MORE BUILDINGS AT HOME.

Contagious Hospital to Be Erected by the Poor Board. The directors of the Scranton Poor district met at Hillside Home on Tuesday last and discussed the feasibility of erecting a building to be used as a contagious hospital; such a building has been projected for a long time. Also a suitable building for the proper handling and caring for supplies. The present quarters in that respect are inadequate for its requirements, especially since the directors have adopted the system of competitive buying of all its supplies, which they buy quarterly.

The matter was thoroughly discussed and the directors were unanimous in their belief that such buildings should be erected without delay. The buildings will be located in the rear of the chapel. The Home committee will invite architects to present plans some time during the present week. The matter of admitting patients from other districts was fully discussed. Heretofore such patients have been admitted on certificates and afterwards ratified by the board. Heretofore no such patients will be admitted unless previously approved by action of the board in regular session.

SCHROEDER WILL BUILD IT.

Contract for the New Armory Was Let Yesterday. At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Scranton City Guard in Colonel H. M. Boies' office at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, bids for the erection of the new armory were opened and Conrad Schroeder, of 125-79 Grand street, was awarded the contract.

The resolution awarding the bid reads as follows: "That the bid of Conrad Schroeder of July 25, 1906, to build the armory for $128,195, be accepted, and the officers of the board of directors, be empowered and directed to execute a contract with Mr. Schroeder as soon as certain preliminaries in regard to lots and subscriptions are perfected, and that action upon the plumbing, lighting and heating be postponed for the present; that action not to bind the trustees until the contract be executed." Counting the cost of the nine lots at Adams avenue and Myrtle street, on which the armory is to be built, and the cost of plumbing, heating, equipping, architect's fees and incidentals, the total cost of the armory when ready for occupancy will not fall far short of $200,000.

The bride and her bridesmaid, Miss Stella Morgan, of Pittsburg, were attended in beautiful costumes of white. The groom was attended by Frank Duffy. At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home by Hanley, and at 10.30 o'clock the couple left on a wedding tour for New York, Boston and Nova Scotia.

OPPOSED TO DEFICIENCIES.

Controller Will Send a Communication to Auditing Committee. It can be pretty definitely stated that the auditing committee of council will in the near future receive a communication from the controller warning them against the creation of deficiencies to be met next year. It's pretty early in the year for deficiencies now, but it is understood that there are some accounts already over-run as high as $500.

A city official said yesterday that at the rate in which the ward appropriations are being expended in some instances at present that there would be big deficiencies in these accounts before the end of the year.

SISTERS AND WIFE FIGHT FOR ESTATE

LEGALITY OF MARRIAGE ATTACKED BY TESTAMENTS.

Hearing Before Deputy Register Koehler in the Caveat Filed by the Sisters of James J. O'Boyle to Prevent the Granting of Letters of Administration to Woman Claiming to Be O'Boyle's Legal Widow. Echo of a Franklin Avenue Tragedy—Other Court Matters.

A hearing in the contest for the property of James J. O'Boyle, who killed himself after firing three bullets into his wife, at their boarding house on Franklin avenue, last March, was conducted yesterday before Deputy Register Henry Koehler. Mrs. Eliza O'Boyle, who claimed to be the legal wife of the deceased, applied for letters of administration and the sisters of the deceased, Mrs. Murphy and Mrs. Kelly, of the South Side, opposed the granting of them on the ground that she was never legally married to O'Boyle. The property in dispute is a $2,000 house and lot on Pittston avenue, occupied by the sisters of the deceased.

REFUSED TO GO TO WORK

Runners, Drivers and Door Boys at Von Storch Were Idle Yesterday but Collieries Were Not.

The runners, drivers and door boys at the Von Storch, Marvins, Leggett's Creek and Dickson mines of the Delaware and Hudson company, in North Scranton, went on strike yesterday morning for an increase in wages, as decided at a meeting held on Tuesday night. There were about 600 men and boys who went on strike and this number, with the 300 already out at Olyphant, makes a total of about 900 now on strike. The breakers of these four mines were running yesterday breaking the coal mined on Wednesday and the miners and laborers went in and out of the mines. The strikers maintain, however, that the miners and laborers will refuse to work if new men are put in to handle the cars. The strikers posted pickets around the mines and succeeded in dissuading all the runners and drivers who started out. From going into the mines. Everything was done in an orderly manner and there were no scenes of disorder. The strikers have appointed a committee which will have entire charge of the strike, and which will make its headquarters at Leonard's hall, Superintendent Rose, of the Delaware and Hudson, stated yesterday that no committee from the strikers had as yet waited upon him. He reported his statement made before that the wages of none of the men has been cut out, and the strikers alleged. He said that the company could not afford to allow the increase asked by the men on account of the condition of the anthracite coal trade.

HIS HONOR CAN NOW RAID SPEAKEASIES

TIPPLING HOUSE ORDINANCE PASSES FINAL READING.

To Conduct an Unlicensed Liquor Shop Is Made an Offense Against the City Laws and a Violator Thereof May Be Fined or Imprisoned by the Mayor or Any Alderman—Mayor Moir Asks for the Passage of This Measure—Other Councilmanic Doings. To use the words of Mr. Calpin, "It is now up to his honor." Common council last night passed on final reading the Chittenden tippling house ordinance, making it a violation of city law to conduct a speakeasy, and empowering the mayor or any alderman to fine or imprison a convicted offender. All that remains to make the law operative is Mayor Moir's signature, and as the mayor asked council to pass just such an ordinance, it is to be expected that he will sign it without hesitancy and enforce it religiously. It was not without some opposition and considerable discussion that the commoners consented to its passage. Four members voted against its passage.

COLEMAN'S IDEA.

Mr. Coleman thought it was the duty of the constables to root out and prosecute the speakeasies, and didn't believe in placing more work on the city police force. Mr. Smith held similar views. Mr. Calpin made a strong speech in favor of the bill. After dealing briefly with the existing conditions and the inability of the constables to properly cope with the speakeasy evil, he called attention to Mayor Moir's communication, asking for the passage of this ordinance, and added: "The mayor said, if I gave him the power this ordinance confers, he would wipe out the speakeasies. He is on record, pledged to do this. Let us pass the ordinance, and, to use a phrase from the street, 'it's up to his honor to do the rest.'" "Can't the speakeasy keeper appeal and throw the case into court?" Mr. Norton asked. "Yes," responded Mr. Calpin, "but he must pay his fine before he can take the appeal."

NO GRAND JURY.

There is no grand jury to ignore the case and put the costs on the prosecution and no jury to discard the evidence and return a verdict of not guilty. It is only fair, Mr. Zizelman concluded, that the dealers who pay a license should be protected by the city, which gets the biggest share of it, and this ordinance, he believed, would afford that protection. Messrs. Wenzel and Morris V. Morris seconded Mr. Zizelman's "protection" ideas, in brief speeches, and the vote to pass the ordinance on final reading was taken. It resulted as follows: Ayes—Messrs. Beers, Morris V. Morris, God.
