A PLEASANT EVENING.

Annual Social of Penn Avenue Baptist Church Given Last Night.

The annual social of the Penn Avenue Baptist Church was given last night in the church parlors and proved a great success. A very large number of persons were present and heartily enjoyed the evening.

An interesting program was rendered before the members of the church choir singing several selections, and Mr. Roberts giving a very fine solo.

Mrs. Frank Brundage sang in excellent voice, as did also Miss Sadie Edwards. J. W. Browning gave a short address on "Our Tourists," speaking about the coming trip of Rev. Dr. Pierce and J. Lawrence Stelle to London, where Dr. Pierce will act as a delegate to the Christian Endeavor convention.

The rooms were decorated with palms and greens, and a large crowd, studded with electric lights. The La-

THREE ARE ACCUSED OF BREAKING FAITH

SALOON KEEPERS VIOLATE THE AGREEMENT MADE.

Evidence Collected Which Shows That Three of the Nineteen Dealers Whose Cases Were Continued Last Wednesday, Through the Graciousness of the Men's Union, Sold Drink on the Very First Subsequent Sunday—Warrant Issued for Arrest of O'Connor and Walsh.

We, the undersigned hotel and restaurant keepers, holding licenses granted by the court of quarter sessions of Lackawanna county, being desirous of observing the laws regulating the sale of liquors, hereby pledge ourselves to observe said laws. We will not sell any liquor, beer or other intoxicating drinks, or allow the same to be sold on our respective premises on Sundays or election days, and will not sell any liquor, beer or other intoxicating liquors by persons who do not have a license.

On Sundays and election days we will give the authorized agents of the Men's union access to our premises for the purpose of ascertaining whether this pledge is being violated. In witness whereof, we hereto subscribe our names this 13th day of June, A. D. 1900.

It was in pursuance of this agreement that the Men's union consented to withhold the prosecutions against the fifty-two licensed liquor dealers who, it is alleged, were detected in violations of the license laws. Last Wednesday nineteen of the cases were brought on for a hearing on rules to revoke licenses. Last Sunday three of these nineteen, it is claimed, were doing side-door business as usual.

When the rules in these cases come up for final disposition, after the prescribed period of probation, which terminates in September, there will be three liquor dealers, at least, who will be called upon to show why their licenses should not be revoked, and it is safe to say they will have to make a very elaborate showing if they succeed in continuing in possession of their licenses.

One of the alleged offending parties, the firm of O'Connor and Walsh, of 215 Lackawanna avenue, will be further required to answer as defendants in a criminal action for selling on Sunday. A warrant for their arrest was issued yesterday, and they will be given a hearing today.

Attorney E. E. Beers, of counsel for the Men's union, says that secret agents of the union who were about the city last Sunday to see if the probationers were observing the law, secured evidence that O'Connor and Walsh were selling drink in violation of the law. Robert Wilson went to the place.

TO REMOVE TOLL GATE.

Street Commissioner Thomas will today notify the officials of the Elm-burst Boulevard company, reminding them that their toll gate from Noy Aug park is immediately to be removed. This action will be taken in pursuance of the provisions of a resolution recently adopted by both councils. Should the company refuse to remove the toll gate, the city solicitor is empowered to take the necessary legal steps to compel its removal.

The company submitted a proposition at last Thursday evening's meeting of council which would, it was thought, prevent action on the resolution. This proposition was referred to the parks committee, park commissioners, city solicitor and city engineer, but will probably never be acted upon, as the majority of the councilmen consider it to be too absurdly ridiculous to be considered for a moment.

The proposition of the company is that the city purchase from it the right of way through Noy Aug park for the sum of $17,500, the company to be allowed free access to the boulevard on the road from Arthur avenue to the tracks of the Erie and Wyoming railroad. The company also insists that if this proposition is accepted the city is not to allow any other road to be constructed through the park opening onto the boulevard.

SALES BY COUNTY TREASURER.

Several Hundred Properties Sold for Unpaid Taxes.

County Treasurer M. J. Kelly yesterday auctioned off several hundred properties seized by the county for unpaid taxes. At noon, when adjournment was made, the advertised list had been gone over as far as the properties in most of the properties for the mere amount of the tax claim.

The auctioneering was done in the arbitration room. The bidders were few, and, as a consequence, the county commissioners were compelled to buy in most of the properties for the mere amount of the tax claim.

PIANO STUDY.

The Conservatory Courses.

Piano study, to lead to satisfactory results, must be carried on under teachers who have had years of training under the best masters. With first-class teachers, a model method, one that produces players and musicians, and the tuition at prices which all can reach, the Scranton Conservatory of Music offers the finest advantages ever offered in this city. Tuition from thirty to forty-five dollars per year (forty weeks), with two lessons per week; other courses, with from three to six lessons per week, at correspondingly higher rates. Send for catalogue to J. Alfred Pennington (organist of Elm Park church), director.

One Million Population

Before 1950. This is the prediction of an eminent scientist for the city of Niagara Falls. No such inducements can be found in any city for investors as are being offered in Niagara Falls, the coming manufacturing city of the world. Note the advantages: First—The greatest amount of the cheapest power. Second—The Eastern terminus of the great lakes traffic. Third—Nine trunk line railroads center there. Fourth—The grandest natural scenery in the world. Fifth—Sanitary conditions seldom found in a river city. We have real estate in all parts of the city. Investigate our property and prices, and you will be convinced, as others have been, that we have the best on the market. Highlands Land Co., E. H. FOUNDATION IS COMPLETED.

Work on the Monument Proper Is Now in Order.

Contractor Matthias Stipp yesterday completed the construction of the foundation for the soldiers' and sailors' monument, and the county commissioners notified the Harrison Granite company, which has the contract for the superstructure, that it might begin work at once. The stone is being cut and dressed at Hartwick, Vt., and is nearly ready for shipment.

The foundation contains eight hundred tons of solid masonry and concrete. As far as wear is concerned, it is one huge cylindrical block of stone, for the cement in which the rock was laid becomes as hard, if not harder, than the stone itself.

The original contract specified a series of three circular walls, each about a yard in thickness with spaces of the same dimension between them, the center to be a circular core five feet in diameter. Edward Bartl, the consulting engineer hired by the county commissioners, would not approve this plan and the solid masonry was substituted. The stone steps projecting beyond the main foundation on the north and south are supported by steel rails embedded in the masonry. The foundation weighs about twice as much as the monument.

The construction of the foundation was a piece of work that won for Contractor Stipp many encomiums, especially for the manner in which he so successfully combated the immense flow of water which was encountered half way down the thirty-five foot well in which the foundation rests.

TRIO OF LAWSUITS.

Two Are for Damages and One to Enforce Partition—Details of the Proceedings.

Suit for $4,000 damages was instituted yesterday in Prothonotary John Copeland's office by John Gerrity and his wife, Hannah B. Gerrity, against the Erie Manufacturing company. March 16 of this year while walking along Penn avenue Mrs. Gerrity was struck on the head and shoulders alleged to have been shoveled from the roof of the defendant company's shop. She wears $3,000 damages as reasonable for the injuries she sustained and the husband demands $1,000 for the loss of her services and expense of caring for her. Attorneys F. E. Boyle and L. P. Wedeman represent the plaintiffs.

Equity proceedings were begun by Jacob Lotz to compel his co-heirs, Conrad Lotz, Christian Lotz, Annie Kann and W. J. Hocking, to divide a property on Tenth street which descended to them jointly by the death of George Lotz, father of the plaintiff and the three first named defendants and father-in-law of Mr. Hocking.

The lot is No. 14 in Block 21 on the J. Heerman's map of South Hyde Park, and is improved with two frame dwellings. Attorney George D. Taylor represents the plaintiff.

Attorney R. B. Levy yesterday began proceedings in a suit for trespass against the Scranton Railway company, acting for Joseph Mikulski, a miner living in Peleburg. The latter claims that in the early part of the month he was riding on a Providence bound car about 6 o'clock in the evening with several companions, and that while getting off the car the conductor gave him a rough push and he fell to the road, sustaining injuries which continued him to his bed.

He had some trouble with the conductor over the question of transfer. Shortly after he wished to get off the car and the conductor, he alleges, said to him, "Well, jump off." His companions sprang off without any injury, but he claims that as he was getting off he was pushed and he struck his head against a large cobbler in the road.

Mikulski is now ill at his home in Providence. The sum of the damages has not yet been fixed.

GOT HIS FOOT IN.

He knocked on the side door, so he likely thought, and Mr. O'Connor answered his knock. Agnes Wilson demanded admittance in pursuance to the terms of the agreement, but Mr. O'Connor would not let him in. Wilson, however, got his foot between the door and the jam and prevented its being closed until he and one of his assistants saw, so they claim, that the barroom was crowded and that men were drinking at the bar in large numbers.

"You can say for the Men's union," remarked Mr. Beers, "that it is not likely that there will be any display of leniency in this case or others of like character. They are the limit."

The names of the others who, it is alleged, broke faith with the union the very first Sunday after the agreement was signed would not be given out.

EXHIBITION OF PUPILS' WORK.

Given at the Studios Connected with Hardenbergh School.

Miss Hester A. Worthington had an exhibition yesterday of pupils' work in the studios connected with the Hardenbergh School. The actual class work was shown and great advance made by the students was marked. The drawings were chiefly in charcoal from casts, interspersed by pencil sketches. The exhibition will be open today and the public is invited to view the year's work.

Among the pupils exhibiting are: Miss Anna Law, of Pittsboro; Miss Grace Birdsall, Miss Gould, Miss Laura Schimpf, John Coolidge, Miss Charlotte Morris, Miss Marjorie Platt, Miss Louise Smith, D'Andelot Bell, Kiesters Salspans, Leon Brown, Miss Ruth Hand, Miss Eloise Phelps, Miss Janet Jones, Miss Ellen Donahue, Lou Watkins, Kenneth Welles, Rodney Meisa.

AMOUNT NEARLY RAISED.

Y. M. C. A. Building Fund Has Reached $189,000.

"There's a pledge for $10,000 which I have just received this afternoon from one man," said Secretary Mahy, of the Young Men's Christian association, yesterday in a Tribune man.

"We have now got just $189,000 out of a necessary $200,000," he continued, "and the other $12,000 is in sight. Just as soon as this latter amount is raised and some other developments occur, we shall award the contract and the work will be commenced."

"Of this $189,000 I spoke of, $75,000 is in cash, and $75,000 is in the form of pledges from six men, $25,000 from one and $10,000 apiece from five others. The other remaining $13,000 is in the form of miscellaneous pledges for small amounts."

EVERHART AT LAST MAKES A STATEMENT

HE SAYS THE MURDER WAS BRAGGED BY LEWIS.

Edwin E. Everhart has at last made a statement of his side of the alleged conspiracy case. He claims it is a conspiracy between Lewis and himself. When the Hinsland scandal eventuated, he took to drinking heavily, he says, and has since been on a continuous debauch. Several times he made an effort to straighten up, but each time his brooding drove him to further drinking.

While in a condition bordering on insanity, he says, Lewis, who, he claims, was the emissary of one of his enemies, instigated himself into his confidence and broached the scheme to get hold of the credit for the case. What ever he did, he says, was done when he was wholly unaccountable for his actions.

This latter claim has been corroborated to a certain degree by the newspaper men who have made an unprejudiced investigation of the case. What Everhart had been drinking heavily for weeks and on Monday night when he went to the Turkish bath was in a delirium from alcoholic poisoning.

It is likely that Everhart will be released from jail today. His father is disposed to credit the story that the son's hand was turned against him, if it really was, by his enemies, when he was out of his mind from brooding and drink and this, coupled with the fact that he cannot bear the thought of his boy being in jail under the attendant circumstances, has prompted him to acquiesce in the proposition that the accused should be released on condition that he will leave the country and live a new life. The bondsman, it is said, will be provided by the father.

The prisoner says he is to go to South Africa and stay there. He will secure an English grant, he says, and with money that is to be placed at his disposal, conditionally, enter upon diamond mining.

He appears to be sincere in his penitence and intentions.
