POLITICS IN THE EIGHTH.

Prospects For a Lively Struggle in the Congressional Fight - Mr. Mutchler Already in the Field. Special to the Scranton Tri posed of the countles of Monroe, Pike, Howard Mutchler, of Easton, the well married. He was temperate in his known political leader of this district. will seek the nomination.

The Prohibitionists recently, in convention assembled at Weissport, Car-bon bounty, nominated Rev. E. E. Dixon, a prominent Methodist clergyprayer caused no end of comment throughout the state, because the brewery was subsequently slightly stamaged by an electric bolt.

The Republican party's candidate can now only be surmised; no one has week, as yet decided to make the effort for nomination and it is still an open Friday with South Gibson friends. question whether ex-Congressman Kirkpatrick would again accept the nomination.

In the Democratic ranks the same old fight is again on. Congressman Barber, of Carbon, is making strenuous efforts for a renomination, but he is opposed (most bitterly, it is said.) by John E. Lauer, also of Carbon, who was an independent Democratic candidate against Barber two years ago, but who withdrew from the ticket at the eleventh hour. Lauer's friends day that Barber gave his promise then to remain out of the fight this year, and as the faction supporting Lauer is on top in Carbon, the chances are that the latter will secure enough delegates to gain for him the conferrees, in which event Barber's name will not go before the convention.

In Northampton county but little attention has thus far been paid to the congressional matter, but the fact had been established, nevertheless, from whisperings from political circles in Easton that ex-Congressman Mutchler would not be averse to again repre-senting the old Eighth, Pike and Monsee counties are quiet and Democrata have yet to signify their inclinations or ambitions. But without doubt both will have candidates and lively times are anticipated when convention day rolls around.

FACTORYVILLE

Special to the Scranton Tribune Factoryville, May 27 .- Mr. Bush, of Carbondale, has been out here spending some time with his brother, J. T.

Bush, of Main street. He incidentally brought along a very fine gold-headed cane which he presented to his brother. Both the Junior and Senior classes and their friends held their annual picnic and outing last Saturday. The Senior class went to Crystal lake, and the Juniors held forth at Lake Winola. Several unprincipled boys amused themselves the other day by congre-gating at the graded school building and throwing stones through the windows, breaking more than a dozen lights. The names of the boys are known, and the school board should see that the parents of such reckless children make good the loss to the rough. Union memorial services were held to day in the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. W. M. Hiller preaching an eloquent and appropriate sermon to his omrades and a large congregation.

The usual programme will be carried out Wednesday by the Grand Army of the Republic post and the Ladies' circle. The usual parade will take place in the afternoon, headed by the Factoryville band.

OF THE RAILROADS

Lake Lodore, the beautiful new summer resort on the main line of the new Delaware and Hudson railroad near Farvlew, which it supersedes, is to be opened to the public on Decora-tion Day, May 30. The magnificent grove which borders the lake on the western side has been intersected with broad roads and winding pathways connecting the dancing pavilion, summer kitchen, refreshment stands and other buildings. These structures have all been designed by Architect Percival

Morris and are a decided innovation on similar buildings at the resorts of The laks itself has a very picturesque outline and is set in charming scenery of great variety from orchard and cultivated farm land to precipitous cliffs that command the most distant prospects of Wayne county. Two handsome naphtha launches, the safest craft afloat, are on the bosom of the lake, together with numerous row boats, whose white bodies and blood red rim make a patriotic harmony with the blue water. The ride from Farview to the lake is the most magnificent and entrancing in this part of the country and the time from the Lackawanna valley to Lake Lodore is about the same as it formerly was to Farvlew, since the delays at the foot and head of the planes are no longer necessary on the new.mod-

Special to the Scranton Tribune, Hopbottom, May 27 .--- A span of horses belonging to Frank Jeffers became frightened near the depot, on Friday, and the driver being out of the wagon, they dashed down Main street unimpeded. When they reached the blacksmith shop, near the end of the street, they were turned from the road and came into collision with Mr. McVicar's barn. One horse received a bad cut on the forchead.

The farmers attended the meeting of their milk union Thursday evening and voted unanimously to continue holding their milk, pending further negotiations with their buyers. They then vent home, slept on the matter, milked their cows and delivered their milk at the milk station, that is, a very few did, How, why or where they lost their backbone is not known, but when farmers cannot abide by their own vote over night there must be something wrong. There will be little chance for justice from others, when they are so unjust to themselves.
