may cost a little more per can, but it insures perfect, wholesome food. In fact, it is more economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and never spoils the food.

Cleveland's Baking Powder used always in making the biscuit and cake saves both health and money.

CLEVELAND BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

You cannot, if you value good health, afford to use cheap, low-grade, alum baking powders. They are apt to spoil the food; they do endanger the health. All physicians will tell you that alum in food is poisonous.

A combination to be known as the American Sheet Metal Company is being organized at Pittsburgh with a capital of $60,000,000. The combine takes in 29 of the 35 plants throughout the country. It will include plants manufacturing corrugated iron and cornice work. Headquarters of the company will be at Canton. An attempt was made last year to organize a consolidation of corrugating companies, and a company was chartered under the laws of New Jersey, known as the National Metallic Roofing company. It was then intended to capitalize at $12,000,000, but the deal fell through.

It is stated that copper in large quantities has been found on the farms of William and Orest Hilgert in Paradise Valley, Monroe county. Prospecting has been going on for some months. The mine is located about three miles from Cresco and is in a slope of rock John Hilgert, the discoverer, stands in a week or two with the mine worth a million dollars.

JUDGES HAND DOWN A DOZEN OPINIONS

A sufficient affidavit of defense in the case of Mary Monroe against Finn & Phillips was discharged by Judge Archbald.

In the damage suit of A. E. Betterly against the city of Scranton the report of Referee J. E. Ross was set aside by Judge Archbald and a new trial awarded. This is the second time the report has been set aside. The judge thinks the best way to go about the matter is to start anew from the beginning.

The plaintiff sues for damages resulting from a defective sewer in front of his property on Bromley avenue. In the first report the referee allowed $1,700 to the plaintiff. This was set aside and a new report ordered. In his second report the referee allows $1,014. "Court again overrules his findings and this time orders a new trial. The referee insisted on allowing the plaintiff damages that resulted from his house having been constructed so that the cellar floor is lower than the sewer. The court holds that the only damages the plaintiff is entitled to is that resulted directly from the break in the sewer. The claim for damages for sickness that resulted to the plaintiff's wife and son from the break must be more conclusively proven to be chargeable against neglect on the part of the city before recovery can be had, the court holds. In a nutshell, the relative grade of the property and the sewer do not enter into the case, and the plaintiff must confine his claim to damages directly traceable to the break in the sewer."

WILLIAMS CASE.

In an opinion from the court in banc, written by Judge Archbald, the petition of Margaret Williams, to have a legacy left her by her father made payable forthwith out of the real estate held by her step-mother, was granted. The decedent, Morgan Williams, late of Scranton, left all his property to his wife, conditioned that she pay $200 to his daughter, who is a resident of Washington. The legacy was to be paid at the convenience of the widow. The latter alleges that the property is worth only $350; that she has no other means, and that it is therefore not convenient for her to pay the legacy. Court ruled that the widow can not be the sole judge of her "convenience," and as the decedent has been dead five years it is time the legacy was paid.

In Equity Court.

Judge Archbald took up the equity list at the reopening of court after the noon recess. The cases of Allen W. Williams and others against James F. Green and others; W. H. Courtwright and others against C. M. Thompson, Jr.; Northern Coal and Iron company and the Delaware and Hudson Canal company, lesses, against the city of Scranton; J. D. Hollister against the Scranton poor district, were set down for trial.

PROTECT FEDERAL BUILDING.

Engineer Bartl Has Been Engaged to Strengthen the Foundation. In his periodical underground explorations, Engineer Edmund Bartl discovered that the old mine workings of the Pine Brook colliery under the Federal building were in danger of collapse, and a report to that effect made to Postmaster E. H. Ripple was transmitted to the supervising architect's department at Washington. An engineer was sent on to make an inspection, and in company with Mr. Bartl went into the workings. The result is that Mr. Bartl is now at work erecting thirty-four piers and strengthening the old pillars in the workings underneath the building. The contract was executed last Tuesday, and the work at once commenced. The job will cost in the neighborhood of $5,000.

THE AERIAL PERFORMANCE.

They Are One of the Novel Features of the Circus.

To very many persons the aerial performances are the most attractive feature of the circus. In recognition of the fact that the management of the Great Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' Consolidated Shows has secured the greatest and most conspicuous amount of mid-air talent ever seen in any circus, and included the most original, graceful and daring male and female artists in that hazardous line to be found in Europe, Asia and America. The long flights, dives, leaps, evolutions, catches and other phenomenal feats of these celebrities are extremely exciting and universally fascinating.
