

TRIBUNE'S EDUCATIONAL CONTEST

Names of Those Who Are Working for the Special Rewards.

TWENTY ENTRIES SO FAR

All Are Working Along with No Appreciable Lead on the Part of Any One—There Is a Good Opportunity for Those Who Enter Now to Win One of the Special Rewards—All Who Fail to Begin Before August 1 Will Work at a Disadvantage.

There are now twenty contestants in the Tribune's Educational Contest, two more having entered yesterday. All are working along together with no appreciable lead on the part of any one, although some are more active than others.

contest of this kind who become discouraged and drop behind, and there is an excellent opportunity for some bright young men and women, with perseverance and enterprise, to come in and win the laurels from some of those who have entered earlier.

In response to numerous requests, the names of the contestants are given below, although the number of points will not be published until after the entries close to come in, probably soon after August 1, or at least until some secure a sufficient lead to make the daily publication interesting.

RULES OF THE CONTEST

The special rewards will be given to the persons securing the largest number of points. Each will be credited to contestants securing new subscribers to the Scranton Tribune as follows:

- One Month's Subscription, $1.00 1
Three Month's Subscription 1.50 3
Six Month's Subscription 2.00 4
One Year's Subscription 3.00 12

The contestant with the highest number of points will be given a choice from the list of special rewards; the contestant with the second highest number of points will be given a choice of the remaining rewards, and so on through the list. Each contestant failing to secure a special reward will be given 10 per cent. of all money he or she turns in. All subscriptions must be paid in advance. Renewals by persons already on our subscription list will not be credited. No transfers can be made after credit has once been given. All subscriptions, and the cash to pay for same, must be handed in at the Tribune office within the week in which they are secured, so that papers may be sent to the subscribers at once. Descriptions must be written on blanks, which can be secured at the Tribune office, or sent by mail. The contest will close promptly at 5 o'clock Saturday evening, September 2, 1900.

town. Yes, there is no restriction of territory in any case. Those living in the smaller towns are at liberty to enter Scranton or any other place in their search for customers, and it would no doubt benefit them if they made a canvass of their friends, either personally or by letter, in all places where The Tribune would be found interesting.

Another has been laboring under a misunderstanding as to the meaning of renewals, and has declined to take the names of persons who at some previous time had been subscribers for The Tribune. Such subscriptions are not termed renewals. It is only those persons who are taking The Tribune at the present time and whose subscriptions have expired, may expire during the life of the contest, and who may wish to renew—it is only those which The Tribune must decline to count as new subscribers. Of course The Tribune has hundreds of such subscriptions expiring every week, all of which are voluntarily renewed, and if contestants brought in these The Tribune would derive no benefit other than would come to it through the natural course of business and without the aid of its Educational Contest.

THOMPSON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Thompson, July 17.—E. A. Mead, while repairing a bicycle the other day, caught the thumb of his right hand in the gearing and lacerated it severely. Jasper Hobbs, one of the thrifty farmers of Ararat, received a savage kick from his horse last Saturday, while attempting to doctor it, breaking three ribs from the spine and inflaming the lungs, the extent of which is not easily told. He is in bad shape and suffering intensely at this writing.

The foundation for the new creamery at Starucco is finished, and the building is already on, and the building goes on apace, so the farmers will soon have the milk business their own way, which ought to be satisfactory to them.

Miss Maud Stewart, of Clifford, is announced to speak next Sabbath evening for the Epworth league here. She is a forceful speaker, and should have a full house to hear her.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church give their monthly tea in the Grand Army hall tomorrow afternoon.

Rev. P. R. Topowit, returned last evening from Deposit, N. Y., where he is supplying the Methodist Episcopal pulpit for six weeks. He reports heavy rains there Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and a fearful hailstorm out of the town, which did fearful damage to growing crops, the Thursday before.

Mrs. A. C. Foster has closed her millinery store and is rusticiating with her sons, at Starucco.

Martin Lydon has sold his lot, near the mill station, to the company that is to erect a creamery thereon at once. He acknowledged the deed yesterday. The contract for the building of the creamery is already let.

A severe thunder shower visited this village Sabbath afternoon, attended with high winds. While no serious damage was done, nearly every yard in town has broken shrubbery or trees in it.

C. M. Lewis and wife attended church at Jackson last Sabbath, at the Baptist church in the morning and at the Methodist Episcopal church in the afternoon.

Rev. B. F. Larrabee preached at North Jackson and at Jackson last Sabbath. He was attended by his wife, who sang a solo at the service at Jackson.

FOREST CITY.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Forest City, July 17.—Miss Katie Tice of Pleasant Mount, who has been a guest at the home of Frank Hood, has returned home.

The Vauding band picnic at the Vandling grove today. The infant child of Matthew Brady was buried in St. Agnes cemetery yesterday.

Mrs. Edward Flynn and son Joseph are spending a few weeks with the family of Joseph Hoefling at Clinton, Wayne county.

Mrs. W. L. Brundage entertained Mrs. W. W. Adams and son and Mrs. E. E. Brundage, of Kingston, one day last week.

The funeral services of Mrs. L. O. Farrar, who died at Heart Lake July 6th, were conducted from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Tiffany, Wednesday last, at one o'clock, Rev. R. N. Ives officiating. Mrs. Farrar leaves a husband and two small children, three sisters and four brothers besides her parents.

Miss Nina Moore and brother, Bert, spent Tuesday of last week with Hartford friends.

Mrs. P. N. Boyle and son, Leo, of Nicholson, were visiting in town last week.

WHITNEY'S WEEKLY BUDGET OF NEWS

MR. WHEELER DISCOUNTS KANSAS GRASSHOPPER STORIES.

Seasonable Fish Intelligence—Floating Islands Again Appear—In Favor of a Brass Band—A Narrow Escape—Inventions Without a Patent—Personal Paragraphs.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Susquehanna, July 17.—Charles E. Wheeler, of Greene, has just received from a friend in Florida an immense grasshopper, probably the largest of all that tribe. The hopper is about ten inches long and "stands six inches high in its stilted feet." His voice is much like that of a venerable bullfinch, and with proper culture, he would make a good basso profundo in a country church choir.

The Erie conductors will picnic in Shohola Glen, August 8.

An excursion from Forest City will run to Riverside park, Laneboro, on Saturday next.

At Barton, N. Y., on Monday, Norman McCollum, of Susquehanna, caught a pipe weighing seven and one-half pounds. He was using a young bull-head for bait. (Editor Taylor and Rev. Mr. Warriner, of Montrose, please take notice!)

The famous floating islands in a pond near Honedale have come to the surface again, after a disappearance of several years. They are masses of decaying vegetation, forming a layer on top of which is a thin covering of clay, bound together by the roots of vegetation. It rests in the clay bottom of the pond, but sometimes some force, supposed to be in the gases generated by the decaying matter, causes it to rise to the surface. Its extent sometimes reaches a quarter of an acre, and it rises and falls with the water, until finally it sinks out of sight again, but sometimes some force, supposed to be in the gases generated by the decaying matter, causes it to rise to the surface.

There is one thing to be said in favor of a brass band. It never hangs back and blushes, and protests incompetently, when asked to play. In a town of 300 inhabitants, says a close observer, 229 stick their heads out of the windows to see a stranger go by.

Home is said to be the place where we wear our old clothes and are not allowed to tell our old stories.

It seems paradoxical that while a woman's full dress costume costs more than a man's, yet it doesn't come so high.

A Susquehanna woman, who takes pleasure in her country, has adopted a simple but excellent method for keeping her chicks at home. She ties a small corn cob to one leg, allowing it to dangle at a distance of about six inches. The fowl can scratch and get about with ease, but it is said, will not attempt to fly over the pole of a squeeze through a crack.

A narrow escape. "In 1874, when I was pulling Erie passenger cars on the Delaware division," said William J. Hall, the veteran Susquehanna engineer, "one bright afternoon in April, I espied, near Lordville, N. Y., what I took to be a dog away ahead on the track. As we approached it the object straightened up, revealing the engine, revealed a bright, two-year-old child, who having wandered away from her home, found amusement in playing with the pebbles on the track. She did not move, and smilingly watched the powerful engine bear down upon her. We did not have air brakes on those days, and I whistled "down brakes," reversed the engine, and did what I could to stop, though, and the train struck the little one at a speed of about twenty miles an hour. The "gowatcher," or pilot, was but a few feet away, and the child was thrown into some tall grass by the roadside. The train was stopped and the child picked up—not dead, but crying and kicking at a great rate. A slight bruise was all she sustained, and on our return trip from Port Jervis the next day, she was playing in her yard. Altogether, it was one of the most remarkable escapes from death I ever witnessed."

The eighteen reunion of Corps F. 1st Pennsylvania Veteran Volunteers, will be held at the Jay House, in New Milford, August 2.

Lieutenant Rogers Post, G. A. R., of Brooklyn, will celebrate its twenty-first anniversary today.

The Five States Milk Producers' Association hold occasional meetings in this county, but the result of their doings is not given to the public.

Principal Pease, of the Hallstead schools, was in Susquehanna on Monday morning. He has recently been seriously injured while alighting from the cars at Green Ridge, Scranton, has nearly recovered.

There are quite a large number of summer boarders from the cities in this immediate vicinity. They are all charmed with Susquehanna's picturesqueness.

A number of fresh-air children from New York, are in the towns along the Jefferson branch.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Hartford, July 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jeffers, of New York, are visiting their parents.

Miss Nina Moore, of New Milford, is visiting her cousin, Wm Sweet.

A. Lee Tiffany, formerly of Hartford, but now of Connecticut, is visiting his father.

Mr. J. Madison Gathany, a student of Moody's school, preached in the Methodist Episcopal church in the morning and in the Congregational in the evening. He is a gifted young man.

The Christian Endeavor will hold a social at the home of Rev. J. P. Maxwell Friday evening, July 20.

Rev. G. D. Fisher and family have gone to Staten Island to spend two weeks with relatives.

Mrs. Susan Breed is the guest of Mrs. Esterbrook.

W. B. Hammond is doing carpenter work at the S. O. school.

Mr. Tingley and family, of Washington, D. C., are spending the summer at Lew Burdick's.

The funeral of Henry S. Catant was held from his late home Monday afternoon. Interment in Hartford cemetery.

Springville, July 16.—During the unpleasantness back in the sixties there went from here some of the young blood to fight the Johnnies. Among the number was Cyrus Marcy, Byron Oakley and the writer, the two first mentioned donning the blue at the age of seventeen, the latter at fourteen years and seven months. Serving in Company, 203 Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, doing service around Petersburg and Richmond, finally going to North Carolina with "Snoopy" Butler, assisting in the capture of Fort Fisher and Wilmington, and going on through the state to Raleigh, where Joe Johnson was overthrown, the final stroke of the rebellion. Last year the boys got together for the first time for a reunion and had a jolly good time. This year, on August 20, they will again convene at the home of Comrade Cyrus Marcy, near here. The Citizens have invited and are expected to be there in full force. If this reaches the eye of any of the comrades of Company C they will be expected to be on hand for rattans.

A most distressing accident happened to Mrs. W. C. Smith, on Saturday, through the running away of the horse she was driving. It started about a mile away and ran directly towards home, down a long hill, keeping the road until the bridge over the Meshopoc creek was reached, where the carriage was overturned, and Mrs. Smith was thrown over the bridge, breaking her wrist. Dr. Pickard was called to attend the injury.

S. D. Thomas has grown much weaker during the past week.

A base ball team came down from Scranton Saturday to play a scrub nine here. Taking into consideration the fact that none knew of their coming until just before noon, and that the score stood 21 to 9 in favor of the Scrubs, Springville's base ball element feels flattered.

Strickland & Culver have purchased a building lot adjoining the blacksmith shop and in the spring or sooner Culver will build a wagon shop.

It is a fact to be regretted that our mail in the evening does not reach us until after seven o'clock, which makes it inconvenient for many living in town, for after their shops are closed and they have gone home their mail will have to stay in the office until next day, unless they go back after it. By special arrangement, The Tribune will deliver a copy of the Philadelphia or New York dailies. If you will give your order to the agent here it will be delivered to you promptly.

Henry Williams was engaged last week over near Hopbottom, presenting work over a good outfit, pressing with steam power, so his work is considered good.

Hopbottom, July 17.—When the mercury rises to 105 degrees among the hills, it is about time to move to the mountains. That was about the temperature here on Monday, the hottest day thus far of the season.

Work is progressing on the new creamery building, a meeting of the building committee was held Saturday evening, and material is being placed on the ground this week.

Mr. Lyman Blakesley visited his relatives in Montrose on Saturday.

Miss Frank Tiffany, of Nicholson, visited friends in town last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Carpenter, Mrs. William Alney and Mrs. N. M. Finn drove to Hallstead on Saturday for a day's visit.

A large gathering attended the Aid society at Miss Pennella Tewksbury's on Friday. The ladies have decided to take in hand the matter of repainting the church. A committee was appointed to circulate a subscription for that purpose in order to give the gentlemen an opportunity to assist.

The location of the council building to be erected here, it will be removed to a lot purchased of C. H. Kellum, on Center street. Dr. A. J. Taylor has purchased the lot where it now stands.

The farmers are now busy gathering their scant crop of hay. Owing to the lack of rain during the early part of the season, the hay is not over one-half what might otherwise have been expected.

For This Week Very Important Clearing Sale of Groceries

You buy Groceries regularly here at much less than the prices of other stores. During this Clearing Sale, you shall buy them for still less money.

This Clearing Sale, being a general sale, must of necessity affect every department. But bear in mind it does NOT affect the quality of the Groceries.

The name "Clearing Sale" as applied to Groceries, is a misnomer, save that to that department must come the same great volume of business that is going on throughout the house during this greatest of July sales.

These prices are very, very special. The qualities we stand back of in every instance.
