A letter from the Dickson estate was read, in which it was stated that water had been detected down Delaware street, and that if the same was not remedied, an order legal action would be begun against the borough for damages to the Dickson estate. A motion was made by Mr. Jones to have the street commissioner open the natural water course and allow the water to flow down Delaware street, and await proceedings. This was passed, and instructions were given the street commissioner to begin the work at once.

The six arc lights which the Scranton Railway committee recently proposed to put on North Blakely street, providing the borough would see to the cleaning of the same, were referred to council, and instructions given that the clusters now in use be repaired and kept in order by the railway company.

Street Commissioner O'Donnell was instructed to make several improvements on the streets, a plank bridge to be built in front of the Neptune Fire company's hose house and an arc light to be placed at St. Anthony's church. It was decided to have eight lockers constructed in the borough building for coats, etc., at a cost of $18. The report of the chief of police was read and ordered filed. Various bills were then ordered paid, after which council adjourned.
