Letter from a Mayfield Soldier. Band Concert-A Rumor Denied. Serious Accident.

Mrs. E. L. Gardner, of West Mayfield, has received a letter from her son, Henry, who is with the troops in the Philippines. He tells in a graphic manner of his experience in several sharp engagements he was in. He had pleasure of meeting Walter Snyder, of this town, near Legaspi, a short time before he wrote. Both are enjoying excellent health. Mr. Gardner is a member of Company F, Forty-seventh infantry, and is now at Daraga, Albay, P. I. They have done a lot of hard service, but were not very busy at the time of writing, and expect to be back in this country soon. Mr. Gardner, who was a corporal at Camp Meade, has since been promoted to sergeant. On their return trip they expect to come by way of Japan and California.

Mrs. Patrick Mullalley, of Scranton a niece of Mr. Bartley Mullen, of Third street, died yesterday. Through an error someone started the report that Mr. Mullen's daughter, Miss Sara, one of the teachers of the public schools, who is visiting in Pittsburg, had died, causing her many friends much alarm until the truth was ascertained and the report denied.

This evening the Mayfield band will render the following programme on J. J. Place's lawn: March "Peace Jubi-(Taylor); selection, "Bohemian Girl" (Balfe); medley, "Selection of Southern Plantation Songs" (Contours); baritone fantasia, "Il Trovatore" (Verdi), William Byrne; medley waltz. Charles Graham's last (unfinished) song, "She Always Loved You, Mother;" medley overture, "Slam-Bang" (Alberti); "Impecunious Da-Vis," characteristic march (Mills). FELINE STRATEGY.

A Cat That Might Have Been a Napoleon if He Had Been Born a Man. From the Grand Rapids Herald,

It was not his size or his beauty which made him remarkable, though his possession of these attributes of prominent among the cats of the neighborhood with whom he waged unrelenting warfare, but the fact is that he possessed a controlling mind and a strategic ability that would have made him a great commander had he been born in a more exalted sphere of life. For this cat, with true diplomacy, made friends with the dogs of his particular domain and went forth to battle attended by a bodyguard whose ap pearance inspired respect and assisted him in his combats. An English mast!ff a bird dog, and a small cocker spaniel shared his meals, and later enabled him to gain victories over his hated rival, the gray cat across the street. This cat had had many a contest with that gray cat, but the combat always rested in a draw because of the guerrilla tactics of his wary opponent, who preferred a short fight and a rapid dash to safety to a prolonged conflict where the superior weight and advantage. The thought that victory, undisputed, had never yet perched upon his banners vexed the soul of the diplomatic feline and embittered his milk and beefsteak with the wormwood of vengeance long delayed. But at last vertook the gray prowler and disturber of midnight slumber.

One day in a fatal hour the gray cut invaded the precincts of the feline Bismarck when the allies of the latter were at hand. When he struck a sudden blow and ran, a smile of joy parted the whiskers of the cat with the blocks owned his undisputed sway.

Continually driven back into the ring by the three dogs, the gray cat was unable to pursue his favorite tactics, and the result, after one of the prettiest "cat scraps" that that ward had ever seen, was complete victory for the cat with the diplomatic in clinations. Only when the gray cat, by diplomacy triumphed and retribution a flying leap over the heads of the dogs, escaped did he let up in the work of righteous retribution. Then, in th consciousness of victory, the conor returned, accompanied by his ail to his repast of milk and beefsteak lord of his own domain. And the surrounding neighbrhood as far as three
