SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scism, of 425 Quincy avenue, last night, surrounded by the members of their family and numerous friends, celchrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. Mr. Seism is a diamond driller by profession, and with his wife, settled in Scranton some forty years ago when the city was yet in its intancy. The family homestead was handsomely decorated last night in honor of the event and beautiful roses, lilies and carnations were everywhere in abundance. The front of the house was a blaze of light, in addition to the illuminations in-doors, there being several lines of yellow lan-terns strung along the front porch, shedding a bright golden radiance which was in keaping

Mr. Scism is 71 years of age, while his wife is 67 years old, but both are remarkably well preserved and look much younger. Their wed-ding took place June 5, 1850, in Poughkeepsie. N. Y., Mrs. Sciem then being Miss Cordella McFarland, one of the best known and most popular young ladies of the city. About ove years later they moved to this city, and shortly after built the home they still occupy, on Quincy avenue, then practically a forest.

Mr. Scism for a time acted as foreman in one of Scranton's large manufacturing establishments, but during the largest part of his life here has been employed in drilling for coal by several of the large coal companies, and is recognized as one of the most expert diamond recognized as one of the most expert diamond recognized as one of the most expert diamond drillers in the state.

D. W. Schm., Miss Josephine Seism and Mrs.

R. D. Hall, all of this city, are the sons and daughters of the couple, and all were present last evening at the home, Mrs. Hall having with her her son, Mortimer, who represented the third generation of the family. About 8.30 o'clock all the guests were present and Rev. Richard Hierna offered prayer. Congratulations were then tendered Mr. and Mrs. Scism. after were then tendered Mr. and Mrs. Seism, after which a dinner was served, while in an adjoin-ing room the Scranton Mardolin club furnished missic. The occasion was well remembered by sit of Mr. and Mrs. Soism's friends, and there were many evidences of the esteem in which they are held, a handsome bronze clock, bear-

The marriage of Miss Coleman to Dr. Ott The marriage of Miss Coleman to the Otto Friesson, of Dakota, took place yesterday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. H. Coleman, at 695 Jefferson avenue, in the pres-ence of a limited number of guesta. The par-lors were handsomely decorated with palms, background of which was arranged for the brida

The ribbons defining the line of the pr sion were held by Miss May Coursen and Miss Nash. The little Elizabeth Jermyn carried flowers. The bride, arrayed in a filmy white lace and mousseline gown over white silk and wearing a veil, entered with her uncle. Mr W. A. Coleman. She carried bride roses. There were no bridesmaids. The best man was Dr. Ien Jackson, of Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed at half after three by Rev. Dr. McLeod, of the First Presbyterian church.

Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A.
DeO. Blackinton, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Smith,
Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Hallstead, Mr. and Mrs. H.
P. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Jermyn, Mr.

Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Loveland, Misses McLeod, Matthews, Finch, Dale, Howell, Archbald, Hunt, Dickson, Fuller, Messrs, Dimmick, Bliss, Dr. Blanchard. Mesers. Dimmick, Bliss, Dr. Blanchard.
The bride is a gentle and lovely girl, the favorite of a large circle of friends. Dr. Ericsson is a young man of brilliant attainments and is well known in this city, where he was at one time a house surgeon in Mosea Taylor hospital. The young couple left for their home in the West last night.

As beautiful and as charming a bride as eve plighted her troth in the month of wedding and of roses was Miss Florence Rebecca Hull, who last night became the wife of James Hop-kins Kays, amid the most delightful surroundsings at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen P. Hull, of 1561 Sanderson avenue. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room of the residence promptly at 8.30 o'clock, by Rev. I. J. Lansing, D. D., paster of the Green Ridge Presbyterian church, and as the bride, who is a brunette of marked beauty, en-tered the apartment leaning on the arm of her father, she presented a fair and graceful picthat will live long in the memory of he throng of guests.

She was attired in a costume of embroidere white mull over white satin, trimmed with Duchesse lace and cut en train. She were a long bridal veil fastened to her dark hair with beautiful pearl ornament, and carried a bou-quet of bride roses and lifes of the valley. The bridesmaids were Miss Blanche Hull, sister of the bride, and Miss Sarah Fordham, both of whom were attired in white organdic with pale green fichus. They carried white rosses with green foliage. There were also two little flower girls and two pages. The former were Pauline Peck and Mary Isabelle Kaya, both dainty little misses attired in green mull dresses and carrying large baskets of white marquettes. The pages were Dickson Kays and Philip Mattes, The groom was attended by Dr. George Anderson Blanchard.

The ceremony was performed under an arch of sparagus sprays and white roses with a back-round of palms. This same decorative scheme was carried out ever the entire house, the roses and foliage being entwined on the chandeliers and around the walls, producing a most tasty and withal simple effect.

The exterior of the house was trimmed with large Chinese lanterns, in which were placed incandescent lights. These were also strung about the spacious lawn, while little corners were fitted up here and there rendering delightul tete-a-tetes possible.

There were over 200 guests present and at the conclusion of the ceremony, all tendered the happy young couple their congratulations as they stood beneath the floral arch. Bauer's cr-chestra rendered music during the evening, being enseenced behind a bank of palms in one The wedding presents were especially elabor ate, most notable among them being a pearl brooch presented by the groom. The presents were on exhibition in one of the upper rooms and were viewed by many.

The bride is one of Green Ridge's most beautiful and intellectual young women, while the greom is a young man of marked ability in the mploy of the Weston Mill company. The couple left at midnight on an extended wedding our, the objective point of which is unknown to even their nearest and dearest friends. Upon their return they will reside during the sum-mer months at the nome of the bride's parents. Among the out-of-town guests present last night were the following: Mr. and Mrs. George Stone, of Philadelphia: Dr. and Mrs. Puncell, of Easten, Mrs. Arthur Johnston, of New York; Mrs. Harry Jerome Hull, of Scattle, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Winthrape Duncan, of Brooklyn; Miss Daisy Mitchell, of Philadelphia; Dr. Ree, of London, England: Ralph Hull, of Brooklyn, and J. DAPPER YOUNG MAN WITH A BIG WAD

BUNCOED A QUARTETTE OF SCRANTON CONSTABLES.

Represented Himself to Be a Worker for One of the Republican Candidates and Made Rounds of the Speak-Easies Under Guidance of Aforesaid Worthies, Spending Money Freely, and Making Himself a Good Fellow-Constables Have Since Heard from Him.

Just at present the office of ward constable in this city is not a sinecure, and in four particular instances it is not that, with a very heavily accented negative. To use an idiom of the vulgate,

They are up agin' it." Not long ago a dapper young man with a large wad of money went about of nights representing himself as a rustler for one of the Republican candidates. He was commissioned, so he averred, to look after the speakeasies, and had been advised by the candidate for whom he was hustling that he would be shown about by Mr. - friend, the constable. Mr. Constable was only too glad to be of service to his friend. Candidate -, and in one instance he hesitated to accept a slight fee for his service. Parenthetically, he only hesitated lowever.

Be that as it may, the constable, in each of the four above alluded to instances, took the dapper young man in ow and piloted him throughout his balliwick, introducing him to every speakeasy keeper and joining with the gang in drinking success to Candidate , and long life to his free-handed Heutenant.

Yesterday each of the four constables received from Attorney F. E. Alderman John conducted a hearing at the West Side hospital last night in the case of Miss Mary Ogorozak, who is detained at the institution on account of illness, caused by the premature birth of her child last week, which was afterwards found dead in McNichols court.

Several witnesses were examined who testified to the finding of the body, and their testimony was similar to that given at the coroner's inquest last week. The woman was afterwards ordered taken to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury. The committal was made on the trength of a warrant sworn by Lieu. tenant Williams, who preferred the charge of manslaughter against the woman. According to the examination made by Dr. Roberts, the child fied an unnatural death, violence having been used. The woman will be taken to the county jail today.

ELLMAN DID NOT APPEAR.

His Bail Was Declared Forfeited by Alderman Kasson.

Constable Jake Ellman was arrested esterday forenoon by Constable Max Firestine, of Alderman Kasson's court, and taken to the central police station, where he was to await his hearing a 8 o'clock last evening before Alderman Kasson, on the charge of assaulting an Emmet street woman with a blackjack, when she atempted to take from him her small son, whom Eliman had arrested, on the charge of stealing brass. School Controller Patrick Golden bailed Ellman out, giving bonds in the sum of $300 for his appearance at the hearing. The guardian of law and order, however, did not present himself at the hearing last night and the ball was therefore forfeited, although in case Eliman appears today he will be given a hearing at 8 o'clock this even-

When Firestine arrested him, Ellman resisted flercely. He was apprehended at the court house, and declared he was a witnes on a trial and couldn't get off. Firestine, who isn't the best friend Ellman has in the world, first remonstrated with him, and then after using moral suasion, grasped the pugnacious one by the collar, and after a little argument convinced him he had better go with him to the police station.

ESTOPPED THE PROBATE.

Supporters of the Local Will of Mrs. Ella M. Amerman Hear of Their First Success.

Colonel L. A. Watres, executor of the state of Mrs. Ella M. Amerman, unler the will probated here, received word yesterday from his attorney in Worcester, Mass., Charles Wood, that the caveat which he had filed at Col. Watres' instance had halted the probating of the second will, which was filed by Rev. Dr. Dixon's attorney, General Edwin Champin, of Cambridge, Monday afternoon. The time for the hearing has not yet been fixed. The first effort on the part of the supporters of the local will is to be to compel the Massachusetts parties to offer the second will for probate union would expect each of these places in this county, and, after that, attack returned to the next grand jury, or it on the ground that it was made when the testator was incompetent or ubjected to undue influence.

It is expected that there will be no difficulty in proving that Scranton was Mrs. Amerman's domicile, in which case the will must be probated in this ounty. Letters are in existence in which Mrs. Amerman declined to allow her home in this city to be offered for sale or rent. This, coupled with the fact that the furniture and all the household goods were allowed to remain undisturbed after Mrs. Amerman closed it up to go to Massachusetts a year ago, will tend to prove that she did not give up her residence here. Nothing of the contents of the will has been learned here further than what has already been published. The bequest of $10,000 to Rev. Dr. Dixon in trust for the care of decedant's horses and pet dog, which was announced in yesterday's Associated Press dispatches, gave good grounds for encouraging the supporters of the local will in their belief that the Massachusetts will can be successfully attacked tor was incompetent.

BUILDING INSPECTOR BUSY. Securing Warrants for Violators Building Ordinance.

Building Inspector T. B. Jackson yesterday secured warrants from Alderman Howe for the arrest of twelve contractors who have either refused or who have neglected to take out building permits during the jest few weeks. Hearings in all the cases have been fixed for Friday morning.

Ever since Mr. Jackson has been in office he has been bothered by this same class of people. It will be remembered that Contractor LaBar, who was arrested last summer, made a test case out of the matter and that court decided that a permit must be taken out and paid for. The penalty for not taking one out and commencing building operations is a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $100,

In the evening between six and seven hundred people were on the grounds. Dancing was enjoyed and J. Silverman, of Jermyn, made an address on the subject of "Education." L. Lichterman, teacher of the school, and A. B. Cohen, president, and Mr. Tractenberg, secretary, were among those in charge of the day, and the executive committee consisted of Nathan Levi, V. Steinman, M. Solomon, B. C. Levi, Simon Seigel and Mr. Schloss.

A CRUEL HUSBAND.

Mrs. Wm. E. Reese Charges Him with Assault.

Susan Reese, of 1539 Mylert avenue, had her husband, William E. Reese, arrested and arraigned before Alderman Howe yesterday on charges of non-support and asault and battery She alleges that he has not contributed one cent to her support for over three

She further states that he viciously assaulted her on the evening of May 26, beating her until she was black and blue, and then threw her out of the house. Reese had no defense to offer, so the alderman held him in $500 bail on both charges, in default of which he was committed to the county jail.

He politely informed them that he didn't want a cent of local capital. "Give us the site, and we'll do the rest," he said. It was further stated by Mr. Weiss that his company will not compete for the local trade. Nearly all its product is sold through jobbers in the large cities.

J. W. Tiffany is a man who has been ready and willing to support Republican candidates in nominating conventions and campaigns for a period of more than thirty years. The following is a comment copied from the Scranton Truth the day after his nominating speech for Sheriff Lewis:

"When Delegate Tiffany gets the American eagle by the tall and swings the noble bird of freedom around as recklessly as he did in the court house yesterday, one feels it is a pity he does not occupy a front seat in congress. Mr. Tiffany's place is in the national legislature, where he could distinguish as having been made when the testa- | himself as eagle-bearer to the Goddess of Liberty."
