr. Ford, of Green Ridge.

M. D. Lathrone gave a very earnest and thoughtful talk on the "Supreme Purpose of Sunday School Teaching, in which he appealed to the teacher. for a profound realization of the sublime work of training of young lives The supreme purpose was the redemption of soul and redemption of life, to accomplish this was necessary to have God's power and he appealed to all teachers to ask earnestly for power and they would more fully realize the responsibility of the great work they were engaged in.

Mr. Wolf spoke on "A Successful Superintendent," in which he depicted several unsuccessful types, among which were the easy-going, the selfsatisfied and fault-finding ones. He also had a word against the talkative superintendent, who tries to explain everything, who was self-concelted, and was not ready to adopt any new ideas unless they emanated from his own brain, and he concluded by giving picture of the successful one, who, he said, was a helpful superintendent, who never felt that his work was
