A Great Opportunity to Secure Valuable Special Rewards for the Labor of the Next Eleven Weeks-Those Who Enter During July Will Have the Advantage-All Written Inquiries Will Be Promptly An-

Less than a week has passed since the Tribune announced its Educational Contest, yet a goodly number of young persons have entered and are at work securing subscribers. It usually takes some days, and often weeks, to arouse interest in a contest of this kind, but the very prompt beginning on the part of these contestants demonstrates that it required but a very short time for them to grasp the full meaning of the

There is an excellent opportunity for some young persons to secure the valuecial rewards, and even those who fall below tenth place in the list at the close of the contest will be well paid for their efforts, as The Tribune will return them ten per cent, of all the money they have brought in. The contest will be open but a little over cleven weeks and those who enter during the month of July will have an adwho commence later to overcome

Tribune Readers Interested. The Tribune readers are sending in lists of names of young persons with whom they are acquainted and who they believe would be likely to enter the contest if it was brought to their attention. This is a good plan, and The Tribune will be glad to send a full description of its Educational Contest to all such yo mr men and women. The rules of the contest are very clear and all those who enter can rest assured that the greatest pains will be taken to insure equal and fair treatment of all. Read over the list of special re-

MINE WORKERS MEET.

The Quarterly Convention Held at Pittston.

Pittston, July 10.-Two sessions of he quarterly meeting of the United Mine Workers of the First district was held today. The business being transacted behind tightly closed doors, it was next to impossible to obtain authentic information in regard to the proceedings. At the morning session the committee on by-laws reported several amendments, the nature of which are a secret with the delegates. Several resolutions were also adopted, one of which was as follows: "Whereas, The Brewery Workers union is trying to enforce a boycott against the Brewery Trust of Pennsyl-

"Resolved, That the United Mine Workers, in District assembly, will do all in our power to support them in the fight on the right to organize, and will not use any scab beer or other seab product."

In accordance with the sentiment of the resolution, the first inquiry of thirsty delegates upon entering a saloon was, "Have you union beer on If the reply was in the negatan?" tive, they immediately left the place.

The afternoon session lasted from 1.30 till 7 o'clock, with no recess. No very important decisions were arrived at and definite action on the main questions was postponed until the joint conference of the United Mine Workers of District No. 1, of Wyoming and Lacktwanna valleys; District No. 7, of Hazleton and vicinity, and District No. 9, of the Schuylkill region. Arrangements are now being made for the joint conference, which will be held within three or four weeks, probably July 30. Later this afternoon officers were elected as follows: President, T. D.

Nichols, Nanticoke, re-elected; secretary and treasurer, J. F. Dempsey, Scranton, re-elected; executive board, John Kearney, Archbald; Henry Collins, Carbondale; R. N. Courtright, Scranton; Nicholas Burke, Scranton; Thomas Llewellyn, Avoca: Anthony Schlosser, Duryea. The next quarterly convention of the district will be held in Edwardsville, during October. The convention adjourned about 7 o'clock.

LAUER IN THE FIGHT.

Politics in the Bighth District Still Unsettled.

Special to the Scranton Tribune Stroudsburg, Pa., July 10 .- The announcement made recently in a Democratic newspaper that John E. Lauer. of Carbon county, had withdrawn from the congressional fight in the Eighth district in the interest of harmony is untrue. Democratic harmony appears gentleman's reported withdrawal from the fight in Carbon. Earbor wants to returned to congress and is meeting with strong opposition from his counv. Carbon.

Well informed politicians claim that with both Lauer and Barber in the field, the chances are strongly in favor of the former. Pike county wants the omination badly this year, and two of her best known citizens are after the conferees from that county. The fight believed to be close between Edwin F. Peters, of Bushkill, and ex-Congressman Joseph J. Hart, of Milford. Hart served one term in congress and for a number of years was owner and editor of the Milford Despatch, the organ of Pike county Democracy. In Monroe county the fight is between ex-Senator Joseph H. Shull and Hon. M. F. Coolbaugh. The position of ex-Congressman Howard Mutchler in the fight, makes the situation very doubtful. Up to this present time that gentleman is not an avowed candidate and ds preference is unknown. For years Northampton has controlled the nomination and Monroe county has been shut out. This has created some bitter feeling among the Democratic lead-

Special to the Scranton Tribune, Nicholson, July 10,-Mr. Michael Maloney died t his late home in Glenwood, Pa., on Sunday fternoon at 1.30 o'clock, aged 107 years. He was born in County Cork, Ireland, Jan. 25, 1728. The members of his father's family were unusually long lived. His father, Jeremiah Maloney who was a poet and followed that work until late in life in his native country, lived to the age of 98. He had a brother, also, who lived to the age of 35 and an uncle to the age of 102 Mr. Maloney has always been a devout member of the Catholic church. At the age of 45 narried Miss Margaret Webb, of Ireland, Five children were born to them in that same coun try, all of which were privileged to be in at tendance at the funeral here today. In 1862 he and his family moved to Klonakilty, Wales, where they lived two years and nine months. On June 10, 1805, they salled to America and went direct to Scranton, Pa., where he was em-ployed by the Lackawanna Iron and Coal comvany at the old rolling mill until 1870, when he retired on account of old age and moved to Gicenwood, Pa., with his family. He then visited lock and forth among his relatives in Scranton and Great Bend and Glenwood until 1801, since which time he has never left Glenwood. He did not become feeble till within the past year and a half. He had a great memory, which he re-tained up to the last moment. He had personal recollections of having been Napoleon Bonaparte with his army many times while he was a boy, and the stories he would relate about it to his The funeral services were held in St rick's Catholic church, at Nicholson, Pa., this morning at 10 o'clock before a large concourse of people. THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 10.-The stock market was rather dull today, but compared with yesterday's semi-stagnation it had an appearance of considerable animation. The large increase in the prices of stocks which resulted an extremely small scale, but the market gained strength and volume as the day progressed. The railroad stocks eere especially weak, but the indusrints and specialties had their full share in the strength. The list of seurities dealt in showed a considerable engthening over that for some time past. A number of factors co-operated to cause the advance in prices. The esistance offered yesterday in face of the violent decline and heavy liquidation in Brooklyn Transit was in itself a motive for advancing prices on the part of the professional traders, whose constant aim is to see prices move, and who only need to see the impossibility demonstrated of a movement in one direction to start a movement in another direction. The conviction that the monthly erop report would show a material improvement in the conditions, not only in the spring wheat belt but in those portions of the winter wheat belt which had suffered from too much rain, played a large part in the day's advance and large short lines were covered in the stocks of all the grain-carrying roads. The vociferous alarm over the corn crop, professe. dently viewed with scepticism by Wall street and the corn-carrying grangers shared in the general strength. The widely disseminated reports of an open competition between the great steel companies was a subject of rather quizzical Indifference on the part of professional operators, as was testified to by the late general advance in the steel stocks. Total sales, 305,600,
