GAVE AWAY WINNING NUMBER

Attorney Butler is telling a pretty the candy-man and tobacconist, has the family and relatives of the debeen giving tickets on a gold watch with every purchase made at his store and during the past week Mr. Butler got several of the tickets. Saturday, while in his office in the municipal building, he passed the tickets to Wil-Ham Killeen, and jokingly told him to go up and get the gold watch. Monday, when the drawing was held, ticket No. 1173 took the timepiece and the ticket of that number happened to be among those the genial attorney gave to Killeen.

TRACTION COMPANY IMPROVES.

The paying between the rails of the Traction company has been extended from Eighth avenue to Hotel Anthracite. The old pavement was very uneven, and the re-laid portion is a marked improvement. A new switch is being put in on upper Belmont street, and within a few weeks all repairs incident to the narrowing of the guage will have been completed.

CAUSE OF THE THUNDER.

The tearing up of the pavement on Belmont street has revealed the cause of the peculiar rumbling heard when heavily loaded vehicles pass over the roadway. It will be remembered that the pavement was laid in the early winter after frost had penetrated the earth to a considerable depth and now a space of several inches may be seen in places between the stratum of concrete and the solid ground below.

COAL BARONS DEFEATED.

Scranton Players Down Clymer's Men by Score of 7 to 5-Locals Won by Bunching Hits.

Manager Burnham and his nine of ball players yesterday re-appeared before Scranton spectators after their trip, coming home covered with honor and with numerous laurels adorning their heads.

"Mercy Derby Day" Clymer and his band of Wilkes-Barre noblemen were the antagonists, and proved foemen worthy indeed of our steel. They were defeated, vanquished by a score of 7 to 5, but they made just twice as many hits as Scranton did, but were unfortunate in bunching them. Baron Schmidt officiated in the Wilkes-Barre box and was very ably caught by another nobleman named Messitt. Baron Schmidt pitched a fairly good game, the Scranton sluggers being unable to assail him with anything like the ferocity with which they have punished the curves of the other league pitchers they have faced Young Milligan. Scranton's new southpaw pitcher, twirled for the locals. The weather, which was exceedingly cold, troubled him considerably. but he pitched a better game than the score would show, as he kept the hits pretty well scattered, was very steady and struck out six men. Kervin, Manager Burnham's other southpaw pitcher, played left field in the absence of Ferguson, who was indisposed and played a rattling good game. Only one ball was hit into his territory and that was a tremendous drive in the sixth inning from Burns' bat, on which he made a beautiful catch. At the bat baser in the sixth sending in two runs On the Wilkes-Barre Side Baron Ketchem distinguished himself by some fine catches and by good stick work, while Charle Nyce, the third baseman, ontributed four very solid singles to his side's hit column. One feature of the game which must ot be omitted was the work of Mr. Harkins, who handled the indicator. So frightened was he by the glares and scowls of Buron Messitt and the above mentioned Baron "Mercy Derby Day" Clymer that his judgment on strikes and balls was invariably off and nearly every case poor Mr. Milligan had the worst of it. One atrocious built of his was the calling of a strike on "Old Boy" Sheffler when that venerable gentleman swung at the ball and a foul whose click could be heard in the grand stand. Clymer certainly left no opportunities pass for bully-ragging the umpire and was given the merry ha ha on several occasions by the fair-sized crowd which had turned out in spite of the disagreeable weather.

Wilkes-Barre was blanked in the first inning and Scranton then made a lucky opening by scoring three runs on a base on balls to J. J. O'Brien, a single by Sheffler, Nicol's muff of on a base on balls to J. J. O'Brien, a single by Sheffler, Nicol's muff of Knox's fly and a wild pitch by Schmidt.

two men on base. Kervin stepped to the bat and after due deliberation selected one of the Herr Baron Schmidt's curves and dropped it into deep left field for three bases, bringing in two runs. Scranton's last run was scored in the seventh. "Pirate" O'Brien went to first base on Kelly the Edwardsville amateur who has supplanted Colliflower at first base, juggling his grounder, and Catcher Toft next appeared at the plate. The thin young backstop has not the reputation of being a particularly vicious patsman but he banged the sphere into left field for three bags in a way which would do credit to a Lajole or Delehanty and O'Brien crossed the plate with Scranton's last run.

Wilkes-Barre opened up on Milligan in the fourth, when Clymer and Nyce each singled, advanced a base on Burns' grounding out to McIntyre, and scored on Messitt hitting between first and second. In the sixth Cymer and Nyce singled and Clymer scored on Messitt's safe drive. Kelly then banged the ball to Doherty, who, picking it up, touched Nyce as he came from second and then sent it to "Pirate" O'Brien in time to catch Mes-sitt and complete a double play. In the eighth after two men were out Nyce's single, Burns' two-bagger and singles by Messitt and Kelly brought in two more runs. In the ninth inning Nicol began the proceedings by going out, pitcher to first. The hard-hitting Ketchem contributed his third hit. Scott Stratton struck out and Clymer singled. Nyce made his fourth hit of the game and the bases were full. It was all up to Burns, but he sent a high foul in the air on which Doherty made a fine catch and the

The much discussed question as to what nick name should be given the Scranton team has no been solved and the papers all over the circuit are referring to the local boys by the proud term of "The Champions," and every Scranton rooter hopes that the home aggregation will continue to play an article of ball which will enable them to retain the name. For a while the crowd yesterday imagined that it was Clymer and not Nicol that was playing or was Clymer and not Neol that was playing center field and when the latter muffed Knox's fly in the first inning, there were numerous grouns of "Oh, Mercy!" "What's the matter, Mercy!" etc. On Nicols' second appearance at the plate he was greeted with an ovation of inha's and verbal housets until some one called "That isn't Clymer," when the noise ceased.
