RIGHTS OF ELMHURST BOULEVARD COMPANY

DISCUSSED BY SECRETARY T. H. WATKINS.

Company Was Organized by Public Spirited Citizens to Create a Drive-way That Would Open Up the Mountain Side to the Public. Opinion of Major Warren Defining the Legal Right of the Company. Has the Right to Collect Toll in City, He Says.

T. H. Watkins, secretary of the Boulevard company, was asked yesterday by a Tribune reporter whether or not the company had any objection in regard to the city solicitor's fight against the company's right to maintain a toll gate within the city limits.

When the Boulevard company was organized a few public spirited citizens, realizing the benefit to the whole city to be derived from a driving road leading out of the city practically free from railroad crossings and traversing a beautiful section of mountain country, went to a great deal of trouble to raise the money necessary to build such a road.

No large subscriptions were asked for, as it was intended to make the enterprise a public one. Every stockholder subscribing at the time was told that it was not a money-making enterprise, but purely and simply one to add to the pleasure of the stockholders and public generally.

The company's intention was, and is now, to spend the revenue derived from reasonable tolls in maintaining and extending the roads. The road was built with the least possible expense and involved no extravagance or waste and not one dollar of revenue has been received by an officer or stockholder of the company up to this time.

The policy of the company is to continue to improve the attractiveness of the boulevard and should have the support of every citizen of Scranton, and in place of trying to rob the company of part of its property the city should support the Boulevard company in its efforts to provide a perfect driveway and make the mountains one vast beautiful park.

Another fire ordinance. Mr. McAndrew, It is Said, Has One Up His Sleeve.

PEDESTRIANS GO FREE. The public should bear in mind that only the driving and wheeling public are required to pay toll, and they can afford to.

VERY HEAVY RAINFALL. Weather Observer Paine Gives Us the Measurements.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES. Charles P. O'Malley, the exception to the report of the surveyor of the first sewer district of the city, yesterday took an appeal to the supreme court.

property (and you purchased it as parcels of lots) the city acquired from the Consumers' Powder company and others, certain lands now known as Nay Aug Park, except, nevertheless, to the extent of the city's claim to the Elmhurst Boulevard company for the operation of a turnpike road over a portion of said tract.

REPORT OF VIEWERS. The action of the court was based upon the report of viewers, appointed by the court in accordance with the Act, who made their report, and there placed a toll gate upon the highway.

WOELKERS APPEARS IN A NEW ROLE

DOES A PAUL REVERE STUNT ON THE SOUTH SIDE.

Sounding a Gong and Driving Madly Through the Streets, He Gives Warning of the Approach of the Agents of the Men's Union, Who Are Bent on Raiding the Speak-easies—He Is Arrested on Three Charges and Held for Court—Other Arrests for Liquor Law Violations.

Constable Joseph F. Woelkers, of the Eleventh ward, was again arrested, yesterday. This time he is prosecuted by Agent Robert Wilson, of the Men's union.

The charges against him are aiding and abetting the violation of the liquor laws, assault, and using blasphemous language on the public highway.

Agent Wilson and a number of his assistants, one week ago Friday, started out on a tour of Prospect avenue, which is, or at least was, fairly honey-combed with holes-in-the-wall.

He continued driving through the neighborhood for a long time at break-neck speed, continuing the shouts of warning and banging away at his alarm bell.

APPLIED FOR A LICENSE. Kearney told the representatives of the union, after his arrest, that for the past five years he has filed an application for a license at each recurring term of license court, but each time he was refused.

Another prosecution. Attorney F. E. Beers says, is to be brought against "Gentleman Jack" Skelly, who, it appears, persists in openly selling on Sunday, despite his former arrest, the rule for a revocation of his license, the continuance of which through the leniency of the Men's union, and his
