The annual commencement and graduating exercises of the Chi Upsilon society of the Washburn Street Presbyterian church were held last evening and participated in by a large number of the members and their lady friends. With each succeeding year this feature of the society's work becomes more interesting and enjoyable and the programme given last evening was thoroughly enjoyed by those in at-

Rev. J. P. Moffatt, D. D., opened the exercises with prayer and Harry Nei-meyer was chairman of the evening. He made some clever and witty intraductory remarks and introduced the different speakers in a very pleasing manner. Frank Thornton gave the address of welcome and reviewed the work of the society during the past year. Arthur E. Morse read the class poem, which was a humorous, satirical composition that included the acts and misdoings of his fellow Chi U's.

George Waters, the class prophet, gave a very eleverly worded forecas: of the future achievements of the graifuates and said some nice things about the boys identified with the society. Professor Stone, the class orator, spoke in a very serious strain on "The Con centration of Thought" and expressed the belief that men should give their attention to one idea instead of many contended that young men and women should more fully realize the questions of the hour and awaken to the esponsibility in what we ought to do. He touched upon the crusade which s now going on in this city and paid his compliments to men who are elected to office by the people and use their positions for personal gain. Turvey Breece, president of the society, presented the diplomas to the graduates, which created no end of amusement. The prizes consisted of toys and trinkets and were presented to Dr. Moffat, Professor Stone, Thomas Patton, Herry Neimeyer, Frank Thornton, Arthur Morse, George Waters, Her-bert Waters, Condit Keene, David Morgan, William Burrell, Herbert Hall, Will Reitnaur, James Griffiths, M.
