THIEVES LOCATED.

Pittston Police Believe They Have Made an Important Capture.

Pittston, May 14.—The police of this city believe they have located the thieves who robbed Mrs. Flanigan's Valley house, at the Pittston Junction, last week. On Friday, Edward Wells, a young man employed on Evans Bros., Coston farm, and Edward Barrett, who has been employed on the Valley road, having come here from St. Louis to take the place of striking railroaders several years ago, were arrested on suspicion. On Wednesday the police found a bottle similar to those stolen from the hotel. He explained his possession of the bottle by saying he found it. The two men were given a hearing before Alderman Loftus, and Wells was committed to jail, while Barrett was discharged.

Today Wells made a confession before Chief Loftus, Alderman Loftus, Mrs. Flanigan and Thomas W. Evans. He says Barrett gave him the bottle of wine and said he (Barrett) and another man had robbed the Valley house, and told him to keep mum. The police are inclined to believe Wells' story. Barrett was re-arrested today and committed to jail. The police are now searching for the other man mentioned in the confession.

Little, an attorney for the county commissioners, brought before the court the matter of furnishing the probatory's account in the case, and presented a Philadelphia firm for furnishing the same, the price being $1,275. After consideration, the court made the following order: "Whereas it is made the duty of the judges of the court of common pleas to ascertain if the records, books, indexes and files of the respective offices are kept as the law contemplates, and whereas we, the said judges, have this 14th day of May, 1900, made such examination of the offices of the probatory and clerk of the Orphans' court and find that the records, books, indexes and files thereof are not kept as the law contemplates, we do therefore order and direct that the proper officers of the county shall procure to be erected suitable and convenient file cases for the files of the said two courts and shelves for the dockets thereof, and also that the sheriff's deed books be re-indexed at the expense of the county."

STRANGE CASE OF A CROSS WOMAN AT STARRUCCA.

Hon. James T. DuBois is again honored—A Ukase from Mr. Gordon. Agitation in the Battisnake Market—Rare Foresight—Twins but a Dream—A Batch of Little Locals. Topics Discussed in a Line or So.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, May 12.—Queer people in this weary old world! Starrucca woman, wife of a well-to-do farmer, got mad at her husband, ten years ago, because he lost some money she brought him, went to bed, saying she would never get up or do a stroke of work, and has been there ever since. She felt tired, three years ago, started to go to the breakfast table, fell and broke her ankle, and has not left the sheets since. She is as cross as a bear, scolds everything an inch high, keeps a broom handle to pound the patient daughter who waits on her, and knows every bit of gossip and scandal going on within thirty miles.

WHOLLY UNPREMEDITATED.

Ever notice that a hen is always successful in the end? Did you ever notice the poor chap who has taken his position in the first picture in the almanac, with the fish and sheep, and scorpions and bulls and twins all around him? Did you notice that he was naked and that his stomach appeared empty? Well, his wife is housecleaning!

Young men having experience in paying attention to young ladies assert that it is easier to drive with one hand than it is to row with one hand.

Talk about despair! You ought to see the face of the boy when the circus tent blows down just as he has paid for his ticket.

There are too many lawyers in this country.—Exchange. Oh, no, my boy; there aren't too many lawyers. There aren't half enough cheats, that is all.

"RARE FORESIGHT."

Census Enumerator Whitney, of Susquehanna's Second ward, proposes to make things as easy as possible for himself. In his correspondence to numerous papers hereabouts, he inserts the following: "When ladies give their age to the census man, they will have to attend her funeral, as the enumerators are not under oath, and the enumerator will not care whether they are 23 or 92."—Susquehanna Journal.

"TWAS BUT A DREAM. Last week I dreamt the grass was green, And that the flowers were out in bloom, And that my window high was raised To let the zephyrs fill the room.

I dreamt I smelt the lilac buds; I dreamt I heard the blue birds sing; I thought I heard the thrushes note, And robins chirp like everything.

I woke to find my nose was cold, And my festive shovel out, And that the world I thought was green, Was covered over with snow again.

Instead of going forth to pluck A blossom from the garden green, I took my festive shovel out And made my little sidewalk clean.

But I felt as mad as mad could be; My heart was full of spite, I fear; I made a snow ball and hit The early milkman on the ear!

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review. New York, May 11.—The price movement in the stock market was extremely irregular and uncertain all day. The last prices of the day were higher than at Saturday's close, but the best prices of the day were where maintained and there were large amounts in some of the industrials and specialties. Some rather positive evidence of strength at different points added to their difficulties. There was large buying of Burlington all day at an extreme advance of over 2 points on rumors that a plan had been perfected to refund the capital bonds of 1900. The movement helped the whole granger group. The efforts to bid up Missouri Pacific were resumed with some success and the Pacific generally showed good recovery. The growing demand in the stock department of the stock exchange indicated that the short interest had become somewhat unwieldy and the market overbid. The demand to cover from that element is the cause for the most part of the day's show of strength. New York Central advanced a point, but the southern group of Pennsylvania's company's extensive operations, for control, were generally heavy. Baltimore and Ohio suddenly gave way all around. It is argued that since the stock is allowed to decline, this indicates that the stock has probably realized its value. On the other hand, the late dealings while the market was hanging in an undecided condition at the high level of the most part of the day's show of strength. The Federal Steel and Steel and Wire losing three points and General Electric losing two. The general list gave way under the influence of the short interest, but the market closed with the gains largely reduced. Total shares, 204,000.

There was considerable activity in the bond market, but the tone was irregular. Total sales for Saturday, $1,280,000. The following quotations are furnished The Tribune by M. S. Jordan & Co., Room 705-708 Meers building. Telephone 5003:
