Clarence O. Reed spent Sunday at the home of his mother in Glenburn.

Assistant Postmaster John Williams, of Wilkes-Barre, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. C. P. Keyson, of New York street, is spending two weeks at Atlantic City.

W. D. Kennedy and family have returned from Europe, where they spent several months.

Mrs. Charles Bryant, of New York, is the guest of Mrs. E. H. Lynde, of Gibson street.

Miss Gertrude A. Peet, of 425 Monroe avenue, is spending her vacation with relatives at Lake Ariel and Hamilton, Pa.

Attorney P. E. Killebrew, of this city, is taking a summer law course in one of the universities at Washington, D. C.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Roberts have returned from Washington, D. C., where they attended the National Homeopathic convention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Campbell attended the Kinney-Cook wedding at Wilkes-Barre last evening, being the guests of Mr. Kinney at Hotel Sterling.

Miss Emma Schumacher, of Evansville, Ind., who is on her way home from a six months' tour of Europe, is the guest of Miss Hortense Coyne, of Adams avenue.

John LaGorce, of Washington, D. C., formerly of this city, arrived in town yesterday and will remain a day or two the guest of P. S. Risdale, city editor of the Leader. Mr. LaGorce is one of the most efficient telegraphers in the employ of the Western Union and during the recent convention in Philadelphia had charge of the principal office. Next week he will fill a similar position at the Democratic national convention to be held in Kansas City. Wilkes-Barre News. Mr. LaGorce was for some time employed in the Western Union office in this city.

George A. Robathan, of Pocatello, Idaho, is the guest of his cousin, E. B. Robathan, of the county commissioners' office. He came to attend the Republican convention in Philadelphia and on the way home proposes to look in on the Democrats at Kansas City, July 4. Mr. Robathan went from Schuylkill county to Idaho, twenty-one years ago, and has become one of the most prominent and prosperous men of Idaho. Among the important positions he has held is that of president of the board of regents of the University of Idaho. He is an alumnus of Wyoming seminary, Kingston. This is his first visit to Scranton and it was not until last week that he and his Scranton cousin met for the first time. He is much impressed with the Electric City, but says he would not live in Schuylkill county if he was given a warrant deed for the whole place.

A NOTABLE TRAIT.

And No One Blames Us for It.

It is a notable trait of the American people that, no matter how humble their circumstances, they are as ambitious as their more fortunate neighbors of securing for their children the best instruction in literature, science or music. There are few homes without a piano, but until the advent of the Paetlon method, piano instruction under the best teachers was a luxury to be enjoyed by the few, and the remainder had to be contented with what they could get. But with the Paetlon method, as taught in the Scranton Conservatory of Music, the poor and rich can alike afford teachers of long experience and superior training. Whether considered from its ability to produce musicians, or from its financial aspect, this method answers to the term "ideal."

Boys, have you heard the Serfa Alpine club, of Boston? If not, take a run around to Peter Zeigler's Elk canteen on Franklin avenue and enjoy some excellent music.

ANNUAL MEETING OF S. P. C. A.

Officers Were Elected and Several Reports Read.

At the annual meeting of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals held yesterday afternoon in the board of trade rooms, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, J. M. Kemmerer; vice president, Thomas Sprague; Mrs. William Silkman, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Miss Louise Hardenbergh, Mrs. W. E. Thayer, Mrs. E. B. Sturges and Mrs. Walter Henwood; secretary and treasurer, Dolph B. Atherton; agent, E. H. Knapp.

The treasurer's report, which was read, showed a balance in cash at the present time of $176. The agent's report for the year was also read and showed that a vast amount of work had been done during the past year, even though very few meetings had been held.

KERVIN'S FIRST GAME.

Ex-Scranton Player Won Game Against Cleveland Sunday.

Pitcher Dan Kervin, of the late Scranton base ball team, pitched his first game in the American league Sunday, twirling for Buffalo against Cleveland. The youngster, who a year ago was playing on the Philadelphia sand lots, pitched like a veteran and won his game, only giving the hard-hitting Cleveland six hits.

Three men who were National league players last year faced him, Sullivan, Lachance and McAleer. The trio made two singles, both of which were scored by Lachance.

Kervin made a big hit with the Buffalo fans, and if he continues that sort of work he will be in the National league before long.

SABBATH DESECRATION.

Member of Men's Union Protests to the Mayor.

J. F. Hangi, a member of the Men's union, of Green Ridge, yesterday complained to Mayor Moir that the Italians of the city were preparing to celebrate the feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel on July 22, and that they were going to desecrate the Sabbath by discharging fireworks, etc.

The mayor investigated the matter and found that the celebration was to be held in the Round Woods, which are outside the city limits and accordingly out of his jurisdiction. A parade is to be held before celebration, however, and he has assured Mr. Hangi that he will allow no firing of fireworks along the line of march.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[Under this heading short letters of interest will be published when accompanied, for publication, by the writer's name. The Tribune does not assume responsibility for opinions here expressed.]

The Moses Taylor Hospital.

Editor of the Tribune—

Sir: May I ask leave to speak of an institution which presents more than a passing mention. I refer to the Moses Taylor hospital. How many such there are, save those subject to its tender care, can begin to realize its value in this community. The hospital stands a colossal and an enduring monument to the name of its founder. It presents an unshakable token of his humanity to suffering man and by its erection his name is cherished to many who may or may not have occasion to participate in its careful treatment, of which it stands open wide to all of every clime.

Its mission of mercy is beyond comprehension, except to those of its management and others who year in and year out administer to the afflicted ones. She is blessed and thrice blessed whose life is devoted to the care of the sick and the distressed. Her devotedness is to be extolled for all time for his philanthropic act. Scranton is fortunate in having such a noble bequest.

CONDITION DOES NOT WARRANT RELEASE

EVERHART ON THE VERGE OF PHYSICAL COLLAPSE.

His Liberation from Jail Is Now a Very Indefinite Thing—Says Himself He Does Not Want to Go Out Till He More Fully Recovers His Physical and Mental Strength. Strain Which He Has Undergone Has Shattered His Nerves—His Father's Position.

There is, now, no telling when Edwin E. Everhart will be released from jail. He is in a condition, physically speaking, that borders on collapse, and until he regains his strength it is thought best not to permit him to be at large.

Warden W. T. Simpson, who became an expert in the treatment of such cases, during his long service as desk sergeant at the county's office and which is occupied by Richard Little, the Sunday Scrantonian editor, who is serving six months for libel, was assigned to Everhart, that he might be closely watched by the keepers and his fellow-occupant, it being feared that harm might come to him if he was placed in one of the corridor cells.

When Everhart was brought in, the warden's trained eye saw that the prisoner was on the verge of the "lim-jams," and at once took steps to straighten him out. The debtor's cell, which adjoins the keeper's office and which is occupied by Richard Little, the Sunday Scrantonian editor, who is serving six months for libel, was assigned to Everhart, that he might be closely watched by the keepers and his fellow-occupant, it being feared that harm might come to him if he was placed in one of the corridor cells.

BECAME DELIRIOUS.

He became delirious for a time, but the treatment applied by Warden Simpson checked the working of the alcoholic poisoning and in a day and night he was brought safely through the attack.

The medicine which the warden applied to his prisoner in the station houses as "bug juice," is a heroic remedy and when heroically applied, as it had to be in Everhart's desperate case, has a fearfully debilitating effect. Everhart was shaking all over like an aspen leaf when a Tribune reporter saw him yesterday afternoon. He said he expected to go out yesterday, but when he found himself so weak and nervous, he concluded that the best thing to do was to remain in the jail and have Warden Simpson finish his course of treatment.

"I have made only a partial statement of my side of the case," Everhart said to the Tribune reporter. "What I have said was only to let the public, and particularly my friends, know that there are two sides to the story, and that I am not as bad as my enemies would have me painted. "I will make a further and complete statement when I recover my full senses, and corroborate certain things that I want to be able to positively prove, and which, just at present, I have only a hazy recollection of."

"Lewis' story will be viewed differently from what it is now, when I get through with him."

"I will also show that I never stole a dollar in my life, and that those checks, which it is alleged I forged, were my own checks, given on my own account for gambling debts, and that the only trouble about them resulted from my having stopped payment on them."

REITERATED STATEMENT.

He emphatically reiterated his statement of the previous day, that Lewis broached the crime to him, and that it was his firm belief that Lewis was not alone in the conspiracy.

Attorney Clarence Ballentine, who defended Everhart at Friday's hearing corroborates his client's claim that he could have secured bail if he wanted it.

Mr. Ballentine says Everhart was offered his release Saturday, but would not accept it, preferring to stay in jail till he could get the liquor out of his system. The man who he became Everhart's bondsman, according to Mr. Ballentine's statement, is an intimate friend of Dr. Everhart.

Had Everhart's father been done away with the son, it was supposed, would have come immediately into vast wealth. As explained previously in The Tribune, this is erroneous. The father had his estate so tied up in his will that the son could receive only sufficient to barely maintain him. Now it is as good as certain that he will get nothing except what will be dealt out to him through an attorney or other agent to start him in business in South Africa. Despite this fact, the Rinsland trespass suit has proceeded with. A hearing was had yesterday morning before Arbitrators L. P. Wedeman, Russell Dimmick and John F. Murphy and the testimony of four more witnesses was presented by the plaintiff, City Assessor Philip Rinsland tending to corroborate the charges against the son. A hearing was had yesterday morning before Arbitrators L. P. Wedeman, Russell Dimmick and John F. Murphy and the testimony of four more witnesses was presented by the plaintiff, City Assessor Philip Rinsland tending to corroborate the charges against the son.

CAN BUILD BRANCH ROAD

Decision by Judge Weiss at Harrisburg in Favor of Erie and Wyoming Valley Railroad Co.

The following Associated Press was received by The Tribune last night: "Harrisburg, June 26.—Judge Weiss handed down an opinion today in favor of the Erie and Wyoming Valley Railroad company in which he finds that the company has the right to construct a branch road from Hawley, Wayne county, to Lackawanna, Pike county. "Under this decision, if it is sustained by the higher courts, the independent coal producers will have an outlet to tidewater over the abandoned bed of the Delaware and Hudson canal to Kingston."

MID-SUMMER DANCE.

Held at Laurel Hill Park by the Twelve Jollies Last Evening.

About two hundred young people enjoyed a mid-summer dance at Laurel Hill park last evening, under the auspices of the Twelve Jollies, a social organization composed of several well known young men. It was the third annual event and proved to be more successful than previous events.

Music was furnished by Berghausen's orchestra, and the affair was in charge of a committee composed of Ben Mendelson, chairman; H. V. Lawler, Charles J. Mirtz, Joseph Heen and Joseph Ball. The other members of the circle of J. W. Mendelson, L. W. Gschwind, Frank Bickens, John Jansen, Bernard Golden, Frank McLoughlin and William Philbin. Caterer P. J. Girex served refreshments.

Among the out-of-town guests were the Misses Marietta Hacker and Loretta McAvoy, of Pleasant Mount.

LAKE ARIEL.

A Pleasant Day Will Be Spent on July 4.

The largest excursion leaving the city on the Erie and Wyoming Valley will be the one to this ever-popular resort, where the management have made special arrangement for accommodation and entertainment of all. Among the special features the most remarkable will be the high wire trick artist and the wire walker, Mr. Will H. Davidson, who is recognized the world over as being the greatest artist in his line. Lawrence's band and orchestra will furnish concert and dancing music. All kinds of refreshments will be served on the grounds. In the evening there will be a grand display of fireworks. Trains leave Erie and Wyoming Valley depot every hour.

Think It Over.

Smith—"Say, Jones, here is a problem for you: Why is extreme old age like artistic photography?"

Jones—"I can't guess. Why are they alike?"

Smith—"Simply because they are to be attained when you reach 110"—then he added in a whisper—"Wyoming avenue, at Schrievers'."

YEAR'S WORK ENDED AT ST. CECILIA'S

CLASS OF TWELVE GRADUATED IN ST. THOMAS' HALL.

Most Enjoyable Exercises Attendant Upon the Twenty-Eighth Annual Commencement—A Brief Address Given by Rt. Rev. Bishop M. J. Hoban, While the Diplomas and Prizes Were Presented by Rev. P. J. Gough—The Names of the Graduates and of the Prize Winners.

In the presence of an audience which completely filled the spacious St. Thomas' College hall a class of nine young women and three young men were last evening graduated from St. Cecilia's academy, the occasion being the twenty-eighth annual commencement of that institution. The prizes and medals awarded to the students for proficiency in other studies were also conferred.

All of the students of the academy were seated upon the stage when the exercises began shortly before 8 o'clock, a pretty forest scene being set. The young ladies were all attired in white and presented a most charming appearance. The opening number was an overture beautifully rendered by the St. Cecilia orchestra.

GREETING CHORUS.

After a chorus of greeting by the entire class a brief address was delivered by Right Rev. Bishop Hoban, who congratulated the class upon the excellent showing made, and the sisters for their faithful and proficient work. He also dwelt upon the manifold benefits accruing to pupils attending Catholic academies and urged all parents, as far as possible, to send their pupils to Catholic institutions of learning.

Rev. P. J. Gough, of the Cathedral, then presented the diplomas to the members of the graduating class, and also the prizes to the other classes. The names of the members of the graduating class by courses are as follows:

Academic Department—Misses Mary Neville, Helen Keenan, Margaret Faidon, Anne Casick, Masters Edward Burke, Arthur Blevitt.

Commercial Department—Misses Catherine Loughran, Sadie Lapping, Catherine Biglin, Helen McLean, Master Edward McGovern.

Bookkeeping—Miss Josephine Gray.

Prizes were awarded to the following students:

Gold cross for conduct, to Miss Loretta Mc-Cormac.

Crowns for conduct, to Misses Nora Healy, Frances Timlin, Catherine McNally, Emma Sienberger, Louise Collins, Bertha Kelly, Hannah O'Connell.

Badges for conduct, to Master James Bradley, Francis Barrett, Matthew Lynott, Thomas Morgan.

Gold cross for Christian doctrine, merited by the Misses Rose Bradley, Berlie Timlin, Lucy Loughran, Bessie McGee; drawn by Miss Lucy Loughran.

Premiums for Christian doctrine, to Misses Bessie McGee, Rose Bradley, Berlie Timlin.

Premiums for music, to Misses Margaret Dever, Bradley, Lucy Loughran, Mary O'Hara, Stella Wilz, Katie McNally, Clara McDonald, Veronica James, Katie Loftus, Mary Kelly, Mary Casey. Badge to Master Francis Potter.

Premiums for drawing and painting, to Misses Rhea Aram, Victoria Kenny, Master Robert Johnston.

Premiums for painting, to Masters William Lynn, William O'Hara, James Sweeney.

Gold cross for literature, to Miss Grace Moran.

Gold cross for mathematics, to Miss Margaret Dever.

Premium for Latin, to Miss Nellie Keegan.

Premium for perfect lesson, to Miss Mary Lynn.

Premium for regular attendance, to Master James Stone.

Badges for excellence, to the members of the junior class: Misses Susan Burns, Margaret Dever, Grace Moran, Loretta MacCormac, Alice Magrath, Jennie Morgan, Mary Whalen.

FROM WEST CHESTER.

The following was printed in the Philadelphia Inquirer yesterday as a special dispatch from West Chester:

"Edwin E. Everhart, who is in prison at Scranton on the charge of plotting the murder of his father, Dr. I. P. Everhart, is the only direct heir to property in this place valued at nearly one million dollars. The Everhart estate is being held in trust by West Chester. In time, if not claimed by young Everhart or his father, all this property will revert to the state of Pennsylvania.

"The Everharts in this place are Benjamin F. and Dr. John R., brothers of the late Congressman James B. Everhart and first cousins of Dr. Edwin E. Everhart. They are both unmarried and their nearest relatives are the Everharts in Scranton.

"William Everhart, the father of the Everhart family in this place, left a will by which the latter became joint owners in his vast estate in case they did not marry, but if they did so they lost their interest. It was also provided that they cannot will the property to any person, and upon their deaths it would naturally revert either to Dr. I. P. Everhart or his son Edwin E., although it seemed to be the wish of William Everhart that it should go to the state upon the death of his children."

COMMISSION HAS EXPIRED.

Who Will Succeed Major General Snowden?

Major General Snowden's commission expired Monday, and military men high in command, as well as the rank and file of the National Guard, are speculating as to who will succeed him. It is believed by some persons that an appointment will not be made until after the division encampment at Mt. Gettysburg in August. Brigadier General Gobin, of the Third brigade, and Brigadier General Miller, who is at present without a command, are the candidates for General Snowden's place.

The fact that General Gobin is the senior brigadier and holds the office of lieutenant governor, it is thought, will add strength to his candidacy; but it is claimed that General Miller is in a very good position to carry off the prize.

CHORAL MARCH.

A spirited choral march, "Forward Gaily Together," was sung by the graduates and seniors in dashing style, after which Master Edward Burke, a very talented young musician, and one of the graduates, rendered a beautiful violin solo and was obliged to respond to an encore.

The other numbers on the programme were a piano solo by Miss Mary O'Hara; a part song, "Murmuring Sea," by the graduates and seniors and two selections by the St. Cecilia orchestra.

According to the testimony of all, the past year has been the most successful in the history of the academy. Specimens of the work done by the students during the year will be on exhibition in the academy for two weeks, commencing today.
