ROYAL ARCANUM'S MID-SUMMER SOCIAL

HELD IN IVORITE HALL LAST EVENING.

Addresses Delivered by Attorneys Cornelius Comegys and Special Deputy Grand Regent Dr. Bouse. Several Cases Before Alderman Kelly—Joseph and John Noll Were Arraigned on Several Charges. Michael Kearney Taken to the Hillsdale Home—Social Events.

The members of Lackawanna council, No. 112, Royal Arcanum, entertained a coterie of friends at Ivorite hall last evening at a mid-summer social which proved to be a very enjoyable event. Addresses were delivered by Attorney Cornelius Comegys and Special Deputy Grand Regent Dr. Bouse. Instrumental selections were rendered by Messrs. Rooney and Piery, and refreshments were served by the social committee.

The session was presided over by Regent H. W. Luce. Mr. Comegys spoke on "What Grows Out of the Fraternal Relations of Men," and he told in a clever manner of the relationship that exists between members of fraternal organizations. In the course of his remarks he made the statement, challenging contradiction, that there are more men in Lackawanna county who meet together in fraternal organizations than in churches.

There is more to the Royal Arcanum, he said, than mere fraternalism. Every member is working in the interest of a common cause, and everything that is good comes out of the relations of men in organizations of this kind. The protection afforded those dependent upon the members is the best that can be obtained and is accessible to all men who value its worth.

Dr. Bouse also spoke of fraternalism and incidentally told of the work being done by the Royal Arcanum all through the United States. He said fraternalism is the grandest doctrine this side of heaven, and the Royal Arcanum stands at the highest exponent of fraternalism in this country. It is one of the grandest institutions that ever came into the world, and brings blessing and comfort every year to thousands of homes. There stands today $250,000 of insurance upon the books of the Royal Arcanum and the order is on an absolutely sound basis, and there is no order in existence...

Mine Parties Are Popular. One of the mid-summer diversions of the young people nowadays is to organize parties and visit the coal mines, where the air is cool. Two parties visited the Bellevue mine during the past week.

The first party was guided by Edwin Davis, and after several hours in the mine repaired to the home of Miss Margaret Jenkins, on Hampton street, where flashlight pictures were taken and refreshments enjoyed. The party departed on their way to the second party, which was given by Miss Margaret Jenkins, on Hampton street, and had a pleasant time.

The second party visited the mine with a competent guide, and flashlights were made of the group in different poses in the mine. Upon reaching the surface, they went to the home of Mr. Albert Levin, on Division street, and had a pleasant time.

In the party were: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. George Hawk, Misses Gertrude and Lillian Poole, Mame and Elizabeth Piretine, John Friedrick, Lewis Topper, of Philadelphia, and Sam Finberg.

Before Alderman Kelly. Joseph and John Noll, of South Ninth street, were arraigned before Alderman Kelly yesterday on charges preferred by Patrick Brown, of Christ court. The men traded horses and Brown alleges the animal he secured was poisoned. There was no evidence to substantiate the charge of poisoning, but the Nolls were each held in $500 bail on the charge of making threats.

John Wilson and William Andrews were arraigned before the Eighteenth ward magistrate yesterday on charges preferred by Mabel Jackson, of 113 Ninth street, who alleged that they assaulted her and threatened her life. They were each required to furnish $500 bail.

Kearney Caused Trouble. Michael Kearney, who resides near the Oxford breaker, created a disturbance at his home last evening and it was necessary to call Patrolman Markker to subdue him.

A carriage was secured and the man removed to the station house, where it was necessary to handcuff him. He was later removed to the Hillsdale Home, where he will be treated for insanity.

RECEPTION FOR MASTERS JOHN KNOLL AND EARL SMITH.
Tendered at the Home of the Latter's Parents Last Night in Honor of Their Home Coming from Girard College—Peter Zang Overslept Himself and as a Consequence Had a Narrow Escape—Thomas Riley Charged with Larceny—Daniel Boyle Injured—Other News Notes Personal Notes.

In honor of the home-coming of Masters John Knoll and Earl Smith, students of Girard college, Philadelphia, a small party was given last night at the home of Mrs. Smith, on Cedar avenue. The young folks present indulged in the various innocent amusements and games, and spent a jolly evening.

Those present were Violet Kibler, Lena Roth, Verne Jones, Lottie Jones, Lulu Helm, Knoll Knoll, Mammie Kibler, Estelle Henderson, Ethel O'Hara, and Masters Earl Smith, Philip Leitch, Edward Vohrer, John Knoll, Russell O'Hara, Harry Humphrey, Roland Smith, Howard Smith and Mrs. Vohrer, Mrs. Knoll, Mrs. Paul Smith and Mrs. Lewert.

Mr. Zang's Adventure. Peter Zang, of Cedar avenue, works in the Scranton Axle works. Yesterday morning, for some reason or other, Mr. Zang overslept just a little bit. Now, he is always very prompt in getting to work, and he simply could not bear the idea of being a single minute late. It was 6:45, and a twenty-five minute walk to the shops. He would be ten minutes late.

He started for the Delaware and Hudson tracks, and very fortunately caught the 6:45 Wilkes-Barre express at the South Washington avenue crossing. This train, as it happens, is designated by the name of "fast express," and by the time it reached the Axle works, just beyond the city line, was going something like forty miles an hour. Mr. Zang by this time was feeling rather uncomfortable and, as the Axle works loomed up, visions of himself walking back from Montrose, the next stop.

He, however, is made of stern stuff, and taking his life in his hands, and also his dinner pail, he jumped. He landed on the side of the track, after turning several somersaults, but beyond a few bruises and a general shaking up was uninjured. He will not over sleep today.

MRS. WILLIAMS FOUND. Became Bewildered While on the Mountain Berry Picking. Mrs. Williams and daughter, Miss Maggie, of North Taylor, were out berry-picking on Thursday in the vicinity of Bald Mount. They traveled some distance together, when suddenly the daughter lost sight of her mother, who had gone in a different direction. The daughter searched for some time, but to no avail, and finally ceased, thinking that her mother might have started for home. On arriving there, however, her mother could not be found.

A searching party was soon organized, which tramped all that night, but returned unsuccessful. Search was renewed yesterday morning, when her son, Mr. William Williams, who drove a horse and buggy, overtook her near Newton. Mrs. Williams said that the sun had affected her so that she had become bewildered. When found she was in good health, but very tired.

HER CONDITION CRITICAL. Alice Swingle Thought to Have Suffered Serious Injuries. Alice Swingle, who was taken to the Lackawanna hospital, Wednesday night, as the result of the attack made upon her by Bert Roberts, is in a very precarious condition. She did not receive many external injuries, but her entire nervous system suffered a terrible shock.

She is being kept very quiet at the hospital, no one being allowed to see her.
