the court house in this city and Wilkes-Barre will play a game of ball at Athletic park. After the game the visitors will be entertained by the local men.

NO ACTION TAKEN YET.—The City Board of Health failed to meet last night, there being no quorum present, and as a consequence no action has as yet been taken on the alleged leprosy case which is now agitating that borough. Another attempt to hold a meeting will be made some time this week.

SCHOOL BOARD COMMITTEES.—The teachers' committee of the board of trustees will meet tomorrow evening to complete their final report to the teachers to be appointed for next year so that it may be presented to the board of trustees at its meeting on Saturday. The committee will meet on Saturday to complete its list of teachers also.

INQUESTS NOT HELD.—The inquests into the deaths of William P. Lukens, Mrs. Jane Edwards and William Clemens, which were to have been held last night in North Scranton, were held over to the failure of a number of witnesses and jurors to put in an appearance. Coroner Roberts accordingly announced that he would conduct the inquests this morning at 10 o'clock at the coroner's undertaking establishment in North Scranton.

SPOKE ON PHYSICAL TRAINING. Address of Madame Goliere-Davenport at the Jermyn. The ladies who braved the heat and the rain yesterday afternoon to listen to Madame Goliere-Davenport, who gave a talk in the parlors of the Jermyn on physical training, were far more than repaid for the effort. While they were delighted beyond measure with her personality, they were intensely interested in the wonderful things she told. It is always a fascinating subject for women to learn how they may be young at seventy, with a complexion like a girl and the utter absence of the flabbiness of flesh which is generally expected after youth disappears.

Still more are they interested in keeping perfect health and preserving beauty at any age, and therefore they received unexpected benefit from the words of Madame Davenport. She asserted that there is no sort of use of losing the grace of youth and the advantages of its charm, and illustrated the truth of it by the active movements employed in certain exercises. For this object lesson she removed her bodice and showed the possibilities of development of a perfect neck and arms, of the straight muscular back and the correct poise of the body. It was difficult to believe that the firm, beautiful flesh could belong to a woman of sixty-nine, the mother of eleven sons the eldest fifty-three years old.

She declared that there was no such thing as age, as recognized generally, and described his possibilities of physical training. Golf and kindred exercises she does not consider as means of true development. Fencing is the greatest physical science; but such exercises must be taught after the vitality is in condition. The average woman cannot understand how to sever meat from a woman should so develop her physical system as to never be tired. She should learn such activity, such sureness, touch and movement that she can climb out of the seventh story window in case of a fire and not only save herself but others from drowning. She should be physically and mentally ready for every emergency. The doctors tell the speaker that if she insists upon curing stomachs the medical profession will lose its business. What women first need is to learn to eat. They may be able to digest food, but not assimilate it. The average girl has no neck. She can learn to develop a neck beautiful in contour and grace. There is no excuse for a poor complexion. American women eat too much and have a poor surface circulation. They have uric acid in the blood to such a degree that their health is destroyed. Physicians are to cure disease, not to prevent it; the physical trainer teaches prevention. Ugly skin, a growth of hair on the face, eruption and pimples are indications of carelessness and negligence, if not ignorance.

No woman need be plain in appearance or ugly in figure. Good health and all she can use the personal magnetism which is everyone's dower and thus make herself irresistibly attractive. Magnetism is vitality in reserve with the power of mental concentration. Too few develop this great power. It is being alive. Half of the people are half dead.

Madame Davenport said in her report to the board of trustees that she are very good in Scranton. They are busy, moral and earnest; but you want to be able to keep your husband's love, to always attract him and be always fascinating. You can't do that and be in ill health, ill temper and aged before your time. There are women who want to be able to vote and thus manage political affairs. Believe me, they can manage anything a great deal better by being attractive and charming. A woman can manage her husband, she can control affairs great and small, but she can't do it with a sour, wrinkled visage and with the whine of an invalid. With good health comes good morals and there can sway the world. It is the woman who can work the great reforms and aid mankind.

Madame then gave exercises for the development of the neck and arms, and many valuable hints as to diet and correction of digestive ailments. She advised following the Democratic standard of being "unwashed" as far as the face is concerned, a system of grooming being preferable to soap and water or massage as a preventive of wrinkles. Too much bathing is to be deprecated, that is in "soaking" away the vitality.

Just here she gave startling advice, which, if followed by the women of Scranton, will result in an edict from W. W. Scranton compelling water meters in every private residence. It was this: "Drink eight quarts of water during every day before noon!" Small wonder that her listeners gasped. Then she spoke emphatically against alcohol, the results of every description, and urged deep abdominal breathing to correct abdominal troubles.

Madame Davenport outlines a system of dietetics and exercises with individual diagnosis for every pupil. If in ten days improvement is not noted, and in six weeks the experiment does not produce a "new woman" she guarantees giving up the profession she has been practicing for more than forty years. Her hearers yesterday requested her to give the series of lessons necessary before she leaves the city, and in six weeks the experiment was made to have a class at Elm Park parsonage this morning. Two lessons, with a system of exercises complete the course, and those who desire to enter the class may do so by being present at 9 o'clock this morning. A large number of ladies will take the course. Pencil and paper are necessary.

DAMAGE SUITS NOW AGGREGATE $45,000

THREE RESULT FROM THE MT. PLEASANT ACCIDENT.

Heirs of Thomas W. Williams and William Gilbert Each Bring Suit for $15,000 Damages—The Woodward Estate Instituted Suit Some Time Ago for the Same Amount. The Family of the Fourth Victim Have Not Yet Moved to Recover Damages—Other Court Matters.

Damage suits, in which the claims aggregate $45,000, are now pending against the Mt. Pleasant Coal company as a result of the mine carriage accident of February 23, when four men were killed by the platform giving away under them, as a result of the carriage colliding with a projecting fan.

There are three suits in all. The plaintiffs are the heirs of Thomas W. Williams, William Gilbert and Frank Woodward. The suit by the Woodward heirs was brought a month ago, through Vorseburg and Dawson. The other suits were brought yesterday, through Attorney Cornelius Conroy and George L. Peck. Damages in the sum of $15,000 are demanded in each case.

In the latter two suits the widows, Mrs. Hannah Lizzie Williams and Mrs. Mary Ann Gilbert, are the plaintiffs. They sue for themselves as administrators of their dead husband's estates. Mrs. Williams has two minor children, Rachel and John. Mrs. Gilbert has six children, William Henry, Thomas, Jennie, Ethel, Mary Ann and Albert.

The heirs of the Regan estate have not as yet sued. Senator J. C. Vaughan is their attorney. The suits promise interesting trials, owing to the fact that the fellow-employees' liability act will enter into them to a large extent. If the plaintiffs can show that the lever controlling the fan was defective the company can be held liable. If it is shown that the accident was due to carelessness on the part of some employee, it is not properly fastening the lever, there is a possibility of the court granting a non-suit.

The testimony adduced at the coroner's jury was not of a convincing character. It was made to appear, however, that the manner of locking the lever was not what might be called extremely safe, and further, it was quite clearly proven that the lever in question had been used extensively preceding the accident, and that there was a probability that the leverman failed to properly lock the lever.

A spike in a post held the lever in place and kept the fans in against the sides of the shaft. When the lever was down the fans protruded and held the carriage. It is supposed the spike was caused to fall out by the jarring of the ascending and descending carriages and the lever being allowed to drop, projected the fans into the shaft. Another theory is that a piece of ice or some other heavy substance fell down the shaft, struck the rods connecting the fans with the lever and caused the lever to drop.

Claims He Is Insolvent. In the desertion case of the Commonwealth against Stephen Dickert, in which the defendant was sent to the county jail last March for failure to comply with an order of court directing him to pay the costs of prosecution, a fine and $10 a month towards the support of his wife, application was made yesterday by Dickert's attorney, John F. Scragg, for an order directing his discharge under the insolvency laws.

Dickert declares that he owns no property, owes nothing and that nobody owes him anything. Sickiness and consequent inability to work placed him in this condition, he says. Judge Archbald fixed August 13, at 9 o'clock a. m., as the time for the hearing on the application, the prosecutrix to have ten days' notice.

Tax Collectors' Bond. The bond of Harry Harding, tax collector of Old Forge, was approved by Judge Archbald yesterday and filed with Clerk of the Courts Thomas P. Daniels. It was in the sum of $45,567.92. The sureties are John W. Farady, John Surber, William Sowden, Wallace Armstrong, Joseph James Robson, John Patton Taylor, Griffith Richards, Henry Mackinder and John S. Metz.

Judge John P. Kelly approved the bond of H. G. Smith, collector for Benton township, and it was filed in Clerk Daniels' office. It is in the sum of $10,000, and has as sureties L. M. Franklin, James Delevan and L. J. Van Fleet.

MARTIN SHERMAN ARRESTED. He is Charged with the Larceny of a Coat.

Martin Sherman, colored, was arrested on Penn avenue last night, and taken to the central police station by City Detective Moir and Lieutenant Davis, charged with the larceny of a coat valued at $15, from Spencer Mason, of Steelton borough, July 5. Sherman lives in New York, but word was sent the local authorities that he was heading in this direction and he was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Dunkle, of Steelton. He will be held here until officers arrive for him.

A DELICIOUS SHOWER. Succeeded in Cooling Things Off Yesterday.

It was fairly hot yesterday morning, but not anything near as hot as it was on Tuesday. The thermometer started in at 94 degrees in the shade which temperature was maintained until shortly after 2 o'clock when a most welcome and delightful shower of rain came. This downpour lasted for nearly half an hour, and it cooled things off remarkably, the thermometer dropping to 84 degrees, at which figure it remained all afternoon and evening.

McHALE HELD IN BAIL.

He is Accused of Practicing Fraud Upon Mrs. Green.

John McHale, of the Consolidated Life Insurance Company of Washington, D. C., was arraigned before Alderman Millar yesterday, charged by Mrs. Mary Barry, of Mill street, with impersonating a physician for the company, and examining Mrs. Green, her aged mother. He waived a hearing and was held in $500 bail.

McHale and M. J. Duffy, another agent for the company, were arrested last Friday and released on their own recognizance to appear at the hearing which was to be held yesterday afternoon. Duffy did not appear yesterday and Alderman Millar made out a committal and declared that henceforth no more persons will be released on their own recognizance by him.

The physician whom McHale impersonated is Dr. W. H. McGarry, to whom he bears a certain resemblance. He is claimed to have given Mrs. Green a verbal examination, after which she signed the application, and a few days later Mrs. Barry learned his identity. McHale declares that he did not impersonate any physician, and was only present as a witness of the transaction. He declares that there was no money of any physician being present, as the application does not call for any.

TWO SETS OF MEN WORKING

Turpentine Company and City Are Now Repairing the Abington Road. Paine's Men Discharged.

When Street Commissioner Roland Thomas took the men he had working on the Abington road off the job on Tuesday it was because he was laboring under a misapprehension and they were accordingly put back to work yesterday morning.

The street commissioner thought that the injunction served on him on Tuesday morning, prohibiting him from doing any work whatever on the road and he accordingly ordered the men to stop soon after they commenced work on the road. He consulted the city solicitor and was informed that the injunction merely restrained him from interfering with Mr. Paine's work.

Acting under this advice Mr. Thomas put eight of his men back to work yesterday morning. Mr. Paine also had several men at work several hundred feet away and was himself directing operations. Some of the councilmen are beginning now to openly oppose the ordinance appropriating $1,000 for the repair of the road which they formerly favored. This is because Mr. Paine persists in working on the road while the city is doing the work of repairing it. They contend that Mr. Paine has frequently asserted that whenever the city wanted to repair the road the company would graciously step down and out, and they argue that the president of the company is not living up to his word.

Alderman Millar decided yesterday to discharge Mr. Paine and the eight workmen who were arrested on Monday for violating a city ordinance in tearing up the turpentine without a permit, and thereby obstructing traffic. The matter will come up in common council tonight, when Luther Keller expects to secure the passage on second and third reading of the ordinance appropriating the $1,000.

MINSTRELS COMING.

Primrose and Dockstader Will be at the Lyceum.

Primrose and Dockstader and their company of minstrel artists will make their annual visit to the Lyceum on Tuesday, July 24, where they will stay for one night presenting a performance of genuine minstrelsy, as each and every member of this up-to-date organization will do burnt cork and when the curtain goes up during the first part it will be seen that this form of entertainment has at last been placed where it belongs in the amusement world, giving the public what it wants—pure and wholesome fun and up-to-date novelties.

Excursion to Lake Ariel. Two Thousand Persons Attended the Knights of Columbus' Outing.

Had it not been for the heavy rain which fell during the afternoon yesterday's excursion of the Knights of Columbus to Lake Ariel would have been a day of unalloyed pleasure. As it was, the storm only lasted a short while, after which everything went on as before. About thirty cars left the city for the lake station during the day and something over two thousand persons were present on the picnic grounds. Bauer's orchestra gave an excellent concert, rendering twenty numbers in magnificent style.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS. Nellie Thorne, who will play Esther in "Ben-Hur" next season, is a young English girl, 20 years of age, who made her debut three years ago in London in John Hart's production of "A Bachelor's Romance" at the Globe theater. She made a hit and immediately became the talk of London, the critics congratulating Mr. Hart upon his discovery of a young actress of charming naturalness. She comes of a noted English theatrical family. Her father is Fred Thorne and her uncle the popular Tom Thorne, of London. She was trained for the stage by her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Thorne, principal of the Margate School of Elocution. Miss Thorne has twice visited America as a member of John Hart's company. Last season she played in this country with Olga Nordorole.

It is evidently Frank McKee's purpose to surprise the city on Friday, August 18, with a remarkably strong company in "Janice Meredith." His first engagement, Robert Drouet, for the leading man's part of Charles Foxworth, the bond agent, who afterwards becomes a confidential officer on the staff of Washington, was an indication of this. Mr. Drouet is one of the most promising of young leading men. He followed this success by securing Harry Mcintosh for the part of the South Sea Islander, and the popular Tom Thorne, of London. She was trained for the stage by her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Thorne, principal of the Margate School of Elocution. Miss Thorne has twice visited America as a member of John Hart's company. WALTERS HELD IN BAIL.—Michael Walters, a South Scranton butcher, was yesterday arraigned before Alderman Kason, accused of non-support by Mrs. Louisa Walters, his wife. She claims that in the last two months she has received no money from him and the only food he sent home was meat from the shop. Evidence was given by a neighbor of Walters, corroborating the wife's testimony, and Walters was held in $500 bail.
