YELLOW KIDS ARE AGAIN IN TROUBLE

REMOVING DOOR MATS FROM MAIN AVENUE RESIDENCES.

Arrested While Trying to Dispose of Them-Ira Sutton and Robert Hand Missing from Home-Fake Beggar Arrested While Plying His Game at a Pay Car-Funeral of Thomas Thomas-Case Before Alderman Davies-Other News Notes and Personal Mention.

The youngest and most mischievous crowd of boys in West Scrancon whom the police have to contend with are known as the Yellows Kids of Hennessy court, and it requires more or less of the day officer's attention to keep tabs on them, especially during the afternoon, when the evenings newspapers arrive.

One of the tricks they have inaugu rated is stealing the pennies from the less offensive boys while they are waiting for their papers. This game was slow, so yesterday three of them thought out another scheme. They wanted money to buy "snow balls," a preparation sold at one of the candy

"Snow balls" consist of shaved lee, with a syrup flavoring, and are sold at one cent per ball by the industrious young merchant who deals in them. n order to procure the palatable balls John Graham, John McDonald and Thomas Shields whose ages range rom & to II years, resolved to corner all the available door mats to be found on Main avenue.

They had found a store house un derneath the steps leading into ex-Ablerman Blair's office, on Scranton street. One large mat had been doposited and young Graham was on his way to unload a large rubber mat in the same place when William Price, er. intercepted him. Where are you going with that said the genial sage of South Main avenue.

"Goin' to sell it," replied the boy.

"How much do you want for it?" asked Mr. Price. "Glm'me a quarter an' it's yours," said the Yellow Kid. Just then Patrolman Kiah Peters came along. He had been watching the deal from across the street. Kinh arrested the boy and took him to the station house, where he learned from the prisoner who his accomplices were

Imagine a dirty-faced, bare-footed urchin, 8 years old, with torn waist leeves and ragged overalls, sitting on chair in one of those cages at the station house, between sobs, trying to xplain to his mother how it all hapened and you have a pen picture of Yellow Kid from Hennessy's court loing a stunt before Lieutenant Wil-Hams, whose heart is too big to punisa

Alderman Davies gave the boys a hearing last evening, and each was held in $200 bail for their appearance at court, the parents being held re sponsible for their conduct until the next term of quarter sessions.

Probably the Sutton Boy.

Chief of Police Robling yesterday reeived a letter from Chief of Police Massey, of Wilmington, Del., telling of the death there of a boy in a raiload accident, whose home was in Scranton. From the description furnished, in all probability the boy is Ira A. Sutton, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. . Sutton, of 130 Edwards court, who left his home the first week in May f this year and no tidings of him have been received since.

The boy's father is the well known eterinary surgeon and when he heard of the message received by Chief Robling, came to the West Scranton office of The Tribune and expressed the belief that the dead boy was his son. He later communicated a description of the boy to the chief, who orwarded the same by wire to the Wilmington authorities.

When young Sutton left home he told his mother he was going to Buf- Jackson Street Baptist Church Notes. falo to engage in some occupation on the lakes, as he preferred to work on Jackson Street Bautist church has arwater rather than on land. He was rived, The auditorium will be close 17 years of age, 5 feet 6 Inches in height and weighed about 125 pounds. A means of positive identification on he body is a scar on the inside of the left thigh, where the boy was horned y a cow several years ago.

He wore No. 8 shoes, a black suit and soft hat when leaving and had light hair and blue eyes. The large shoes worn by the boy is also a means of identification. This information was ommunicated, and, if the description tallies, the remains will be brought here for interment.

Young Sutton was an expert horseman like his father, and was for-merly employed by Dr. Jenkins, of North Scranton. He preferred to roam, however, and several times left home on such trips as he was taking when he met his death.
