COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES.

New trials were refused Saturday in the cases of Benore & Son against Arigoni, Smith against Clearwater and Lepp against Woodling.

Court on Saturday granted a divorce in the case of Clara Widener against John Widener, Desertion was the ground on which the application was based. Mrs. Widener averred that she married Jan. 13, 1887, and deserted the very next day. No just cause or provocation was given for the descrition, she says.

In all three of the common pleas cases in which verdicts were reported Saturday the plain-tiff was the winner. In the case of Everett War-ren, receiver for Gilmore & Duffy, against Frank H. Jermyn, the plaintiff was given the full amount of his claim, $442.45. A verdict of $318 was awarded Tobias Stein, of Ransom, in his suit against James Green to recover damages for timber taken from lands which both claimed. Mrs. R. M. Ruland was given a verdict against her son-in-law, F. L. Ross, for $50.40 and the property in West Abington over which they disputed.

A VERY DRY SUNDAY.

Good Results of the Crusade Were Plainly Evident Resterday.

Yesterday was the dryest Sunday ince the crusade started. The action of the crusaders in attacking the ficenses instead of the hotel men tnemselves has made the latter very wary and this, coupled with the action of the Licensed Liquor Dealers' association in bringing about an agreement among its hundred members to strictly obey the law has had the effect of closing the back as well as side doors in nearly every place in the central city and most of those in the suburbs.

Even the speakeasy keepers are losing on Sunday. At the risk of offending regular customers of his groery store, a prominent South Side unlicensed dealer was yesterday refusing to "fill cans," saying he proposed to observe the Sunday closing hereafter. He is one of the parties who re-fuses to take out a license because so many holes-in-the-wall are allowed to exist in his neighborhood.

A prominent Lackawanna avenue hotel-keeper had his bar-room wide open yesterday, but he sold only cigars, milk and ice cream. Not even a glass of ginger ale or soda water could be had and his bartenders even were prevented from getting a drink themselves, every bit of the stock being carried into the cellar and locked in a vault, of which the proprietor carried the only key.

about as usual taking notes and gathering evidence. They said they found conditions very much improved, but whether or not they gathered evidence of violations they declined to say. A meeting of the Licensed Dealers' association was held in Durr's hall yesterday afternoon, but nothing would be given out concerning the delibera-

ECLIPSE THIS MORNING.

In Vicinity of Scranton Considerably More Than Half of the Solar Surface Should Be Hidden.

The total eclipse of the sun which has been announced for this morning is the first one to be visible in the eastern part of this country for over twenty years, and will be the last for eighteen. The favorable position of its track will enable Americans to witness phenomenon with which they have ong been unfamillar. The path within which the eclipse will be total is not over fifty or sixty miles wide. It enters the United States from the gulf of Mexico, passes over parts of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas and the extreme southeastern part of Virginia. Thence it traverses the Atlantic to Spain and Algeria. European observers will therefore be able to see the eclipse without great inconvenience. The duration of the total stage will be little more than one minute along the center of the track and even shorter along the edges. More than an hour will be required for the moon to complete its work after once it begins to encroach on the solar disk, and when it begins to move away another hour will clapse before the sun is entirely uncovered. Outside the path of totality the eclipse will be visible as a partial one. In the vicinity of this city more than one half of the solar surface should be hidden at the moment of great obscuration. This should occur here a few minutes after 9 a. m. The eclipse is billed to commence at 7.50 o'clock, seventy-fifth meridian time, and to terminate at 10.36 o'clock. The moon's shadow will sweep over the earth at a rate exceeding 3,000 ing, he said: miles an hour. The rotation of the earth itself would furnish 1,000 of this amount if the sun were directly over head, and the moon's advance along its orbit would be equivalent to about 2,000 under the same conditions. But as the sunlight and shadow will both fall slantwise the apparent velocity of the movement will be greater. One of the most original and interesting ventures on this occasion will cause of all real joy." Continuing, he be the effort of Professor Hale, of the | said: Yerkes Observatory, and Professor

Nichols, of Dartmouth, to measure the heat radiation from the corona. This will be done with delicate apparatus that has been employed on stars. The undertaking is attended with great difficulties, and these experts do not allow themselves to hope confidently for definite results. The following special sun eclipse weather bulletin was issued by Chief Moore from Washington last night:

The weather map this morning gives practically sure indications that the entire line of the eclipse will have clear weather. The presence of an anti-cyclonic system covering the whole south Atlantic states insures light variable winds, moderate temperatures and a uniform decrease in the vertical gradient. Probably no eclipse ever occurred under finer seeing conditions than will

After the fire started Kaplan and a man named Freedman, who lives with him, had a narrow escape from serious injury. They stepped out on the iron roof over the front of Broad's restaurant at 126 to escape the flames. This gave way suddenly and it was only by quickly clutching at a railing that the men saved themselves from going through the big plate glass window in front of the restaurant.

STONE LAID WITH FITTING CEREMONY

RT. REV. BISHOP HOBAN WAS IN CHARGE.

Impressive Exercises in Connection with Laying the Corner Stone of the New Church of St. John, the Evangelist, in South Scranton. Were Attended by a Very Large Gathering-Services at the Church Were Preceded by a Parade of Catholic Societies.

The corner-stone of the new Church of St. John, the Evangelist, on the southeast corner of Pittston avenue and Fig street, was laid yesterday afternoon with appropriate ceremony by Rt. Rev. Bishop M. J. Hoban, assisted by a number of the clergymen of the diocese, in the presence of an enormous throng of people.

Prior to the laying of the stone, a street parade was held on Pittston ave-nue, passing the church and countermarching up the avenue again. This parade was headed by John Gibbons, the grand marshal, and his aides, all on horseback. Following these same the Forest band and then the St. Paul's Pioneer corps, of West Scranton, whose evolutions evoked much applause all along the line of march.

The other societies in line were as follows: Holy Name, of the cathedral; St. Aloysius cadets, St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Benevolent society, St. Peter's Total Abstinence and Benevolent society, Divisions Nos. 17, 22, 23 and 32, Ancient Order of Hibernians; Columbus council, Young Men's Inst! tute. There were several bands in line, including the Cumberland. The Holy Name society, under the leadership of Rev. J. A. O'Reilly, dropped out of line as they passed the church and grouped themselves around the temporary platform which had been erected. They sang several selections during the exercises, including "Nearer My God to Thee."

THE CEREMONIES.

The ceremonies proper were begun about 3.30 o'clock, when the bishop, attended by Rev. N. J. McManus and Rev. P. E. Lavelle, descended into the basement of the church, directly under the spot where the altar will be located, and blessed the foundations. The following vestured priests accompanied the bishop: Rev. J. J. Loughran, Rev. J. A. Moffat, Rev. George Stopper, Rev. John Fricker, Rev. Walter A. Gorman, Rev. M. B. Donlan, Rev. J. J. Dunn, Rev E. A. Garvey and Rev. P. J.

The crush of people around the platform was enormous when the bishop ascended and, with the solemn ritual of the Catholic church, laid the stone. The stone had been hollowed out and in it was placed a box containing copies of the local papers, coins, a history of the church, the names of the parish committee and a document containing the names of the president, governor and mayor, and the name of the church with the date of the ceremony.

The sermon of the day was then preached by Rev. J. J. McCabe, of Auburn, Pa., formerly an assistant of the present pastor of St. John's, Rev. E. J. Melley. Father McCabe took his text from the first epistle of St. Peter, in which the trained animal exhibition chapter 2, verse 6: "Wherefore, also it is contained in the Scripture, behold I lay in Zion a chief corner-stone, elect. precious; and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded." In commenc-

"This occasion is one of great joy, because it marks an epoch in the history of St. John's parish which has outgrown the limits of its present church and is now seeking a more pretentious and substantial structure. It is a day of great joy, also, because when this structure is completed it means the diffusion of religion and the diffusion of well-doing, which is the TEMPLE OF THE LIVING GOD, "In the psalms which have been sung and in the prayers which have been said today, frequent reference has been made to that other temple, the mystle emple of the living God. The stone that has been laid today is typical of Him, for He is the corner-stone of that other temple. This is a metaphor, both ancient and apt. Jesus Christ is the corner-stone because the church rests on Him, who is the author of faith and of all the graces. Jesus Christ is the corner-stone because there can be no other foundation laid where one is already placed." In conclusion, Father McCabe said:

"In conclusion, I must say a word of encouragement to the pastor and to you, his flock. Twenty-five years ago he prestrated himself at the altar of God and consecrated his young life to the upbuilding of the church of God. His zeal at first may have been like a flickering blaze, but it has now mellowed down to a good, steady, warming flame, which warms the hearts of all with whom he comes in contact. would be presumption on my part to say more to him than God-speed.

"To you, who have intrusted your confidence in him for the past ten years, I would say, sustain his hands, Inless you do, there is no hope that the work begun today will be completed. Grow not tired with well-doing and remember that when the church is finished and consecrated, it will be use less without a multitude of devout peo-

So far as the power and importance of nations are dependent upon the size of the population, to that extent is the accurate determination of these questions a matter of public necessity. Excitement was caused yesterday at noon at the Midway Carnival's grounds by the attempt of the big elephant, Jolly, to kill Trainer St. John, who was in charge of him. He hurled the man to the ground, butted him with his tusks, but was stopped before he could trample on him by other trainers who were in the neighborhood. Fatima, however, decided that she wanted a wider scope for her talents, and escaping from her keeper, Captain Lawrence, went lumbering out on the Mid-

She was halted at last in her wild career and hauled back to captivity, while big drops of salt water oursed down her muzzle. One of the camels born while the menagerie was en route here from

About one hundred of the census enumerators appointed by Supervisor John R. Edwards assembled in the co-operating and discussing the work which will begin aft over the United

The meeting was helpful to many who have districts where some confusion might arise, and the matter of obtaining interpreters for localities where foreigners predominate was also made clear to the enumerators. On the whole, all of the men who have been selected to take the census are intelliany idea that such a vulgar and disgent, active and now thoroughly familgusting spectacle was being presented far with the work after months of instruction.
