TWO HORSES INJURED.

Stepped on a Live Wire Early Yesterday Morning.

Cabman James Sullivan was driving his team of horses to South Scranton about 1 o'clock yesterday morning and had just turned down Adams avenue from Lackawanna when one of the animals stepped on the main trolley cable, which had fallen to the street. The horse leaped into the air and in the meantime the other one had also stepped on the wire and had received a shock.

Sullivan held pluckily to the reins and barely prevented a runaway. An axe was secured and the wire was cut. Both of the animals were badly injured, but they will probably be brought around.

THE LILLIPUTIANS.

Most Enjoyable Performances at the Lyceum Saturday.

Two very large audiences witnessed most enjoyable performances at the Lyceum Saturday afternoon and evening, when the "Lilliputians in Fairyland" was presented by a number of clever local children under the auspices of the Hardenberg School of Music and Art.

There were three acts and the scenic effects were very elaborate. The three acts represented a scene on a shipboard in mid-ocean, a sub-marine view, and the shores of Barren Island. Some of the children displayed remarkable talent and the performance was given without a hitch. The following children participated: Captain Billy Phillips, United States navy, Bertha Finberg, Admiral Dewey, United States navy, Rex Swartz, sailors, C. Leon Griffin, Fred Kossman, Stewart Richards, Joseph Parr, Harry Michaelian, George Davies, Willie Wooder, Robert Rourke, Diver McGinty, Ernest Softly; a Spaniard, Artie Faust; college girls aboard the Polar Star, Stella Williams, Marguerite Foster, Mabel Macintyre, Hattie Walters, Hattie Williams, Florence Gray, Flossie Rundle, Clara Guernsey, cooks on the Polar Star, Edith Wallace, Florence Walters, Edith Christ, Elizabeth Griffiths.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN.

You'll see that you seldom or never get something for nothing. In the long run it pays to buy only those things which have an established reputation and are sold at a fair price.

There are occasions, however, when one is able to buy a high grade article at a ridiculously low price, as is being demonstrated in the remarkable bargains in pianos offered by the Finn Music House. For example, a handsome Hallé & Davis upright, best largest and most expensive style, at $250.00, or a Royal upright rosewood finish, double veneered case, hardwood back, 7-13 octaves, three stringed, three pedals repeating action, full metal plate at $125.00. This stock comprises twelve different makes; each and every piano guaranteed by the makers for five or some for eight years.

The motive is clear. Having adopted a fixed policy, and settled upon a representative line it became necessary that this stock should be closed out to make room for the regular line of pianos. Affording a glorious opportunity to win popularity by offering pianos at prices utterly impracticable if it were intended to continue the sale of those instruments.

Churches, lodges, societies, schools, etc., will find this a golden opportunity to make a capital investment in pianos.

It is necessary to see these instruments to appreciate the disparagement between price and value.

Payments, or cash. It's no difference to us. Costs a little more on payments, but you have the use of piano and money. It's worth more. Examine and see for yourself.

At the directors' meeting, held later the following officers were chosen: President, T. H. Watkins; vice-president, J. B. Dimmick; treasurer and corresponding secretary, A. E. Hunt; recording secretary, J. W. Oakford. President Watkins continued the committee already acting.

The club has secured the services of a professional golfer to act as instructor. This is John Sharp, formerly of the Orange County club, and he will arrive in the city next Thursday. He will remain until July 1, and during his stay all club members desiring instruction in golf may avail themselves of his services. The golf match which was to have been held on Saturday was postponed on account of the rain, and will probably be played next Saturday.

AN HONORABLE SHOWMAN.

B. E. Wallace Lives Up to His Promises.

It is so rare an occurrence to see a big show pursue an absolutely honorable course in advertising, especially as to its size, that we heartily commend the showman in which the Great Wallace Shows' advance corps are doing in this city, particularly as it applies to the press.

Articles are not falsely written up and then quoted as coming from responsible journals where the show has appeared, but the bona fide clippings taken just as cut from the columns of the newspapers ahead, and the local reporters deal with them as they deem proper. This big show comes to Scranton on Friday, May 25.

SUCCESSFUL START OF NEW INDUSTRY

FIRST MEETING OF BOLT AND NUT COMPANY.

Gratifying Report of President W. D. Zehnder—It Was Thought That Not More Than 200 Hands Would Be Employed the First Year the Works Were in Operation, but Even Now Nearly Twice That Many Are Engaged—Works to Be Enlarged.

If there was ever any question of the desirability of the Scranton Bolt and Nut works as an addition to the industries and investment opportunities of Scranton, that doubt was removed at the first annual meeting of the company, held Saturday.

President W. D. Zehnder's report contained a statement to the effect that during the six months the works have been in operation both mill and factory have been working practically day and night and at that there were as many orders refused as taken. An evidence as to this was not an accidental or temporary condition, but to the views of the management, the directors approved unhesitatingly of President Zehnder's plan of enlarging the works, by increasing the size of the factory, putting in new machines and hiring more hands.

When the works started out last November it was thought that 200 would be the maximum number of hands employed the first year. At present there are 325 hands employed and as the extension of the works are to be rushed through with all possible haste, it is expected another half hundred hands will be added to the already $15,000 a month pay roll.

OLD DIRECTORS RE-ELECTED.
The meeting was largely attended, 1,250 of the 1,500 shares being represented. Luther Keller presided over the stockholders' meeting. The board of directors was re-elected, and that in turn re-elected the old officers. The officers and directors are: President, W. D. Zehnder; vice president, Chas. H. Weller; secretary and treasurer, L. M. Horton; general superintendent, E. M. Zehnder; assistant superintendent, J. A. Lansing, Charles H. Wells, John Jermy, T. H. Watkins, O. S. Johnson, L. M. Horton.

The stockholders expressed themselves as highly gratified with the results of the opening year, and the prospects for the future. Although the mills and factory have been rushed and the workmen for the most part new hands, the volume of work turned out was remarkable, and the product was uniformly satisfactory.

The trade extends in all directions, and even as far as Cuba and Mexico. While there is just at present a stagnation in the iron business, owing to the disturbance caused by the American Wire Nail company's depression, there is no question but that there is a large volume of business in suspense awaiting the restoration of confidence that will surely and quickly come, according to the best authorities. The necessities of the trade are large as they were before the disturbance, and when business resumes its normal conditions the re-umption will be another big and lasting boom.

President Zehnder came in for warm congratulations on the success which he was enabled to report. Especial commendation was forthcoming for the manner in which the construction of the plant was carried out. Ground was broken June 1, 1899. Six months later the mill was in operation, and a month after this the factory was turning out the finished product. All this was accomplished, too, in the face of a strike in the building trades and a boom in the machinery business, which made it difficult to secure the filling of orders at boom prices, let alone the low prices, at which, through President Zehnder's foresight, the Bolt and Nut works machinery was purchased.

FORTUNATE CIRCUMSTANCE.
A fortunate circumstance, which President Zehnder was pleased to report, was that while excavating for the bed of a tram in the rolling mill a subterranean stream was uncovered which furnishes sufficient water for every purpose except making steam, and there is enough for this purpose, too, if they wanted to take the risk of using it in the boilers. The chemists to whom it has been submitted say, while it is not free from corrosive elements, it is not impregnated to such a degree as to make it dangerous.

It is deemed best, however, to avoid the risk of injuring the boilers, and the city water in consequence is used. The saving this stream effects can be figured when it is stated that 200,000 gallons of its water is being used daily.

USED PENKNIFE ON HIS COMPANION

Frank Walter Plunged It Into the Breast of George Hartman Narrowly Escaping His Heart.

George Hartman, of 803 Cedar avenue, a well known South Scranton barber, was stabbed yesterday afternoon in the left breast, about half an inch above the heart, by Frank Walter, of 505 Cedar avenue. The action took place on Elm street, near the Catholic cemetery, and occurred about 5 o'clock. There was no previous quarrel between the two, and the stabbing was the outcome of Walter's being almost frantic by drink, and by a blow received in a previous quarrel with another party.

Dr. Albert Kolb is in attendance on Hartman, and says that unless complications set in he will recover from the wound, which is about an inch wide. Had it gone the least fraction of an inch deeper, however, it would have struck the apex of the heart and caused immediate death. It will necessitate Hartman's being confined to the house for several weeks. No arrests have been made.

Both of the parties are young men. Walter, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Walter, is only 18 years of age. Hartman is about 20 years old, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hartman. His father is one of the best known residents of South Scranton, and is a member of the Neptune Engine company.

Hartman is eight in form, and is so lame in one foot as to be almost a cripple. Yesterday afternoon, in company with a crowd of other young men, he was at "the Meadows," a stretch of land some distance from the city. Walter was there also with another party. A general good time was enjoyed by the members of both crowds, beer being drunk and bottles passed around.

The liquor he drank went to Walter's head, and towards 4 o'clock he began to grow ugly. A quarrel set in with his comrades and he was handled pretty roughly, being struck in the face, and claiming also that he was hit in the back of the head with a club.

The members of both parties had now started on their way home, when Walter, it is alleged, suddenly dashed forward and seizing Hartman by the throat, stabbed him in the left breast, using his pocket knife. The blade of the knife is about three inches long. The sharp point passed through Hartman's vest and shirt, piercing the flesh, and he fell to the ground. He was carried into a house near by, where the flow of blood was partially stopped and the wound bandaged.

While the lady of the house was acting the good Samaritan, Walter, it is said, was acting in an almost insane manner, and finally sprang at the woman, clutching her by the throat. He was then thrown to the ground, and when he came partially to his senses, John and George Hahn and Charles Rider, three of the young men present, led Hartman to his home, where Dr. Kolb was called to attend him.

He and Hahn had always been of the best of friends, there was no previous quarrel between them, and it is not likely that the Hartman family will have him arrested.

CRUSADERS RAIDING GAMBLING HOUSES

A NEW MOVEMENT IN THE CLEANING UP PROCESS.

Six Men Arrested and $1,500 Worth of Gambling Paraphernalia Seized. The Turf on Spruce Street and the Rooms at the Windsor Are the Places Raided—Visit Was Also Made to 217 Lackawanna Avenue, but the Place Was Found Deserted. Men Entered Jail.

At the instance of the Men's union constables swooped down on two gambling dens in the central city Saturday, arrested six men and seized about $1,500 worth of gambling paraphernalia. A third place was also visited, but a tip had been received by the proprietors and when agents of the crusaders arrived they found the place dark and deserted and the door locked. The rooms on the second floor of the Windsor, the "Turf" on the third floor of the building at 406 Spruce street and the "club" on the second floor of 217 Lackawanna avenue are the places assailed. The warrants were sworn out before Alderman Kasson by Robert Wilson, agent of the Men's union, and placed in the hands of Special Officers W. S. Bartlett and Max Florestine.

Taking a large drag wagon with them the constables started out on their raid at 5 o'clock. The Windsor was first visited. C. P. Elliott and Charles Davis, the alleged proprietors, were taken into custody and a lot of poker, roulette and faro paraphernalia confiscated. The latter was loaded into the drag wagon, while the prisoners were escorted to the alderman's office by Officer Bartlett.

Next the raiders proceeded to the Turf. Samuel Murray, M. B. Blewitt, J. B. Miller and M. J. Wheelan were corralled and the lead in the drag wagon was augmented by a roulette and faro outfit, a racing ticker and regulation telegraphing key and sounder.

WAIVED HEARINGS.
Attorneys J. H. Torrey and F. E. Beers were on hand at the alderman's office in the interests of the prosecution, prepared to establish a prima facie case if any of the prisoners should demand a hearing. All, however, waived this privilege and entered bail in the sum of $500 each for quarter sessions. Mr. Murray vainly tried to save his colleagues by claiming they were simply his employees. Select Councilman T. C. Melvin, of the Eighth ward, became bondsman for Elliott and Davis, while ex-Councilman C. H. Golden, of the Second ward, gave bail for the other four.

The Windsor crowd wanted to know from the alderman if they couldn't have their "stuff." The alderman referred them to the attorneys for the prosecution. Mr. Torrey gave them to understand that the stuff would never again serve its wonted purposes. It will be taken into court as evidence and after being officially declared to be gambling devices will be destroyed. Mr. Torrey cited the instance of six years ago when a raid was conducted by Mayor Connell and about $5,000 worth of gambling material confiscated and then burned in the vacant lot back of city hall by Chief of Police Simpson.

PLACE DESERTED.
The capture of a large quantity of gambling paraphernalia was counted upon by the crusaders, but someone had hurried there with the word after the first raid was made and the place was immediately locked up and deserted. It remained closed if not for the more prominent places throughout the city.

Mr. Torrey stated that it was the original intention to move against fourteen places simultaneously, but this was abandoned for lack of constables who could be relied upon and the fact that it was not desirable to call upon the regular police force to do the work.

REASONS FOR A NEW TRIAL

Have Been Filed at Wilkes-Barre in Lutz Case.

In Saturday's Tribune announcement was made of the fact that the attorney for John Lutz, the convicted Luzerne county wife murderer, had applied for a new trial. Following are the grounds on which a new trial is asked:

First—In rejecting the testimony as to the declaration of Mrs. Lutz that her husband was insane.

Second—in admitting the testimony of the neighbors that John Lutz, in his opinion, was sane at the time he committed the crime.

Third—the court did not sufficient instruct the jury on the proper consideration to be given to expert testimony.

Fourth—in receiving and recording the verdict.

Fifth—in laying back the voluntary verdict of all the jurors.

Judge Halsey directed that the motion be filed and placed on the list for the next term of argument court, which will be held during the week beginning Monday, May 25.
