THE LATEST RED ROCK SNAKE STORY.

Echoes of the Family Reunion Season-His Soul Goes Out in Verse. Popics Discussed in a Line or Two. Erie Brakeman's Novel Bootjack. Various Susquehanna County Notes.

Special to the Scranton Tribune Susquehanna, Aug. 3 .- A party of bluestone quarrymen, working near Red Rock on a mountain side, with dynamite, recently tore off an unusually large mass of earth, down the declivity there came, writhing and rolling, a bunch of snakes, which Mr. Winthrop, the foreman, says was as large as a barrel. They were of different varieties, rattlesnakes, blacksnakes, adders and garters. When first disturbed they-were active and dangerous, but in the scorching heat of the sun they became comparatively harmless, and were killed or covered up in the dump by earth and stone. Every day and every blast since similar bunches of reptiles have been unearthed. Those that escape the labover's picks crawl off and die among the rocks. Hundreds have been killed, Among them are reptiles six and seven feet long and as large around as a man's wrist. Scores of people visit the quarry daily to see the slaughter of

HIS SOUL GOES OUT IN VERSE. When the news of the slaughter of the Great Bend club in Susquehanna on Saturday last reached the Bend our gifted friend, Editor Moore, of the Plaindealer, set down and wrote the following soul-stirring poem:

Once on a time, not many years gone by, The Great Bend ball team had a resultation And Susquehanna bit the dust (no lie),

And had the sympathy of this great nation. But now the scale has turned, we know not why And Susquehanna plays like all creation; Their chosen figures—thirty-one to on

A CLOSE CALL.

Near Gulf Summit, a few days since a little child was playing on the Eric The child did not see the engine, nor was it seen by the engineer until he was upon it. He reversed the lover, stopping the engine, and both he and the fireman jumped off with blanched faces, both expecting to see the mangled remains of the little one lying on the track. But what was their surprise and joy when they found the little one lying just behind the drivers apparently uninjured. It was drawn out at once, when it was found that besides a scratch on the face it had escaped all injury. It seems that when the tender knocked it down it fell between the rails, and the engineer stopped just in time to save its Starrucca, Aug. 5 .- Mr. George Brooker, while assisting in haying, near the home of S. L. Callender, left his team hitched to the wagon and horses being very annoyed by the files, broke loose and started for home on a right smart trot. Miss May Brown and her aunt, Mrs. Ralph Howard, were on their way to Thompson, but had stopped in the road and Miss May had alighted to adjust something about the harness, when on came the eam, still fast to the head wheels with the hay-rigging dragging, the hind wheels having been broken off. Miss May grabbed her horse by the head and tried to get it out of the road, but before the road was clear the corner of the rigging caught the carriage by the brace and dragged the sarriage backward at a lively pace. Mrs. Howard was thrown from her seat in the carriage directly under the rigging, but at this instant it made an unaccountable jump and the rear end passed over Mrs. Howard and she were badly shaken up, but are congratulating themselves on their nar-

STARRUCCA

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Aug. 4.-There was nothing in errant in today's dealings in stocks and bond periant in today's dealings in stocks and bonds. The undertone of the market was firm owing to the scarty offerings of stocks, but the efforts to arouse any speculative enthusiasm were quite futile, outside of a moderate demand for the iron and steel shares which generally advanced from 1 to 1%, the latter figure representing the extreme gain by Tennessee Coal. The report of yellow fever in Florida caused heaviness in one or two southern railway lines and Brooklyn Transit was affected by reports of labor disaffection. Sugar continued on its course towards recovery and the upward movement in Union Pacific was continued, the other transcontinental railroads showing some sympathy The list yielded somewhat on the bank statement but nothing like import liquidation was in evidence. The closing was dull and rather heavy with the steel industrials and a few other specialties showing the only notable net changes. Total sales, 22,400 shares. Dullness in bonds is even more marked than in stocks, the average volume of dealings being considerably less than half those at this time last year. United States of funding 2s when issued have declined I and the iss, old 4s and 5s ½ per cent. in the bid price on call.
