ANSWER IS PREPARED.

Reply of Connell Park and Speedway Railway Company to the Scranton Railway Company.

In the quo warranto proceedings be fore the attorney general, at Harrisburg, brought to test the validity of the charter of the Connell Park and Speedway company, Attorneys Vos- National Biscuit Co., one hox cakes, J. O. Ackburg & Dawson, of this city, and S. W. Pettit, esq., of Philadelphia, have prepared the answer of the respondents to the petition filed by the Scranton Railway company.

The Connell Park and Speedway company deny the legality of the charter rights of the Scranton Railway company and of the Valley Passenger Railway company and of the various Railway company and of the various other roads which were consolidated with the Scranton Railway company O'Malley, two air a ms and one watch; G. W. by merger, and the validity of these Fritch Co., one pocketbook; R. E. Prendergast, one pocketbook; Rose, the hatter, merchandise; merger proceedings. The respondents assert that the Scranton Railroad company and the other companies named in the petition have lost whatever rights they acquired to occupy the streets of the city of Scranton, under ordinances of the city, by reason of their failure to construct their tracks on said streets within the times specified in the several ordinances granting these franchises. That having filed an acceptance of the franchises under the ordinances referred to, they were legally bound to comply with the provisions of these ordinances, and construct their roads within two years, the limit named therein. Not having done so, the franchises are forfeited to the city, and the municipality would have a perfect right to grant to the Connell Park and Speedway Railway company the right to use these streets.

The answer further sets up that with the exception of the streets covered by the forfeited franchises of the petitioner, the respondents do not occupy as much as the twenty-five hundred feet of track of a competing road which they are entitled to occupy under the act of 1895.

the street which the petitioners contend the respondents have no right to bridge over Roaring Brook which is nine hundred and one feet in length, which bridge was erected at the expense of the city, and is its own property. The city would therefore have the right to authorize more than one street railway company to occupy the respondents to have a joint use of this

It is further bet up in the answer, that this writ of que warrante applied for, should not be granted, for the reason that the petitioner has a full, complete and adequate remedy at law by an injunction proceeding to restrain the respondents from the use of any streets upon which they claim the respondents have no right to lay their tracks, and further, that it is a private grievance that is asked to be redressed instead of a public one.

This matter will be heard before the attorney general at an early date.

MINSTRELS ON TUESDAY.

Performance That Primrose & Dock stader Will Give at Lyceum.

If sprightly music, delightful comedy, picturesque scenery, rich costumes, and an unusually powerful company, headed by the favorite minstrel comedians of America, Primrose & Dockstader, can constitute an evening's entertainment, then the audiences that will gather at the Lyceum on Tuesday, July 24, when Primrose & Dockstader and their company of minetrel artists appear should have nothing more for which to wish.

DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE WILL MEET TONIGHT.

Convention Will Probably Be Held on Aug. 7 or 14-Names of Those Who Are Mentioned for the Different Nominations-The Out and Out Candidates Who Are Naming Themselves Are Those Who Are Ambitious to Be Jury Commissioner-The Legislative Candidates.

Democratic politics, which have been practically dormant thus far, received a stimulation from the Kansas City convention and now the leaders and candidates are beginning to bestir

A county committee meeting is called for tonight at the St. Charles by Chairman Fitzsimmons to fix the time for the primaries and the convention. No date has as yet been picked upon, but coming week will not be filled with the probabilities are that the convention will be held Tuesday, Aug. 7, or, at the latest, the Tuesday following, with the primaries on the preceding Saturday

The candidates are not as numerous as were those on the Republican side. For congress the only two probabili-ties are C. G. Boland, the original Bryan man, and City Superintendent of Schools George Howell. Neither de-clares a desire for the nomination and each insists that the other should take it, but it is quitely certain that both are perfectly willing to have their names listed among the "prominently mentioned." LYNETT DECLINED.

Editor E. J. Lynett, of the Times, was solicited to take the nomination for county treasurer, but he says he will not be a candidate. William G. O'Mailey, master mechanic at the South steel works, was the earliest candidate spoken of, but the likelihood that he will go to Buffalo with the steel company takes him out of the race. In the event of Howell's selection for the congressional nomination, Boland will be asked to tackle the treasurership.

For prothonotary, the principal candidate, if not the only one, is Prothonotary Copeland's former opponent, Matthew Norton, of Carbondale. Frank Brown, of Carbondale, is discussed, cut it is understood he only wants it in case Norton will not run. Thomas Law, of Archbald, who was lefeated by Clerk of the Courts T. P. Daniels in the last county election, is Frank Thompson, one of the old-time Democrats and for years a wheel horse to the local Democratic wagon, seeks this office and there is a strong sentiment in his favor. and Fred Warnke, recorder of deeds, both want to succeed themselves and are generally admitted to be fairly sure of securing re-nominations. John J. Coyne, of Minooka; John E. Gaffney and Select Councilman John E. Shea are among those mentioned as likely to contest Mr. Warnke's claims.

MANY CANDIDATES.

There are about a dozen seeking the nomination for jury commissioner. Andrew Healey, of Dunmore; John McCann, of the Twentieth ward; William Kane, of the Seventh ward; James O'Malley, of Bellevue: Andrew Gavin, of Jermyn; John Flynn, of Archbald, and M. W. Grogan, of Olyphant, are among them.

None of the legislative districts has as yet called a convention. The respective chairmen are awaiting the pleasure of the candidates and the is ter in some instances are waiting to see what the county convention will bring forth.

In the First district the only one seeking the nomination is Timothy Hays, of the North End. Attorney C. R. Pitcher, Attorney M. J. McAndrew and T. J. Duffy, of the West Side, vere talked of as likely candidates, but none of them seems inclined to expend any effort in securing the Attorney John H. Bonner, of Old Forge, has the field all to himself in the Third district, and in all probability will be the opponent of Edward

In the Fourth district a lively fight is on with Representative P. F. Timlin, of Jermyn; Thomas Hendricks, of Mayfield, and Thomas Mooney, of Carbondale, and P. J. McCormick, of Blakely, are the belligerents. Ex-Mayor J. J. O'Nelll is reported to have declared himself unwilling to accept the nomination.

ANOTHER MYSTERY.

Strange Letter Found on Linden Street Bridge.

Another mystery has loomed up or the horizon and Chief Robling and Detective John Moir are pondering over the contents of a letter found on the Linden street bridge Thursday night. A young man passing over, found the note and on reading it learned that when the missive was found the writer, one William Dunn of Ashley would probably be lying at the botton of the river, because, as he pathetically expressed it, "he was too honest to steal, too much ashamed to beg, and unable to get work."

After reading it the young man scented a mystery and gave it to Patrolman Charles Neuls, who turned it in to headquarters. The note is written on the face of an envelope bearing the letterhead of a Scranton tailor, and is as follows: "When this note is found you may find me in the river at the second bridge as I am to honest to steal and am a shame to beg and have no work. Have tried hard to receive the same and am broken hearted. My home is at Ashley, Luz. Co., Pa., and name is Wm. H. Dunn, one of the late soldlers In the late war with Spain. "Good by to all and God be with you until we meet again. (Signed) William a wonderful orthography and pitiable farewell allke have failed to make any great impression at police headquarters, and Chief Robling does not think that as yet the unfortunate Mr. Dunn has carried out his threat.

LOUGHRAN HELD IN BAIL.

Will Answer at Court Charge of Having Libelled Philip Schwartz and Joseph Sommers.

Alderman Howe vesterday morning and afternoon conducted a hearing in the case of Attorney P. F. Loughran, accused of defamatory libel by Philip Schwartz and Joseph Sommers, of Old Forge, who claimed that he furnished M. J. O'Toole, of the Scrantonian, with information which resulted in an article about them appearing in last Sunday's issue of the paper.

Evidence was heard from 10 o'clock in the morning until 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon, and when all the testimony was in Alderman Howe held Mr. Loughran in $600 ball, $300 on each charge.

O'Toole testified that the defendant furnished him with the information in the case, which related to the arrest of one Peter Dulanage, of Old Forge, and his imprisonment in the West Scranton police station. Two constables went to his house with a warrant to arrest his wife. She was out and on Dulanage acting in a disorderly manner he was taken in custody. His friends made an effort to have him spoken of as a probable opponent of liberated and employed Attorney Mr. Daniels in the coming fight. Loughran as counsel. Dulanage was released and the story was then given to the Scrantonian, Swartz and Sommers being made out to have wilfully caused Dulanage's arrest. O'Toole testified that Attorney Loughran read the copy of the article before it appeared Alderman Foley testified that Schwartz and Sommers, accompanied by a woman named Ruswick came to William Koch, jr., register of wills, his office to swear out the warrant for Mrs. Dulanage's arrest, and that he did not issue the warrant until he was satisfied of her guilt. He also said that Loughran had said in his hearing that he was responsible for the article in the Scrantonian.

Attorney Loughran was put on the stand, and told how Dulanage's friends had come to him after Dulanage's disappearance, they not knowing that he vas a prisoner in the police station. He said that he met Swartz and the latter advised a settlement of the case, promising to give him "half" an offer, which he indignantly refused to con-Mrs. Dulanage told him, he sider. claimed, that once before she was arrested and settled by paying Sommers $5, and on another occasion when she was imprisoned Bommers demanded $25

JAMES GALLAGHER ARRESTED.

He Is Accused of Attempt at Burglary in D., L. & W. Shops.

James Gallagher, of Keyser avenue, was yesterday morning caught in one of the rooms at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western shops, while making a minute examination of the contents of several dinner pails. He was taken before Alderman Millar, a warrant for his arrest belog issued at the instance of Car Inspector G. L. Borth, who charged him with an attempt at burglary.

He was noticed prowling around the place of late, on several occasions and watch kept on his movements. At the hearing he frankly admitted that he entered the place in the hope of securing a pair of shoes to replace the dilapidated ones he was wearing. In default of $500 ball, Alderman Millar committed him to the county jail to await trial.

OF REAL CHARITY

REVEALED AT YESTERDAY'S POOR BOARD MEETING.

Dr. James Stein Purchased a New Set of Instruments and Operated Upon the Eye of a Blind Man to Restore His Sight to Him, All for the Sake of Charity-Board Also Discovers That Dr. Dean Has Been Freely Treating a Little Boy's Eyes Without Charge.

There are some who are narrowenough to believe that the ninded average physician is a person devoid of any other desire or impulse than the making of money and a general wish to fleece the public. If there had been any of these persons present at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the oor board they would have found that at least two of this city's physicians are willing to give liberally of their ime and money to assist in alleviating the sufferings of a brother man.

One of these was Dr. James Stein, who appeared before the board in behalf of Charles J. Williams, of North Scranton. Dr. Stein stated that Mr. Williams had, up to a few months ago, been totally blind for two years, on account of cataracts forming on both eyes. The doctor prepared him for an operation, and purchased a new set of instruments especially for the purpose. He operated on one eye a short time ago, with most successful results, the man being now able to see distinctly out of it. All this was done gratuitously. The doctor said that he would operate on the other eye in the fall. He asked the board to purchase glasses for Mr. Williams, that he might be able to do some work, and the board without further delay granted him $15 for the purchase of two pairs.

The other physician was Dr. Dean, ho sent in a letter stating that he had been gratuitously treating the eyes of Nathan Pearlman, a poor little chap from Raymond court, for several months past, and asking that the board contribute $5 for the purchase of glasses for the lad. This request was also granted.

Thomas Kearney, of 128 Meridian treet, appeared before the board and stated that his father, Michael Kearsey, was becoming insane, and had threatened to kill his wife yesterday morning by striking at her with a heavy piece of railroad iron. wanted him removed to the Hillside Home. He was instructed to have his father examined by two physicians and, if pronounced insane by them, he vould be admitted to the home.

Patrick Cavan, an unfortunate wreck of a man, with both legs and one arm partly paralyzed, was allowed transertation to Brooklyn, N. Y., where he said he had relatives who would care for him. He was greatly pleased when given the order for a ticket, and hobbled out of the room muttering profuse thanks. Relief was ordered granted to a number of other applicants, and the members of the board before adjourning decided to make a visit of inspection to the Hillside Home next Tuesday, leaving via the Lackawanna ratirond at 10.25 in the morning.
