A Highway of Steel.

What the great Apia forum was to Rome, so are the tracks of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railway to America. It is the great highway of travel between New York and Chicago, and embodies the highest points of excellence in modern railroad building. Its tracks are as level and solid as a billiard table, and its cars roll along the great steel highways as evenly as a rubber-tired carriage in Central Park. Its bridges and arches are of steel and passengers on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern rallway may travel with a sense of ab solute security and utmost ea se. **

CITY VISITED BY A

NUMBER OF PLACES WERE STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Storm Began About 4.15 P. M. and for the First Few Minutes After It Broke the Downpour Was Remarkably Heavy-John Loftus, of jured by a Bolt of Lightning. City and Dunmore Were Struck.

The city was visited yesterday afternoon about 4.15 o'clock by an exceedingly fierce electrical and rainstorm. The lightning struck in a number of places throughout the city and Dunmore, and for upwards of the fiftysecond time it was practically demonstrated that the sewers in the central part of the city are totally inadequate carry away any large volume of water resulting from a severe rainstorm. The storm came up very suddenly and was presaged by only a few fitful gusts of wind. When the rain came it did come and no mistake. It was a perfect downpour and was driven in sheets by the wind. It lasted for upwards of fifteen minutes, the precipitation being nearly three inches. The electrical display was both thrilling, and picturesque. Streaks of the electrical fluid shot across the sky in all directions, as if some glant hand were marking with an incandescent pencil upon the dark background of clouds

Linden street, between Wyoming and Washington avenues, has been formed into a miniature lake on previous occasions, but never into such a complete one as it was yesterday. The water was in some places nearly three feet deep,and extended away around Washington avenue in front of the government building.

COVERED WITH WATER

The catch-basins were completely covered by the water, and passage across the street was impossible, except to the barefooted newsboys, who had a gala time. The sewer on Wyoming avenue also proved incapable of carrying away the water, and the basethoroughfare, between Spruce street and Lackawanna avenue, were, as usual, partly filled with water, caused Alderman De Lacy advised him that by the overflow.

During her residence in China, while attending to her official and professional duties, she has by reading and observation familiarized herself the condition and customs of the people and with the civil and religious affairs in general of the empire, which just now is attracting the sympathetic interest of Chistendom.

Though Shanghai is several hundred miles south of Pekin, the "storm center" at present of disturbances, and even murders, the doctor regards with deep concern the threatening condition of civil and religious liberties throughout the entire and dense-

FOUR INJURED

TERRIBLE WORK OF LIGHTNING AT DUNMORE.

Struck the Tower of the Murray Breaker Killing John Regula and Injuring Michael Morrison, John Conway and John Zeliski-Engineer William Young Was Affected by the Lightning While at Work in the Engine Room-Will Take Three Months to Repair Breaker.

Lightning struck the Murray breaker at Dunmore yesterday afternoon. KILLED.

JOHN BEGULA, married, wife, two sons. INJURED.

MICHAEL MORRISON, slightly. JOHN CONWAY, slightly OHN ZELISKI. ENGINEER WILLIAM YOUNG, slightly.

John Regula, a laborer at the Murray shaft, at Sport Hill, Dunmore, was struck by a bolt of lightning and instantly killed, while at work in the ower of the breaker. The same bolt that caused his death struck the tower and utterly demolished it and hurled his body to the ground, together with the three men who were working with him. These latter were Michael Morrison John Conway and John Zeliski, and strange to say, only one of them received any injuries to speak about. Zeliski fell about ninety feet and received serious injuries about the breast. He was taken to his home on Throot street. Conway was practically uninjured, and Morrison only had a few slight bruises to show as the result of the fall. Morrison fell about seventy feet, fanding on the top of a small shanty near the breaker.

TOWER DESTROYED.

The tower of the breaker, with all its belting shafts and other machinery. was entirely destroyed, the timbers falling to the ground a mass of scattered debris. In the fall, part of the timbers crushed in the engine house, and the office and supply shanty were also badly damaged.

A group of men were sitting in the shanty and they, too, had a miracu-lous escape, not one of them being injured. The entire damage to the works and machinery will probably be be-tween $6,000 and $7,000, which is partially covered by insurance. It take about three months to rebuild the tower, as exceptionally large timbers are used in it which must be especially prepared.

This shaft is owned by Anthony and M. J. Murray, John Carney and Mrs. Brown, all of Dunmore, and employs about two hundred hands, the shaft turning out about three hundred tons of coal a day. When the storm was in progress yesterday about forty hands were at work outside the mine, and about one hundred and fifty in the inner workings. Regula and Zeliski were at work at the top of the shaft in the tower, dumping coal; Morrison superintending, and John Conway and a man by the name of Call, at work nearby. The rain was coming down in torrents, and every few minutes there would be a vivid flash of lightning, followed by a heavy boom of thunder This Murray breaker is evidently a mark for lightning, standing expose: and defenceless, and has been struct

Zeliski. The next moment there was a great noise, as the carriage, which was being hoisted from the shaft, rushed back again as the tower fell and with it the wheel on the rope that sustained the carriage. There was also a rush of water as the rain poured down through the open shaft. The miners scattered right and left, and managed to make their escape through the Spencer mine and No. 1 shaft. A party of sightseers, who were making a trip through the mines, experienced a great scare, but managed to get out safely. Engineer William Young was sitting in the engine house when the lightning struck, and so great was the shock that he was hurled fifteen feet. When he recovered, he hurriedly shut off the steam. Regula's remains were taken to his home on Drinker street, and will be
