PERSONAL

A. C. Salisbury entertained the Monday Night Whist club at the Jermyn last night.

John A. Brogan, of South Scranton, will graduate tomorrow evening from the department of Rental surgery of the University of Pennsylvania.

John P. Quinnan, William Dawson, Daniel Campbell, Martin Ferguson, of this city; Joseph Spellman, of Homestead, and others, left yesterday for Mahanoy City to attend the annual convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Mrs. Josephine Barber, a former resident of Scranton, now living with her uncle, E. H. Butler, of Buffalo, was one of the large number of Americans who saw the Prince of Wales' "old Diamond Jubilee," with the Derby, worth $85,000, at Epsom, England, a week ago Saturday.

A New Enterprise Started.

The Process Engraving company, of which mention was made in these columns a few weeks ago, has passed from its embryo state into a thoroughly alive business concern. This company has invested a large amount in modern new machinery, which has been installed in its plant at No. 322 North Washington avenue, this city. The printing fraternity and others will be no doubt pleased to hear of this enterprise and will do well to look them up when they have line and half-tone work to be done. The Process Engraving company are not new, nor have they ever been, in any manner connected with any other similar concern here nor elsewhere. Being independent, and unhampered by unhappy alliances, using improved modern methods and machinery, and employing expert artisans in its various departments, we feel confident it is not a vain boast that perfect process printing plates will be produced.

FIERCE STRUGGLE FOR PARTY HONORS

When the polls opened, groups were gathered in front of all the booths and at no time until the result was finally announced were there any semblance of lonesomeness apparent. The boards did their work, as a rule, expeditiously, the voters came early, and when the hour for closing arrived there was an absence for the most part of the "7 o'clock rush," which is generally characteristic of a heavy poll.

PECULIAR WEATHER.

The weather was seemingly in a jocosse mood. Just at 4 o'clock the whole eastern horizon commenced to darken and in a few minutes one was looking for anything from a hurricane rain. Clouds of dust scurried before a gale of cyclonic fury, lightning flashes played across the darkening sky and rain drops of unusual size began to patter. Of a sudden, however, there was a transformation, and the candidate who was feeling dubious about his former friends venturing out were reassured by a cessation of the rain, brightening skies and an abatement of the wind. Some threats in the way of rain, five minutes later, however, intervals, but they were so mild and of such brief duration that they hardly count in summing up the weather. All in all, the weather was deserving of the appellation prophetic. The returns indicate that it did not interfere to any great degree in getting out the voters. It was, of course, a quiet and orderly election; in fact, it was as far as the first returns relate, a good-natured affair all around. The candidates and their friends fought vigorously and, with one lagrant exception, squarely as far as general report goes, the consequence was the voting was a friendly, neighborly contest and few of the candidates but what can shake hands genially with his opponents, this morning, and heartily wish the successful one continued success.

It was generally expected that a very large vote would be polled, but no one, it is safe to say, counted on such a generous exercise of the franchise as the returns from some booths show.

EIGHTH WARD.

In the eighth ward, first district, there were 152 votes cast. Last fall all four candidates for state treasurer received 132 votes in this district. In the second district of the eighth ward, at 7 o'clock, 217 votes had been polled. The Ferber-O'Malley fight in this district last spring brought out the First district of the eighth ward, the Seventeenth ward yesterday polled 58 votes. Last spring Major Fellows got the highest Republican vote east in this precinct and it was just one-half, less two, of the total vote of yesterday.

The First district of the Twenty-first ward counted 159 Republican votes last evening. Last spring the highest Republican vote in this district was 93. The Fifteenth ward polled 623 votes yesterday. The spring election total for both parties was 388. The Eleventh ward's three districts yesterday polled 240, 233 and 124 votes respectively. In the spring Mr. Ferber's vote was 205, 144 and 52. The difference is 156 in favor of yesterday.

The Ninth ward, which yesterday totaled 676, Ferber and Gibbons together last spring had 460.

PETROLINO COMMITTED.

Self Confessed Criminal Sent to the County Jail.

Antonio Petrolino was arraigned before Alderman Kasson on Saturday night, on a warrant issued at the instance of County Detective Lynnon, charging him with felonious wounding. He was committed to the county jail in default of $1,000 bail.

It will be remembered that Edward Kelly was stabbed last March by some person not known to him, but supposed by him to be James D. Palmouth. The latter was arrested and was last week found guilty of the crime, when court was surprised to receive an affidavit signed by Petrolino, confessing that he had done the stabbing. This affidavit was the only evidence offered against Petrolino before the alderman.

STURGES' BIG VOTE.

As great as was the surprise at the big vote polled in some districts, was the showing of E. B. Sturges for jury commissioner. The very first batch of returns indicated he would distance the field and probably have not only an immense plurality, but actually a majority. In districts where his most sanguine supporters counted on little or no aid, his vote was larger than that of all his eleven opponents combined. His campaign manager, assistant city solicitor David J. Davis, viewed last night that no one was spent for one of these thousands of votes further than that which went for legitimate expenses, such as newspaper advertising and the like.

ATLANTIC LEAGUE DEAD.

Quietus Given It Last Night by the Withdrawal of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre.

Being satisfied that the grounds at Harrisburg are not being set out as agreed, so that the club could open there on the 15th inst.; that the club at Atlantic City will not materialize, and the conditions under which the Allentown club left the field, coupled with the lack of confidence in the stability of the teams representing Reading and Harrisburg at Scranton and Harrisburg, the members of the Atlantic League concluded last evening that further efforts to continue the Atlantic league were useless and have decided not to play out the Atlantic league schedule.
