SCHRIEVER'S GALLERY.
Large Number of Persons Attended the Formal Opening.

The opening of the Schriever gallery, on Wyoming avenue, took place yesterday afternoon and many visitors were shown through the beautiful rooms on the second floor, over Lewis & Kelly's store. Bauer's orchestra furnished music.

Mr. Schriever is not only a photographer of wide reputation, but is an artist in the sense of color, decorations and harmony of details. His reception rooms are elegantly fitted up. Handsome rugs, Flemish oak furniture in rare antique models, palms, flowers and oriental corners and draperies make a pleasing setting to a fine display of photographs artistically arranged.

On the left is a cabinet of lovely sepia effects, richly framed and carefully hung. Mr. Schriever particularly affects studies of children, and the exquisite reproductions of the little people are his photographs as much as pictures of childhood, idealized without destroying to the faintest degree the likeness.

The water-colors, soft as pastels but deeper, richer, are among the attractions of the studio. Mr. Schriever has a number of compositions which are charmingly arranged. Two are the well-known "Enraptured" and "Reposo," where the little child is the central figure.

Many of his medals, pictures, renowned at the national convention, are shown. The poses are extremely good, and to a photographer the points of perfection in light and shadow are many.

Among the framed photographs is a splendid one of Governor Stone, which is the favorite of the governor's family and from which hundreds have been sold. There is a noble portrait of Bishop Hoban in his robes and beretta. A delightful three-quarters photograph, large size, of Rev. D. J. MacGoldrick also adorns a carefully planned corner. Among the largest portraits is a most characteristic one of L. H. Burns, esq., while other well known faces are seen on the walls.

The studio are complete in every detail. No expense has been spared in the reception rooms and equal taste is displayed in the operating department. The dark room would bring joy to an amateur's heart after his laborious struggles in attempts at developing. Such perfection and completeness of detail are seldom seen in a photograph gallery. Mr. Schriever has received many flattering compliments from various places, but feels sure that his work is sure to be appreciated in Scranton.

Cool and Delightful.
A cool and delightful place to spend Saturday afternoon is the Speedway hotel, on the Elmhurst boulevard. Gentlemen's driving races on the kite track, directly in front of the hotel, at 3 o'clock. CONTEST IS LIKELY IN AMERMAN ESTATE
WIDOW, IT IS UNDERSTOOD, LEFT TWO WILLS.

One of Them Was Filled Yesterday Afternoon by the Immediate Relatives of the Deceased, and the Other Is Expected to Be Presented Today—Another Chapter in the Gilhool-Buck Legal Battle—Concluding Cases in Common Pleas. Other Court Matters.

The will of the late Mrs. Ella M. Amerman was filed for probate yesterday with Register of Wills Koch. The apparent haste in having the will probated is due to the fact that a second will exists and will also be offered for probate. The will filed yesterday was one that came into the possession of Mrs. Amerman's immediate relatives.

Nothing of its contents could be learned except that it contained no mention of the executorship of the Handley estate. It was stated by one in a position to know that the successor in the executorship was provided for in a separate paper.

There was some question as to whether or not the Handley will authorized a succeeding executor to appoint a successor. A Tribune reporter consulted the will in the register's office yesterday and found that a succeeding executor has the same authority to appoint a successor as an original executor had.

The Amerman estate is valued at nearly a million dollars. The direct heirs are two children of Mr. Amerman's second wife, who was the elder sister of the late deceased Mrs. Amerman.

The existence of a second will makes a contest very probable. Its possessor and the party whom it favors will be divulged today, it is thought.

Laws That Are Seldom Invoked.

Two laws that are seldom invoked were appealed to yesterday in the legal battle between Carriage Manufacturer W. E. Gilhool and his former employee, J. C. Buck.

Mr. Buck brought suit through Attorney E. W. Thomas, against Mr. Gilhool for damages for injury done him in reputation and otherwise by his having been arrested twice by Mr. Gilhool. He brings the action under the law making it a trespass to work injury to a person by mistaking or abusing the process of the law.

Mr. Gilhool, the plaintiff avers, refused to pay him his wages in full and when he brought suit for the balance he found himself confronted with a capias for slander, issued at the instance of Mr. Gilhool, with the intent, so Mr. Buck claims, of getting him into jail and preventing his appearance at the trial of the wage case.

He applied the capias on the ground that the affidavit was insufficient and on May 24, five days after he was arrested, he succeeded in being released on common bail, which in his case, he not being a property holder, is equivalent to a discharge.

That same day another suit in slander was brought by Gilhool against Buck and the latter gave bail in the sum demanded, $1,000, the affidavit this time being adequate.

These arrests were, the plaintiff alleges, a misuse and abuse of the processes of the law to make Gilhool liable for the damages resulting.

Mr. Gilhool, upon being served with the capias yesterday, refused to enter bail on the advice of his attorney, Joseph P. Gilroy, on the strength of the law exempting any one owning property to the value of fifty pounds from entering bail for slander or libel offenses on which a capias may issue. His affidavit that he is worth fifty pounds was accepted in lieu of bail.

Common Pleas Cases.

A verdict of $48.33 in favor of the plaintiff was returned yesterday in the case of Daniel Kisliucky against Thomas Gibby.

The case of Lottie E. Fisk against Charles and Ira Narus was given to the jury by Judge Kelly just before adjournment yesterday afternoon. The verdict will likely be returned this morning.

The case of John Tierney against Cornelius Smith was referred to Attorney P. Dunne.

In the case of John Meyers against the Lackawanna mills a rule for a new trial was yesterday granted, and also a rule for judgment on the point reserved, notwithstanding the verdict. This is the suit in which the plaintiff was awarded $5,000 for the loss of his right hand.

STRUCK HER WITH AN AX.
Had His Own Method of Preventing a Separation.

Adam Folesherfeld, of Upper Pittston, was committed to jail in default of $1,000 bail, yesterday, on the charge of striking his wife with an axe.

Constable Lawrence and Hiddle, of Durysco, while taking along on an electric car, saw a disturbance at Folesherfeld's house and went to investigate. Mrs. Folesherfeld was found with her face badly swollen and bruised. She said she and her husband had a quarrel and she threatened to leave him. She gathered up some of her belongings and was in the act of leaving the house when the husband rushed into the yard, seized an axe and, returning, struck her over the head with the flat of the axe.

At least this is what she says. He denied hitting her with an axe, but admitted that he slapped her over the face with a strap. The condition of the woman's head indicated rather that the axe story was the true one. The constables took Folesherfeld into custody and arraigned him before Justice O'Brien, who committed him.

Census Enumerators Started Out on Their Rounds Yesterday.

The census enumerators started out on their rounds bright and early yesterday morning, and by midnight the names and a few facts regarding a pretty good percentage of the inhabitants of this city had been recorded in their books.

Some of the enumerators report that they recorded as high as seven names yesterday. The average is kept up by the count can be made in seven or eight days. It is hardly necessary to again state that an accurate count cannot be made unless the public assists with its intelligent co-operation.

REPUBLICAN CLUBS WILL ENTERTAIN

State League at Philadelphia Is Preparing to Receive Visitors to the National Convention.

Philadelphia, June 1.—J. Hampton Moore, president of the Pennsylvania State League of Republican Clubs, today forwarded a circular letter to all clubs in the United States affiliated with the National League of Republican Clubs, detailing the plan for the entertainment of visitors to the national Republican convention, to be held here June 13. The programme includes a parade of clubs on Monday night, June 12, which will be reviewed by men of national repute. On the evening of the opening day of the convention there will be a mass meeting at which men prominent in national affairs will speak.

On Wednesday, June 13, a flotilla will convey to Adams, the Allied Republican clubs to points along the harbor of Philadelphia, including the ship-building yards and the League Island navy yards. In addition to these features there will be club smokers, open house, out-of-door entertainments and courtesies. Accredited Republican club members will be furnished with "visitors' cards," entitling them to numerous privileges.

The Republican clubs of this city have had the co-operation of clubs throughout Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

DELLA FOX INSANE.

Well Known Comic Opera Star in an Asylum.

New York, June 1.—Della May Fox, the comic opera singer, was today committed by Justice Adams, of the supreme court to the asylum for insane at Wave Crest, Astoria. The commitment was made on the application of T. H. Hummel, who appeared for Miss Fox's brother, William E. Fox. The physician, out-of-door activities was suffering from mental hallucinations caused by the excessive use of stimulants. It was supported by affidavits by Doctors Austin Flint, Jr., and Edward D. Fisher.

Miss Fox has but recently recovered from a serious illness, during which her life was despaired of. For several weeks she has been undergoing a severe nervous strain, and has recently been acting in a peculiar manner. She has been laboring under the delusion that her husband's activities were her enemies and were trying to get possession of her money and jewels. She resisted the doctors who tried to keep her quiet and resorted to the use of stimulants, which are said to have produced her present condition. Her brother, on the advice of the physician, who were afraid she would do herself harm, had her committed to the asylum at Wave Crest. She was taken there this afternoon. Her physicians think that a few weeks of quiet will be sufficient in restoring Miss Fox to complete health.

SUING FOR DIVORCE.

Wife of Princess Chimmy's Brother Wishes to Gain Her Freedom.

New York, June 1.—Elben Brock Ward, brother of Princess Chimmy, has been sued for divorce by Mrs. Hermina H. Ward. She asks for $2,000 a month alimony and $500 counsel fees. Mr. Ward has figured in a divorce case before, though his matrimonial attentions have caused less public attention.

Mr. Ward's first divorce passed almost unnoticed, though his friends are pleased that it cost him fully $100,000 to settle with his wife. He had not long been free when on September 22, 1897, he was married in Paris to an attractive young French widow with one child.

The second Mrs. Ward says in her complaint that her husband deserted her in France last year and went away with Louise Mugnard, with whom he remained until January 1. She asserts that Mr. Ward has ever since their marriage been drinking to excess and has been nearly all the time in a state of cross, impulsive and abusive intoxication. Mrs. Ward also charges that her husband has within the last few days paid obnoxious attention to her daughter.

SAVINGS BANK ROBBED.

Four Desperados Secure $1,000 by Aid of Explosives.

Des Moines, June 1.—The Savings bank at Sheldon, twenty miles north of here, was blown up by four robbers last night. They secured $1,000.

The explosion shook the town and almost tore one bank building to pieces. About fifty people rushed to the scene, unarmed. Two of the robbers were nearly all the time in a state of cross, impulsive and abusive intoxication. Mrs. Ward also charges that her husband has within the last few days paid obnoxious attention to her daughter.

ANOTHER FACTORY SEEMS CERTAIN
COIGARS WILL BE MANUFACTURED ON LARGE SCALE.

One Thousand Girls Will Be Employed Who Will Earn an Average of Ten Dollars a Week—No Building in Sight of Proper Dimensions and a Suitable Building Will Have to Be Erected—Matter Will Be Decided Definitely on Monday Next.

One of the largest of the cigar manufacturing firms in the United States is to locate a factory in West Scranton. It will employ 1,000 girls and the average wages will be $10 a week.

A representative of the firm was in the city yesterday and Thursday, and with his two partners will be here again on Monday.

The company has a factory in New York city, one in Philadelphia, and another in Baltimore. The New York factory though it is one of the largest in the country, is months behind its orders and the company is compelled to enlarge its facilities. The labor troubles that are so frequent in the cigar industry, and the heavy cost of factory sites, have prompted the company, in common with many others, to look about for desirable sites in smaller cities. In this way Scranton came to be visited by a member of the firm, and he is so well pleased with the prospects that there is little or no question but that the branch factory will come here.

GIRLS AS HELP.

Instead of six months the company will, it is claimed, be paying out $6,000 a week in wages. Girls for the most part are employed, and the average operator will easily earn $10 a week.

The member of the firm who was here looking over the ground expressed a desire to secure if possible a large building that could be occupied by the factory at once. The Patrick McCann store building on West Linden street was shown him, but it wouldn't do. It was far too small and he said, "Some one gave me information that the Anselys were about to give up the lumber business and that their planing mill would soon be available. This was inspected but like the McCann building it proved too small and he said was not adapted for the purpose. He said the company would buy land and put up a factory very likely. This, however, will not be settled until after his partners come here, Monday.

In a West Side grocery store the party in question asked the proprietor, a prominent West Side head of trade man, if he sold many of a certain brand of cigars which were advertised on a placard within view of where the group was standing.

CAN'T GET THEM.

"Yes," said the grocer, "we sell all we can get of them. This trouble is we can't get them. We've had an order in for over a month now, and there is no telling how much longer we will have to wait."

"There's a big run on those cigars," remarked the New York man. "We make 15,000,000 of those every year for the country. Just at present we are about half a year behind in our contract." He volunteered the further information that his company does not make any cheap cigars. Most of their business is in the $25 cigars manufactured for the big jobbers and grocery houses. For certain reasons the identity of the firm is not to be disclosed till Monday.
