MORE CHILDREN'S DAY EXER-CISES IN THE CHURCHES.

Pupils at the First Baptist and Tabernacle Congregational Sunday Schools Hold Interesting Services. iam Nichols Hurt in a Runaway. Young Man Arrested for Discharging Firearms-News of the Churches and Other Notes.

The pupils of the First Baptist and Tabernacle Congregational churches observed Children's *Lay yesterday, the former in the morning and the latter in the evening. At both edifices the floral decorations were superb, and the singing by the children was exceptionally good. The services were attended by large audiences and proved to be very interesting.

Dr. B. G. Beddoe, superintendent of the Sunday school, directed the exerelses at the First Baptist church, and was ably assisted by Miss Mattie Wat-kins, superintendent of the primary department. The programme consisted of class exercises, choruses, recitations and responsive Scriptural read-Hey, S. F. Matthews, the pastor, made a short address and prayer was offered by Rev. R M. Roderick,

The recitations were "The Small Poy" Charles Williams; "Flower Sun-day," Lizzle Butts; "I Wouldn't," Lizgle Stanley; "Opportunity," Wiffred Davis: "No Money," Chara Reed. The church choir also sang an anthem during the service. At the evening service Rev. Watkins preached a special sermon pertaining to children, which was attentively listened to by a large

Ida Jones sang the solo part in the chorus "The March of the Grass," and Myrile Breece and Lillie Evans gave the closing recitations. Rev. D. P. Jones delivered a short address on the ignificance of the service, and a sextette, composed of Mrs. Cass Morgan, Mrs. Powell G. Reese, Mrs. C. Morgans, Misses Fannie J. Evans, Rachael Funeral of Lemuel Nichols-Will- Reese and Rebecca Howells, sang "Ast One His Mother Comforteth." losing song, "God with Us," was rendered in an effective teanner by all the singers. The service was in every respect worthy of commendation, and was listened to by an audience that filled the capacious edifice. INJURED ON THE BOULEVARD. William McNichols, of Luzerne street. aged 30 years, sustained a fractured leg on Saturday by being thrown from a carriage on the Elmhurst boulevard. McNichols' horse ran away and as the carriage swerved around one of the sharp curves in the boulevard he was thrown from his seat. In falling out of the carriage his right foot became entangled in the wagon wheel. He was removed to the Lackawanna hospital. Previous to the arrival of the ambulance the injured man was made ance from Dr. McGrath. Mr. McNichols had been attending the race meet on the Speedway and started for home about 6 o'clock. The horse became unmanageable and at the curve just the other side of the bridge crossing at Nay Aug stream the driver was thrown out. The horse continued its mad flight. There were many people on the boulevard at the time and willing hands assisted the injured man until medical attendance arrived.

PRESENTATION TO P. J. KELLY BY THE Y. M. I.

Mr. Kelly Is About to Move to Carbondale Where He will Become Superintendent of the Carbondale Traction Company-Children's Day Services in the Hickory Street Presbyterian Church - Mrs. Ed-Party.

The smoker given Saturday night in Pharmacy hall by Columbus council, 173, Young Men's Institute, was one that will long be remembered by the embers of that organization, and not only on account of the highly enter-taining programme rendered or the resence of good fellowship, but more specially of one incident that touchd all present deeply.

The incident referred to was the preentation of a handsome gold watch to P. J. Kelly, one of their most active members, and who will shortly sever his connection with that organization and move to Carbondale, where he has been recently appointed super-intendent of the Carbondale Traction The presentation speech was made by the president, M. J. Mc-Hugh, who said in part:

"This evening's entertainment is given in honor of one of our most earnest and faithful workers in the ause of the Young Men's Institute, Through his energy and hard work he has helped to build up our council to the position in which it now stands. He served our council in the capacity of president for four terms, and on many committees on which he served, although put to many disadvantages, he did so without a murmur, and to make it convenient for him to perform the duties of his new office, to which lately promoted, I ask him, in behalf of Columbus council, 179, Young Men's Institute, to accept this ratch as a token of our respect and esteem.

It took Mr. Kelly by surprise, and he was overcome by emotion. Controlling himself sufficiently he made a neat little speech, thanking them for their kindness and assuring them that though absent from their meetings he would ever remember with gratitude Columbus council, 179. The programme rendered was particularly fine, consisting or songs, dances, recitations and character sketches. Refreshments were also served. Cusick's orchestra ernished the music for the occasion. Mr. Kelly had for a number of years prior to his promotion been clerking in the office of the Scranton Traction company, where, by his faithfulness and energy, he was promoted until he superintends the Carbondale branch.

At New Moon Against the deepening azure in the West You stender moon now dits her graceful horn, in ambient beauty lovely as the morn; And just above, a single star, at rest. Upon the evening's calm and peaceful breast, Adds its faint, steadfast spiender to adorn The elson mantle by the evening worn, ome far world in a point of light exprest

You from your store of wishes, mulden, take And, guzing on the star-hung crescent, make That wish, nor from the pleasant secret part; Nor yet because deferred should you forsake

The hope you've centered in this ancient art.
