

Base Ball

Scranton, by virtue of winning two games from Allentown, Saturday, and Elmira's defeat of Wilkes-Barre, once more goes to the head of the Atlantic league. Just how long Burnham's boys will stay there remains to be seen, but from the way they hit the ball Saturday and fielded, they ought to keep at the top for some time.

In the National, both Philadelphia and Brooklyn lost Saturday, lowering their lead on Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh, which are bunched together:

SCRANTON TOOK BOTH.

Allentown Defeated in Two Games Saturday—Sheffer and News Hit Over the Fence.

The Scranton team re-appeared on the home grounds Saturday and celebrated the event by taking two games from the Allentown team. The first was notable for the fact that the two teams made seventeen errors, and that in the eighth inning the Scranton men battled so fiercely that after they made twelve runs they allowed themselves to be put out, as it seemed entirely out of their opponent's power to score. The ultimate score being 21-10.

The second game was a clean-cut, pretty exhibition, in which the home team fielded faultlessly and batted well, winning out by a score of 8-3. Both games were marked by features galore. Most prominent, however, were the two home runs made. In the first game, in that awful eighth inning, "Old Boy" Sheffer came to the bat with Kervin and O'Brien on bases. For the last four or five games the venerable outfielder has been very well, but he had made two singles yesterday previous to this appearance and came up determined to get another hit.

West, the Allentown pitcher, who was formerly regarded as one of the best minor league twirlers in the business, behaved in his nonconformist form around a sickly grin and sent one of his slower twirlers up to the plate. Sheffer promptly caught the ball on the nose, and it dropped beautifully over the fence, for the first home run on the grounds this season.

In the sixth inning of the second game, News, Allentown's hard-hitting first baseman, duplicated the feat by batting one of Milligan's choicest lean over the center field fence, for which he received a hearty round of applause.

Kervin and Milligan pitched for Scranton and both twirled well, Kervin being more freely hit, however, than Milligan. The latter made a poor start, in the first inning, giving a base on balls and being touched up by two two-baggers and two singles, two runs coming in. He pitched better ball in every inning, however, and News' home run in the sixth inning was the only score the Peanuts eaters made after the first.

Scranton made four double plays in the course of the afternoon, two in each game, and in the second game Allentown made three double plays.

Hub Knoll played well in left field, and Doherty put up his usual brilliant game at third base, while Dick Knox hustled around in center field and did some lightning-like work in returning the ball to the infield. An instance of this is the fact that in the first game McManus hit the center field fence with the ball and Knox returned it so quickly that the Allentown catcher was held at first base, and in the second game News planked one into the fence and Sir Richard sent it back so rapidly that he, too, was content to stay at first.

On the Allentown side, the fielding features were contributed by Jim and Joe Delehanty and Kuhn. Joe Delehanty and News carried off the batting honors for the Peanuts eaters. The scores follow of both games: the first Scranton player to put a ball over the fence since Pat Meany did it in '99. Allentown made ten runs, ten hits and ten errors in that first game.

West seems to be a mark for Scranton this season. In the two games in which the locals have faced him they have scored thirty-five safe hits. Harvard won out from Princeton in a great game Saturday. Big Bill Reid, the Crimson catcher, made two of Harvard's three hits and one of them was a magnificent home run drive.

Knock made a poor start in the first game by misjudging Jim Delehanty's low fly and state of miffing News' drive, but he made up for it later in the day. His batting average for the two games was .667, he making six hits in nine times up.

Smoot was easy for Milligan. When the young right fielder played with Atlantic City last year he made one of some home runs in nearly every game he played, but Milligan struck him out every time he came to the bat, four times in all that Saturday.

Milligan only made one hit in both games, but that was a beauty. It was a terrific three-base drive to left field and came very opportunely, scoring Knoll and Knox. In Mac's first times up in the game he made a terrific base on balls, made two sacrifices and drew out to first.

Joe Delehanty, of Allentown, is certainly a gifted player. In the game he captured seven flies in left field and in the next game was played at first base, where he made several clever plays. He is a fast as a cat and bats hard both ways on the bat. He is a good runner, although News is giving him a good run for the honors.

There will be a meeting today of the Atlantic League directors at Philadelphia and it is expected action will be taken regarding Newark and Jersey City. Neither of these cities have been drawing any sort of crowd, and there has been a fiasco in each regarding the grounds. It is rumored that the Jersey City club will be transferred to Wilmington and that the Newark team will go to Lancaster and some other trouble with the Newark players' salaries. All together things look pretty dark for Jersey.

Old Penn has once again maintained its athletic supremacy, the brawny athletes of the University of Pennsylvania winning out in the great collegiate field sports contest Saturday at Columbia field, New York. The red and blue scored 29 points, while Princeton, which came in next, had 25. Yale was third with 20½ points, and Harvard fourth, with 14, while Syracuse made an unexpectedly strong showing, and with only six men competing, came out with 12½ points.

Del Reynolds, of Delaware street, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Cummings on Saturday evening, charged with selling intoxicating drinks on Sunday. Constable John Murray was the prosecutor. Murray testified that he entered the defendant's hotel on Sunday morning last at 2 o'clock and secured her. Half a dozen other witnesses were sworn, but none corroborated Murray's testimony, and said that while they were in the place on the morning in question, saw no liquor sold after 12 o'clock. After hearing all the witnesses in the case, the justice discharged the defendant, declaring that the evidence given was insufficient to hold him. James J. O'Malley, esq., represented Mr. Reynolds.

CARBONDALE.

RATHER DIE THAN MOVE.

Moving has its objections, as all will admit who have endured its annoyance, but Mrs. Thomas Monk, Jr., of the West Side, has an exceptionally developed antipathy to the process. So strong and irresistible is its influence that on Saturday morning, when her husband brought her to transport the household effects, it led her to prefer death to a change. When Mr. Monk was about to place available in the wagon he found a note which said: "Tom—What I take is of my own free will I have decided to leave you and my hasty search soon resulted in the finding of May. The ounce of carbolic acid she had was in a bottle instead of her stomach. Chief of Police McAndrew and Sanitary Police- man Kelly responded to a call, but the woman was safe when they arrived. Mrs. Monk told the chief that she fully intended to take her life if Tom insisted on moving, but the chief soon ascertained that jealousy was one factor of the trouble.

NEW RESERVOIR.

The Reynshurst Water company is extending its mains down Washington and Spring streets and constructing a small reservoir above the tracks of the Honesdale branch. The reservoir will be fed from the artesian well at Reynshurst which, with the aid of a pump, will supply a good sized section of the city. A large number of residences are already being already looking forward to relief from the exorbitant rate imposed by the Consolidated. A few more such projects as this would have a tendency to weaken the monopoly—also to discourage a municipal plant.

DEATH OF MATTIE CHILTON.

Miss Mattie R. Chilton, daughter of Mrs. Martha Chilton, died Saturday morning of congestion of the lungs, at her home, 111½ West Third street, in this city fourteen years ago. Deceased was one of the bright pupils of Miss Boland, teacher in the Central building. She was also a member of Mrs. Hopkins' Baptist Sunday school. Many admiring friends will greatly miss her. Her mother, three sisters, Mrs. Lehman Carey, Mrs. John Cornish and Miss Laura Chilton, and one brother, David, survive her. The funeral will be at three o'clock this afternoon in the Berea Baptist church, in Interment in Maplewood cemetery.
