PITTSBURG JUDGE THINKS LIKE MOIR

NEW DECISION ON POLICE OFFICER REMOVALS.

Judge Fraser, of Allegheny County, in an opinion on a McKeesport Case, Similar, in All Respects, to Those That Have Arisen Here, Takes a Diametrically Opposite View to Judge Archbald and City Solicitor Vosburg—Can Have No Bearing on Local Cases. One of the members of the Allegheny county bench, Judge R. S. Fraser, handed down an opinion last week in a case on all fours with that of Smail against the city of Scranton, in which is reached a conclusion diametrically opposite to that found by Judge R. W. Archbald, and other jurists throughout the state and which, in consequence, is in direct conflict with the advice given emphatically on this question by City Solicitor Vosburg. A copy of the Pittsburgh Leader containing the full text of the opinion was received by Mayor Moir in Saturday morning's mail. He hastened to show it to Solicitor Vosburg, expecting the possibility that the solicitor would change his view of the matter. Mr. Vosburg read it over saw what he considers—its glaring defects, and informed His Honor that he was ready to stake his reputation as a lawyer that the opinion of Judge Fraser was unconstitutional and not worth the paper it was written on. Despite this emphatic declaration, the mayor continued in the views antagonistic to the Archbald opinion, and had the Fraser opinion furnished to the local papers. The Fraser opinion, of course, has no effect here. The only possible effect it could have had was to change City Solicitor Vosburg's views. Having fallen in this, it is as good as unwritten as far as any bearing on the Smailman and Jones cases are concerned. Judge Fraser is a common pleas judge in Pittsburgh, a second-class city. Judge Archbald is a common pleas judge in Scranton, a third class city. The question involves third class city law. A MCKEESPORT CASE. The Fraser opinion deals with a case arising in McKeesport. Upon assuming the office of mayor on the first Monday of April this year, R. J. Black dismissed eleven police officers after select council had failed to approve their removal by confirming those whom he nominated as their successors. The dismissed officers sought by mandamus proceedings to compel the mayor to reinstate them. Judge Fraser decided the mayor in a third class city has power to remove a police officer without the consent of council, and dismissed the mandamus proceedings at the cost of the petitioners. The main reasoning on which this conclusion was based was this: "The legislature, having imposed upon the mayors of the cities of the third class the duty of protecting the persons and property of such cities, it is not reasonable to assume that it also intended they should have the selection of the officers upon whom they must rely to a very great extent for the execution and carrying out of their orders. "A fair and reasonable construction of the act, we think, is that each mayor may make a choice of his police officers, as subject to the right of select council to permit an appointment for sufficient cause. The object of the clause in the act of requiring a confirmation by select council is to prevent a mayor from appointing improper or unfit persons as policemen. "It certainly was not made part of the act for the purpose of making possible the retention in office of incompetent officers, whose through political or other influences might be able to control a sufficient number of votes in select council to prevent that body from consenting to their dismissal. "Any other construction of that clause of the act would bring it into conflict with article 1, section 4, of the constitution, which declares that 'appointed officers other than judges of the court of record or the superintendent of public instruction, may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed.' True, it is conceded that police are not 'appointed' officers within the meaning of the clause of the constitution above quoted. In this connection, however, we cannot concur."

OBITUARY.

Hon. John S. La Touche, of Moscow, died Saturday morning at the age of 61. For two years his health had been declining and a paralytic stroke on Wednesday last hastened the end. The deceased was one of the most prominent men that the region south of the mountain has known. He represented the Third district in the legislature for two terms, 1883, 1884, and nine years ago was the Republican candidate for sheriff against ex Sheriff John J. Foley. He had filled at one time or another about all the important offices in his township, and his death was postmaster of Moscow. He was born in New York city, Feb. 23, 1837, shortly after his parents had come to this country from Paris. When he was 2 years of age his father purchased a farm in Covington township and brought his family thither. This deceased had lived there continuously from that time till his death. Mr. La Touche received his education in the common schools of Moscow and the academy at Stroudsburg. At the age of 17 he began hauling lumber from Spring Brook to the mill at Pittsford and Easton, and subsequently was employed at the Moscow Powder company's mill. In 1856, when the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company opened a station at Moscow, Mr. La Touche was appointed warehouseman and later made station agent. This position he held until two years ago, when he relinquished it on account of failing health. He was succeeded by his son-in-law, M. A. Lyman. Surviving him are a son and two daughters, R. Max La Touche, of Instanter, Pa.; Mrs. Louise L. Lyman, of Moscow; Mrs. N. C. Brouhard, wife of the superintendent of the B. R. Tannery company, of Instanter, Pa. The funeral will take place this afternoon. Miss Anna Jenkins, of 619 Twelfth street, West Scranton, died Saturday afternoon after a lingering illness, due to cancer. Deceased was taken ill in February, and after much suffering underwent an operation at Miss Cummins' private hospital. Temporary relief was afforded, but the young woman again became afflicted and gradually sank until death relieved her. For several years Miss Jenkins was identified with the millinery establishment of Daugherty & Thomas, and was also a member of the firm of Jenkins, Joseph and Davis. She was a member of the Jackson Street Baptist church, and is survived by her mother, four sisters and one brother, Mrs. T. Jefferson Reynolds, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Mary Williams, Miss Elizabeth and John Jenkins. The funeral will be announced later. John Devey, one of the oldest residents of the city, died Saturday at his home, 567 Coppage avenue, age 80 years. He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. C. Brouhard, wife of Hugh Colkin, Patrick Devey, former School Controller John Devey, Martin Devey. The funeral will take place this morning at 9 o'clock from the residence, A. J. Devey, well as celebrated in St. Peter's cathedral and interment will be made in the Cathedral cemetery. Mrs. Carrie Grambs, wife of George Grambs, died Saturday morning, after a brief illness. Mrs. Grambs was 28 years old and besides her husband is survived by an infant child and her father, A. Bunsbaugh, her two brothers, Isaac and George, and her sister, Mrs. William J. Cleveland, all of this city. The funeral will take place from 344 North Main avenue this afternoon, and will be private. Interment in Forest Hill cemetery. Jeremiah Soligo died yesterday at 151 Fellows street, aged 72 years. Funeral Tuesday morning with services at Holy Cross church, interment at Cathedral cemetery. Infantry Off for China. New York, July 22.—Companies B and I, of the Eighth infantry, moved off the transport McClellan this morning and started for Fort Snelling over the New York Central railroad. The men will wait for the members of the other eight companies of the regiment who are coming north on another transport and, after the recruiting of the organization to its full number, a start will be made for China.

"The mayor shall nominate, and by and with the advice and consent of select council appoint, suspend or dismiss the said policemen, any or all of them, and in like manner all vacancies shall be filled." The clause of the constitution on which Judge Fraser so largely relies says simply that they "may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed."

DR. MARCY DIES SUDDENLY.

Aged Dunmore Physician Dies From Heart Disease. Dr. William L. Marcy, of 115 Cherry street, Dunmore, died suddenly last night at 8:45 o'clock of heart disease. He did not complain of any illness until last Monday, when the heat, as he supposed, affected him and caused him to take to his bed. On Wednesday he was out again and from that time until yesterday was about his home and office as usual. Last evening he complained of a slight pain in the heart and sent for Dr. Snyder. The latter administered to him and the pain departed. Dr. Snyder was turning to leave, after having said good night, when Dr. Marcy uttered an exclamation about the pain returning and fell on the bed. He died immediately. Dr. Marcy is survived by his wife, one son, Dr. O. J. Marcy, of Scranton, and one daughter, Mrs. H. B. Ely, of Lake Ariel. The deceased was born in Pittston, July 4, 1837, and had practiced medicine for forty years in Wayne and Lackawanna counties. He lived in Dunmore twelve years. The funeral will take place Tuesday. Interment will be made in Canaan.

CUROSO HELD IN BAIL.

Must Answer for Shooting James Caffrey. Tony Curoso, who shot James Caffrey, of Green Ridge, last Saturday morning, while the latter was in the hallway of his house in Raymond alley, was held in $500 bail on Saturday afternoon by Alderman Heine on the charge of felonious wounding. Caffrey, the wounded man, is resting quietly at the Lackawanna hospital and will recover. Curoso contends that the crowd, of which Caffrey was a member, were attempting to break in his door and that he did not shoot until he had given them fair warning.
